For twenty minutes the Communists and police, hemmed in by a crowd of more than 1000 spectators, battled outside the Hotel Bradford, where the Federation was in session.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 14. [To the Editor of The Times:] No wonder Dwight Morrow stands today so much higher in the public estimation than all our old-line politicians. You might be against his opinions but you admire his direct way of coming out on everything he talks on. Any other man that had his chance for the Presidential nomination would wait and hedge around and not come out either way, and in that way embarrass the present President. But not Morrow; he just said yesterday that he was for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, but not for repeal of Mr. Hoover. Hoover will be renominated and elected, and if we should happen to have some good times along in '32 (over which he has no control) why he will win further than he did the last time, 'cause the Democrats haven't got but one Smith.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

WAR CRISIS IN BRAZIL

Decisive Battle Imminent

Fights in Which Rebels and Federals Claim Victories Draw Forces Together

Issue Expected to Be Settled When Armies Clash in Sao Paulo Region

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

A series of engagements along a straggly 200-mile front at the southern border of Sao Paulo State have apparently drawn Brazil's Federal and insurgent armies into line for the battle reported imminent since last week.

Hard fighting at several points was announced by both sides, each claiming the victory.

VICTORY CLAIMED

The Federals said the rebels had been defeated at Sengee bridgehead and had left fifteen dead on the field. Fderal casualties are given as six wounded.

The rebels asserted they had routed the Federals after a five-hour battle between Affonso Camargo and Cariopolis, the hardest fought thus far of the civil war. Federal prisoners and war material were captured.

The rebels also claimed victories at Quatiga and at Gatinga, where thirty-five prisoners were taken.

CRUCIAL STRUGGLE

Indications are the struggle between opposing forces will be decided in Sao Paulo and Parana, where the best-equipped troops of both sides are concentrated.

In the Minas Geraes campaign, the Federals reported their troops are slowly reoccupying the rebel State but have refrained from unnecessary fighting and are content to let the rebels retreat into remoter districts.

Both announced gains in outlying States, the rebels in Matto Grosso and the Federals in Para.

Federal and rebel commanders are bringing up troops as fast as they can to the Sao Paulo war zone. As Sao Paulo is nearer to it than the rebel headquarters, the Federals have the advantage in transportation.

INSURGENTS THREATEN DEATH TO RUMOR MONGERS

PERNAMBUCO, Oct. 14. (AP)—The insurgent military government here has officially announced that persons spreading rumors that the insurgent movement is connected with Communism would be publicly executed.

NOISELESS AIRPLANE EXHIBITED

Use of Infra-red Rays in Flying Through Fog Also Demonstrated.

ROOSEVELT FIELD (L. I.) Oct. 14. (Exclusive)—Airplanes as noiseless as gliders soon will be able to fly without danger through fog if two new devices being tested out at Roosevelt Field prove as successful as their inventors claim.

The "fog eye" as its inventor, Paul H. MacNeil, an architect of Huntington, L. I., calls it, employs a projector of intra-red rays, which penetrate fog from a fixed point on the land. The rays are picked up by a device on the plane and are transformed into minute electrical currents of a millionth of a volt. These impulses are recorded by delicate measuring instruments which the inventor says will take the blindness from flying in fog.

The muffler, said to be the first successful one to be used on a plane, is the invention of Miss Eldorado Jones of Moline, Ill., and the ship's motor to which it was attached today could scarcely be heard in flight. At close range the whirr of the propeller was louder than the exhaust.

APPENDIX INFLAMER ISOLATED

Bacteria Responsible For Trouble Used to Develop New Antitoxic Serum

MARBURG (Jugo-Slavia) Oct. 14. (AP)—Dr. W. Pfannenstiel today notified the National Medical Association he has succeeded in isolating and cultivating specific bacteria responsible for the phenomenon of decomposition of the appendix in appendicitis.

This culture, on introduction into the intestines of mice, invariably produced death from appendicitis. On the other hand, having produced acute appendicitis Dr. Pfannenstiel was able by use of an antitoxic serum cultivated from virulent specific bacilli to reduce inflammation, and the mice recovered.

The physician has no doubt that his serum will modify acute appendicitis in humans, and prepare them for a subsequent harmless operation.

New York Exchange Heads Confer at White House With President

Rumored Investigation of Short Selling Lacks Confirmation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—White House attaches disclosed tonight that officers of the sagging New York Stock Exchange conferred here with President Hoover on Sunday night at a conference sought by them.

The nature of the conference was not revealed beyond that it had particular reference to the stock market situation—a situation which has been marked lately by declining prices, but which moved upward late today

Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, and Allen Lindley, vice-president, were the White House visitors. They had dinner with the President upon his return from his Rapidan lodge Sunday night and remained for a conference later.

The conference aroused immediate speculation here tonight. News of it became known after the market had closed today after another sinking spell in the early trading.

White House officials declined to comment upon rumors that the Department of Justice has been investigating the selling of stocks short and there was no confirmation of this at the department. It is known, however, that the question of short selling has been brought to the attention of the President since the recent deflation of the stock market.

But if there is any intention of governmental interference with the stock exchange there has not been the slightest intimation of it in official circles.

CALL DESCRIBED AS PERSONAL VISIT

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Allen L. Lindley, senior partner of Lindley & Co. and vice-president of the New York Stock Exchange, tonight described the call he and Richard Whitney, president of the exchange, made on a President Hoover as "a personal visit."

He pointed out that Mr. Whitney is a friend of the President's and served under him with the United States Food Administration during the World War. Asked whether there had been any discussion of the present stock market situation, or of short selling, Mr. Lindley said:

"We spoke about everything in general. It was a delightful evening."

National Guard Ordered Out in Race Warfare

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Oct. 15. (AP)—(Wednesday)—Gov. Caulfield early today ordered National Guardsmen to Ste. Genevieve, Mo., for a second time this week after Sheriff Ziegler had requested aid to prevent rioting resulting from the slaying of two men Sunday by three Negroes.

Tonight, Sheriff Zeigler reported to the Governor, a mob formed and went to the home of Louis Ribeau, Negro mail carrier, one of the few Negroes at Ste. Genevieve, who had not heeded a warning to leave town. Six of the men were arrested, the Sheriff said, and he feared an effort would be made to release them from jail.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14. (AP)—With the rainfall shortage over the State approximately half of normal since January 1, last, the drought situation become more serious today.

A ruling of the City Council at Annapolis prohibiting the use of water for mixing concrete in construction went into effect and the fire department was asked to return to the old-fashioned bucket brigade where possible.

Officials said that but for the aid of 200,000 gallons of water a day from the Naval Academy the city would have been without drinking water weeks ago.

Several schools have had to close temporarily while provisions for emergency supplies could be made and girl students at Hood College at Frederick have been instructed to take but one tub bath a week.

Kitchen Ruled Private Realm of Housewife

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—A few thousand American housewives may want to write Judge John J. Sullivan for a copy of today's decision to be framed and hung over the kitchen door.

The kitchen, Judge Sullivan ruled, is the private domain of Mrs. Frances Kosina, and Jacob Kosina is persona non grata there.

Of course when the time comes to wash the dishes the injunction against male invasions might be suspended, but during cooking hours the kitchen is to be strictly a gynarchy.

The two had quarreled over which is the better cook.

Rare Persian Relics Finally Reach London

LONDON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Priceless crown jewels, gold and silver thread carpets, and dazzling treasures and relics worth millions from the sacred mosques of Kum and Ispahan were landed today on the dingy stones of Thameside Wharf.

They were consigned to Burlington House, where a Persian art exhibit will open in January. The treasures completed the last stage of their journey from Persia on the cargo steamer Bahatistan, which brought them from the Island of Abadan in the Persian Gulf.

This "Arabian Nights" collection was flown in four airplanes across the wild mountains and trackless deserts between Persia and the Persian Gulf so they would not fall into the hands of the wild mountain tribes.

Flyers on Quest of Air Records Rest in Wichita

WICHITA (Kan.) Oct. 14. (AP)—Two flyers in quest of transcontinental records paused here this evening to spend the night.

Mrs. Keith Miller, seeking to break the women's east-to-west record held by Miss Laura Ingalls, arrived from Kansas City, Kan., at 4:58 p.m., covering the third leg of her journey in 1h. 45m., despite head winds and rain that plagued her most of the way.

Robert Buck, hoping to establish a junior west-east record, arrived at 6:09 p.m., from Amarillo, Tex., where he had been held since Sunday because of bad weather.

Miss Ingalls, also attempting a west-east record, remained at Amarillo for the night.

Capt. Reuben Kyle, Jr., presented his plea personally and Capt. Robin A. Day, now en route to Honolulu, through his attorney.

The officers pursued a flock of geese and killed several with the propeller of the plane while they were stationed at Fort Leavenworth last May.

KILLER SHOT IN CAPTURE

Outlaw Seriously Wounded as He Draws Gun on Five Officers

Prisoner Leader of Ruthless Band in Colorado Bank Robbery Slaughter

BRANSON (Mo.) Oct. 14. (AP)—Jake Fleagle, object of a nation-wide search after he led a band of ruthless killers in the robbery of the First National Bank of Lamar, Colo., in May, 1928, was wounded seriously and captured here today.

The desperado was caught as the result of a trap laid for him in the Ozark mountain country by postal inspectors and authorities of California, Colorado, Missouri and Arkansas.

Fleagle was confronted on a Missouri Pacific passenger train, which he boarded here to travel to Hollister, a near-by town.

Five officers, all with drawn pistols, ordered Fleagle to put up his hands. Instead, he reached for his pistol.

BANDIT LEADER SHOT

One shot was fired and the bandit leader fell with a bullet in his abdomen. After a brief struggle his weapon was wrested from him. None of the officers would reveal here who fired the shot, but investigators tonight credited Detective Wilde of Los Angeles.

[Detectives Harry Wilde and C. A. Lloyd of Los Angeles, who took part in the capture, in a telegram to Chief of Detectives Taylor in Los Angeles, said Wilde had fired the shot while Lloyd grabbed Fleagle's arm. Editor.]

The prisoner was taken to Springfield, Mo., late today to undergo an operation. If he recovers he will be returned to Colorado to face trial for murder.

Four men were killed by the Lamar robbers and three members of the gang have paid with their lives on the gallows at the Colorado penitentiary at Canon City.

THREE EXECUTED

Those executed for their part in the robbery were Ralph Fleagle, brother of Jake; George J. Absher and Howard Royston.

In the hold-up, A. N. Parrish, president of the bank, and his son, John, cashier, were shot and killed. E. A. Kessinger, a teller, was taken as a hostage by the bandits and later slain after they escaped into Western Kansas. The other victim was Dr. William Wininger of Dighton, Kan. The physician was lured from his home to treat one of the wounded robbers. Then he was killed, the gang believing he might identify the Fleagles, who lived on a ranch near Garden City, Kan.

TRAILED BY LETTER

Fleagle was tracked to the Ozark country by postal inspectors through letters he had mailed. It was discovered after his capture he had a gunshot wound in the wrist, which physicians said had been inflicted about ten days ago, indicating he may have had a recent brush with the law.

At one time rewards on the bandit leader's head totaled $55,000. Officials of the Colorado Bankers' Association said, however, some of the offers had been withdrawn and only $4000 remained posted in that State.

Postal inspectors pressed a relentless search for the desperado in the belief he had a hand in the robbery of a Southern Pacific mail train at Pittsburg, Cal., June 22, 1929, when $17,000 was obtained.

Postal inspectors and other officers had been secretly combing the Ozark country for several days, after establishing that Fleagle was in hiding in this region.

On the train which Fleagle boarded were eight officers who were en route to press the search farther south. There were five officers in the chair car in which Fleagle was shot. They recognized the fugitive as he stood on the station platform

FLOODS IN TEXAS TAKE LIFE TOLL

Bodies of Three Victims Found After Recession of Swollen Streams

DALLAS, Oct. 14. (AP)—A death toll of at least three persons was recorded today as flood waters receded in many sections of Texas and work of rehabilitation was started.

The bodies of Earl Calhoun of Eldorado, and E. M. Duke, of Del Rio, were found in the South Concho River, near San Angelo, in Calhoun's automobile. The machine apparently was washed downstream when the men attempted a crossing.

R. W. Brown, of Canadian, was drowned in a Cageby Creek on his ranch. He had tried to cross the stream on horseback.

Reports from the flooded area indicate the high water is subsiding rapidly. The Brady River has returned to its banks. Residents of Brady again are scraping silt from their properties, a previous deposit having been made in another flood only eight days ago.

Railway traffic is still crippled, especially in the vicinity of Amarillo, where several bridges were washed away.

Hoover Says Stanford to Extend Secretary's Leave as Long as Necessary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—President Hoover announced today Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, will remain in this position and Leland Stanford University will extend his leave of absence as president of the university as long as is necessary.

Commenting on a statement in the Stanford Daily, a college publication, that the board of trustees of the institution had decided to request the Secretary to return to his duties as president or resign to permit the naming of a successor, the President said Dr. Wilbur is too valuable a man to lose out of the government service.

"As one of the trustees of Leland Stanford," the President added, "I can speak with more authority than a student publication."

President Hoover also said construction work on Boulder Dam will proceed as rapidly as possible.

The Chief Executive asserted that so far as the government is concerned settlement of the points of law raised by the State of Arizona will be expedited.

He expressed a hope that in the meantime the various States concerned will get together and settle their difficulties.

Sierra Edison Wins Bid to Construct First Unit at Boulder Dam Site

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Interior Department today awarded contract for construction of the electric-power plant at Boulder Dam to the Southern Sierra Edison Company.

WOLF BANDIT FLEAGLE WOUNDED IN CAPTURE

and were waiting for him when he stepped aboard. The officers were E. H. Klein, Los Angeles postal inspector; Harry Wilde and C. A. Lloyd, Los Angeles city detectives, and E. L. Nelson and Orville King, Kansas City detectives.

Chief of Police H. D. Harper of Colorado Springs, who has been largely responsible for rounding up the Lamar gang; H. H. Goodwin, St. Louis postal inspector, and John Parham, a Missouri-Pacific special agent, were in another car.

Klein said the efforts of several officers were required to subdue Fleagle, who went down cursing.

"Five of us were sitting in the forward chair car as it pulled into Branson," Klein said. "As the train stopped, one of the officers said, 'There he is!' We looked out and Fleagle, whose image was imprinted in our memories, was standing on the platform.

"Only one or two persons got off at Branson. We stepped carefully forward in the car and awaited Fleagle in the passageway because we were afraid if we let him get farther into the car there would be shooting, and some of the women and children passengers would be wounded.

"So we waited and Fleagle stepped inside. All of us had our pistols drawn. Fleagle turned in the passageway and saw the weapons. At the same time somebody said 'stick 'em up.'

"Instead, Fleagle reached for his pistol and got it out of the holster. Then some one fired. The pistol spun in Fleagle's hand but he held to the butt. Then we struggled with him. He fought like a tiger. Two of us managed to get the pistol from him and finally he went down."

BANK ROBBERY PLOT LED TO CAPTURE

The temptation to lead a strange "wolf pack" of bandits in the robbery of a Los Angeles bank was the bait which lured Jake Fleagle, murderer and bank bandit, into the trap set for him in Branson, Mo., yesterday by Postoffice Inspector Klein and Detective Lieutenants Floyd and Wilde of the local police department. This was revealed by Chief of Detectives Taylor soon after he received a wire from the detectives stating that Fleagle had been shot and perhaps fatally wounded by Wilde when he boarded a train on which the detectives were riding with a posse of Kansas and Colorado officers.

While Colorado and Kansas authorities were still pursuing their combined search for Fleagle, Inspector Klein, five months ago, received information Fleagle was in communication with a friend residing in Long Beach. Klein obtained the aid of Detective Lieutenant Lloyd of the police postoffice detail and the two officers began a tireless investigation. Through intercepted correspondence they learned that Fleagle planned to join his friend in the beach city.

Careful to keep the so-called friend in ignorance that he was under surveillance a watch was kept for several weeks upon his residence. But Fleagle apparently became suspicious that his presence in Southern California would lead him into a police trap. He told his friend, according to what the local detectives learned, that a meeting here would have to be abandoned.

For two months after this trap failed Klein and Lloyd maintained a complete surveillance of the Long Beach friend. Their vigil was rewarded when, two weeks ago, they obtained information that stray members of a middle-western bank-bandit gang were planning the hold-up of a large downtown bank in Los Angeles, and were offering the leadership of the gang to Fleagle. This offer, according to Taylor, reached Fleagle through the Long Beach friend.

Not knowing that the police were aware of the plotting or that he was suspected of being in communication with the Colorado killer, the friend arranged to meet Fleagle in Missouri. He was to board the train from some little town in the Ozark Mountains.

FRIEND ELUDES POLICE

Taking quick advantage of the information which had come into their hands, Klein and Lloyd obtained the aid of Wilde and the trio prepared to follow Fleagle's unsuspecting friend to the Missouri rendezvous. Colorado and Kansas authorities were notified of the planned meeting and so the trap was laid.

Then the police made a misstep which might have ruined the whole scheme. Fleagle's friend eluded the Los Angeles detectives soon after he left Long Beach. This necessitated a watch on all trains for a certain number of days. For a time the detectives feared that the friend had learned he was being trailed and had warned Fleagle. But this was apparently not the case, for Fleagle, yesterday, walked boldly into the trap set for him in the little Ozark Mountain town.

The description of the capture given by the Los Angeles detectives was modestly brief. Their wire to Chief Taylor said simply: "Man got on train this station. Put up fight. Pulled gun. Lloyd grabbed gun arm. Wilde forced to shoot him. May die.

(Signed)

"WILDE AND LLOYD."

LONE FINGERPRINT LINKED BANDIT TO KILLINGS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—A peculiar twist to Jake Fleagle's fingerprints, recorded in the photographic memory of a United States Bureau of Investigation expert, lies back of his capture today on a charge of murder and bank robbery.

It was a single finger mark found upon an automobile in which a Kansas doctor was killed, and in which the bandits escaped after the Lamar (Colo.) robbery, that led to Fleagle's identification as leader of the band.

The story told by Bureau of Investigation experts was that the four bandits stopped at Dighton, Kan., to have the wound of one of their party dressed. After a doctor had completed his work he was ordered into the car and pushed with it over a cliff.

A copy of one of the few fingerprints found on the automobile was forwarded to Washington as a forlorn hope. Since there are more than 2,000,000 fingerprints at the Bureau of Identification, it was impossible to compare it with every print, but each expert was instructed to impress the design on his mind and watch for its mate.

A. G. Ground, fingerprint examiner in the bureau, saw in the copy whorls unlike any he had ever seen before. After months had passed without result he finally found a print that matched it. It had been sent in by the Sheriff at Stockton, Cal., who had held and then released Jake Fleagle on a minor charge.

The print furnished the first positive identification of the Lamar robbers; caused the release of several persons mistakenly identified in connection with the crime, and led to the arrest of Fleagle's brother Ralph and his subsequent confession.

CONDEMNED PALS GIVE ONLY BARE HINTS

DENVER, Oct. 14. (AP)—Information gleaned from two of Fleagle's companions as they faced the noose at Canon City and "blind" want ads inserted in the classified columns of Kansas City and Wichita newspapers were some of the means through which postoffice inspectors and police officers lured Fleagle, asserted leader of the Lamar bank hold-up gang, to his capture.

R. A. Griffiths, postoffice inspector in charge of the Denver office, said he and other operatives talked with his two condemned pals, Howard L. Royston and George J. Abshier, several hours and were able to obtain only the faintest hints as to where Fleagle might be found.

From the pair they learned Fleagle still had plans for other bank hold-ups and was attempting to get in touch with former friends in Missouri and other States. The postoffice inspectors conceived the idea of inserting "blind" classified advertisements in Missouri newspapers which they hoped Fleagle would see. The advertisements requested Fleagle, who was designated in a way by which he was known to his old cronies, to meet his old friends at a certain place in Missouri.

The postoffice inspector also revealed notes recently written Gov. Adams of Colorado and the Attorney-General of Kansas had been identified as Fleagle's handwriting.

The notes were mailed in railway postoffices between Carthage, Mo., and Newport, Ark., and this gave the postoffice men an idea of where Fleagle was in hiding.

The newspaper advertisements were inserted over a period of days and today was the appointed time for Fleakue to seek the rendezvous. Postal inspectors were fearful he would not take their "bait." Chief of Police Harper of Colorado Springs, who knew Fleagle by sight, was requested to be at the appointed place to aid in identifying the asserted hold-up if he did appear.

"Apparently the plan worked," Inspector Griffiths said.

ASSERTED CONFEDERATE ARRESTED IN LAS VEGAS

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Oct. 14. (AP)—Joe Miller, asserted to have assisted Jake Fleagle, bandit shot and captured today at Branson, Mo., and a third man in robbing a train near Pittsburg, Cal., two years ago, was arrested here late today on orders of Federal authorities.

Miller had been under surveillance for a year by local officers, who said the arrest was postponed in hope Fleagle would visit the city. They said in September a woman known to have been acquainted with Fleagle was in Las Vegas, and they believed Fleagle might have visited the city but escaped.

FLEAGLE'S BROTHER ON TRIAL IN KANSAS

LARNED (Kan.) Oct. 14. (AP)—Fred Fleagle, brother of Jake Fleagle, Lamar (Colo.) bank robber, shot and seriously wounded by officers at Branson, Mo., went on trial today charged with participation in the robbery of the Larned First National Bank here more than two years ago.

A jury was completed this afternoon after twenty-six veniremen had been examined.

Twenty-eight witnesses have been subpoenaed by the defense, including William A. Smith, Kansas Attorney-General. In the face of positive identification of Fleagle as one of the Larned robbers by Leo Brown, cashier, and Miss Beth Gore, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, the defense is expected to try to prove Fred closely resembles his brother Ralph, hanged at the Colorado State penitentiary at Canon City last summer for his part in the Lamar robbery. It never was proved Fred Fleagle took part in the Lamar robbery and slaying of four men, three of them bank officials.

A motion that the charge against Fred be quashed on the ground it was not filed within two years of the robbery was overruled.

Wilde, according to a message received by Chief of Detectives Taylor yesterday, is the "red-haired" officer, who shot and probably fatally wounded the bandit. Lloyd also aided in Fleagle's capture.

GRAIN TRADE CONSIDERED AT LONDON

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 14. (Exclusive)—The imperial conference today got down to detailed consideration of the British government's alternative to tariff preference for the development of interimperial trade, and the heads of the delegations devoted themselves this morning to a general discussion on the quota proposal as applied to wheat, finally referring it to the committee of experts for still more detailed examination.

This committee met this afternoon and began the investigation, but arrived at no conclusion. At present the British consumption of wheat is 15 per cent home grown, 45 per cent from the Dominions and 40 per cent from foreign countries. The problem is how to increase Dominion contribution without increasing the cost of living for Dominion workmen.

NORTHWEST TO SPEND ON BUILDINGS

SEATTLE, Oct. 14. (AP)—New building projects to cost approximately $7,272,000 for the four weeks ending the 8th inst. for the Pacific Northwest were reported today by the Pacific Builder and Engineer.

The racketeer's funeral is reputed to have cost about $20,000, but only $600 of this was paid by the widow.

RECEIVER OF ROMOLA ASSAILED

Federal Judge at Tucson Hears Charges Against Youngworth's Actions

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 14. (AP)—A complaint asking that an ancillary receiver be appointed for Romola, Inc., of Arizona, holder of large citrus acreage near Phoenix, was heard by Judge Sawtelle in Federal Court here today.

The complaint, filed by J. V. C. T. Christensen, Jr., charges Leo V. Youngworth, receiver for Romola, with "attempting to dissipate assets of Romola by subterfuge." Christensen asks more than $15,000 which he asserts is due him from Romola.

Judge Sawtelle set the 24th inst. as the date for Youngworth and the Phoenix representative of Romola to appear and show cause why such a receiver should not be appointed.

Youngworth was named receiver of Romola by the United States court, Southern District of California.

Christensen asserts Arizona and California interests of Romola are widely separated.

FIVE-DAY WORK WEEK INDORSED

A. F. of L. Supports Plan as Employment Aid

Wages Declared Inadequate for Prosperity

BOSTON, Oct. 14. (AP) — The American Federation of Labor annual convention here today gave its full support to the five-day week movement. Definite action on the five-hour work day was deferred for another year.

In indorsing the five-day-work week, the convention concurred with the report of the Federated Executive Council. Figures submitted by the council showed that more than 500,000 members of the federation are now working a five-day week. The statistics indicated that the movement has made the greatest strides in the building trades industry.

A stand for the five-hour-work day was deferred at the suggestion of the committee on a shorter work day. This committee reported on a resolution submitted by the metal trades department which at a pre-convention meeting unanimously favored such a work day. The question was referred to the executive council with instructions that it make an exhaustive study of the entire work-day problem and report at the next annual convention with recommendations for the length of the work day and work week.

WAGES INADEQUATE

The report of the committee on a shorter work week expressed the belief that the shortened work day would not be the absolute cure for unemployment. It made specific reference to the part played by wages, saying:

"The wages paid have been far from sufficient to enable the mass of the people to consume the products of their own industries. It is this uneconomic wage which has caused the piling up of manufactured goods in warehouses, and brought about periods of depression."

A resolution favoring nation-wide suspension of work for one day by organized labor, the day to be devoted to mass meetings and radio talks on the five-day work week, submitted by Thomas A. Slavins of Newport, R. I., was defeated on recommendation of the shorter work-day committee.

BILLS INDORSED

A resolution supporting a Senate bill granting pensions to men who manned ships engaged in transportation of troops and supplies during the Spanish-American War, the Philippine insurrection and the Chinese relief expedition, was passed by the convention without opposition.

A resolution favoring House bill S-471, which would establish a four-hour working day on Saturdays for all government employees except postal workers and a few others whose interests are provided for in bills of similar import, was passed without opposition.

The Federation also passed without opposition a resolution opposing employment of enlisted personnel of the Navy for repairs and maintenance work on naval vessels, and supporting the bill now before Congress which would restrict such employment of enlisted men to give greater employment to civil employees of navy yards.

The convention voted to support a pending bill which provides for the modernizing of three battleships, the New Mexico, the Mississippi and the Idaho, with estimated employment of 5000 men.

RADIO STATION

A resolution arising from organized labor's efforts to obtain a radio station was passed without opposition. This resolution indorsed a House joint resolution to amend the Radio Act of 1927 by providing that the Federal Radio Commission assign three cleared channel broadcasting frequencies to the Departments of Labor, Agriculture and Interior, to be licensed to radio stations recommended by heads of these departments as representative of the labor, agricultural and educational interests of the country.

Other resolutions adopted provided:

Indorsement of the Welch bill which would restrict Filipino immigration.

Instructions to the incoming executive council to draft an amendment to existing law to provide that civilian workers and not convict labor shall be employed on all Federal institution penal construction.

Instructions to the executive council to continue its co-operation with affiliated organizations of government employees to further legislation designed to improve working conditions.

Indorsement of the bill which provides a $50 wage increase to postal laborers.

FASCISTS HOOT PRUSSIAN DIET

Hitlerites Challenge Its Right to Exist

Communists Air Views in Noisy Session

Police March Three Abreast and Foil Rioting

BERLIN, Oct. 14. (AP)—The noisy minorities of Fascist and Communist delegates dominated the debate in today's opening session of the Prussian Diet, a body whose right of existence in its present line-up has been challenged by the followers of Adolf Hitler since the national election on September 14.

The National Socialists and the Communists aired their opposing views today with vehemence.

GALLERY CLEARED

The Speaker of the House was compelled to order the ejection of scores of vociferous galleryites and when the House adjourned for the day no business had been done.

Although the Diet Chamber faces the Leipzigerplatz, scene of yesterday's Fascist demonstration against Jewish merchants, there were no disorders about the building, which was heavily guarded by police. Authorities marshalled a menacing array of antiriot equipment and police three abreast patrolled the sidewalks.

NO FIREWORKS SPRUNG

If the Hitlerites had real fireworks in store for the Diet they did not bring them forward today. The Fascists, made confident by election of 107 of their number of the Reichstag, are determined upon a move for dissolution to force new elections but the Centrists are equally minded against it in support of Prime Minister Braun's coalition.

The Socialist - Centrist - Democratic bloc covers 228 out of 449 seats. The Fascists number half a dozen.

METAL WORKERS, STRIKE ORDERED FOR TODAY

BERLIN, Oct. 14. (Exclusive)—The metal workers' union has ordered 140,000 of its men in plants in and near Berlin to strike tomorrow. Six thousand of them, led by Communists, started the strike today.

The Labor Minister, when interviewed today, declared he still is waiting for a reply from the employers' association to the decision of the arbitrator. After he receives it, he stated, he will call in the union leaders in an endeavor to induce them to resume negotiations with the employers.

JULIAN LOSES IN OIL BATTLE

JULIAN BEATEN

The opinion was issued in the suit brought by the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties Company, seeking to prohibit the Corporation Commission from enforcing its proration orders as to that company's operations in the Oklahoma City oil field.

The Julian company sought to withdraw its suit after issuance of the Federal court opinion, but the Supreme Court declined to drop the case on which it already had heard arguments.

Justice Riley dissented from the main opinion of the court, which was written by Guy Green of Waurika, a special justice assigned to the case after the voluntary disqualification of Justice Hefner, who has oil holdings. Riley held the conceded invalidity of one section of the conservation statute group invalidated the entire law.

OPINIONS CITED

Both the Federal court and the majority of the State court conceded one section, providing the State might prohibit the production of oil if it could not be produced at a profit, was void, but held that the remainder of the sections were not affected.

The Green opinion points out that the United States Supreme Court has upheld conservation statutes of other States, including Indiana and Wyoming and regulatory powers of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Ban to Be Continued Until After Elections

Student Clash With Police Prompts His Action

HABANA, Oct. 14. (AP)—President Machado signed a decree today forbidding the holding of meetings or conferences of any kind throughout the republic until November 2, the day after the Congressional and municipal elections.

The decree will not become effective until tomorrow night at 6 o'clock when it is published in the official gazette.

Officials said the decree was occasioned by a number of minor disturbances, unimportant in themselves, but tending to disturb the national peace, coupled with the desire of President Machado to take all possible precautions against disorders during the remainder of the electoral period.

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT

The prohibition of assembly during the next twenty days suspends one of the rights given Cuban citizens under the constitution. The power to lift this and other constitutional rights for a twenty-day period was invested in the President twelve days ago, by special act of Congress.

He may, if he deems it necessary, set up press censorship, prohibit public speech and suspend the right of habeas corpus during the remainder of the electoral period. It is not considered likely, however, that he will attempt the full exercise of his special power unless extreme emergency should arise.

CLASH PROMPTS ACT

Machado has openly stated he did not intend to use the right to withdraw constitutional guarantees if tranquillity prevailed throughout the island and last night permitted the reopening of the weekly magazine Karikato, closed a week ago because of its bitter attacks on the government.

A minor clash between students and police at the School of Arts and Trades shortly before noon today is believed to have prompted the President to start the exercise of extreme precautions during the remainder of the unsettled period pending the elections.

REDS REAP WHEAT RICHES

Profit on Operations in Chicago Pit Estimated by Traders at $750,000 to $1,000,000

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (Exclusive)—Russia has made a profit of $750,000 to $1,000,000 on its operations in the Chicago wheat pit, according to estimates made by traders today.

For three days that country is understood to have been covering its line of 7,765,000 bushels of wheat futures which it sold on the Chicago Board of Trade in September, during which period the December delivery had a range of 85 3-4 to 89 5-8, or approximately 10 cents higher than the figures which have prevailed during the last three trading days.

According to close observers of pit conditions, the buying of wheat futures by Russia has been conducted in a most skilled manner, the orders apparently being at fixed prices and in amounts sufficient generally to escape the attention of the trade. The selling of the big line of futures in September was regarded as having been responsible for a sharp break in prices in American markets, but the removal of the hedges, according to those in close touch with conditions, has been instrumental in putting a prop under the market at a time when it needed it the most.

THIRTEEN CONVICTS GET AWAY

North Carolina Prisoners Including Murderers Saw Bars and Flee at Night

RALEIGH (N. C.) Oct. 14. (AP)—Escape of thirteen convicts, some of them serving long terms for murder, from the Person County prison camp, was disclosed tonight by State prison officials here. The getaway was made last night after the sawing of bars in a cell block.

A posse of fifty men headed by Capt. Loftin, in charge of the camp, made a fruitless search for the fugitives today.

The escape was discovered by E. C. Hilton, a trusty, who caught one prisoner in the act of getting away, halted him, spread the alarm and prevented the possible escape of others of the seventy-one convicts in the camp.

Two men, a cell corporal and a guard whose names were withheld, were blamed for the escape and were summarily discharged, prison officials announced.

GREY STOMPS OUT OF ARIZONA

Author Ends Twenty Years of Trips to State

"Grossly Insulted" by Game Warden, Says Writer

Commercialism Destroying Beauty, His Charge

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 14. (AP) Zane Grey, author, whose books and stories have made the Tonto Rim famous, has shaken the dust of Arizona from his feet. He is not coming back, he says, because "I have been grossly insulted by the Game Commission."

In a signed statement sent from Altadena, Cal., Grey cites his reasons for having "given up Arizona" after twenty years of close association.

"Much as I hate to confess it," he says, "I am compelled to say I have given up Arizona. After twenty years of intensive and loving association with its colored deserts and wonderful forests, its cowboys, Indians, traders and pioneers, I am through.

MUCH MONEY SPENT

"I have written fifteen novels with Arizona atmosphere and background. Personally it cost me $30,000 to get material for one book alone—"To the Last Man"—the story of the Pleasant Valley war in the Tonto Basin. My many trips all over the State have cost me easily $100,000 more. So in every way I have not been exactly an undesirable visitor.

"Nevertheless I have been grossly insulted by the Game Commission and lied about by the Winslow crowd of native game hogs, and otherwise alienated. This has hurt me so it has taken me a year to speak of it.

"On October 1, 1929, I went to Flagstaff after touring Northern Arizona, and finding the opening of the game season deferred to October 15, I approached friends with the hope of getting a special permit to hunt pig killing bears around my ranch in the Tonto. We telegraphed the State game warden and the reply came back that he had authority to grant such permission, but in my case was advised not to do it, or words to that effect. As I owned two properties in Arizona I asked for a resident hunting license, which request was not only denied, but garbled and used to discredit me in Phoenix. At a meeting in that city I was insulted and run down.

NO ELK SHOT

"We did not shoot any elk, as the Winslow pot hunters gossiped. In twelve years my whole bag of game has been five bears, three bucks and a few turkeys.

"But this is not the only reason that I shall not write any more about Arizona or visit my old haunts.

"The Game Commission and the Forest Service have gone over to the commercial interests. The glory and beauty of Arizona, its vanishing forests and game, are no longer for the people. They are being sacrificed to the lumbermen and the sheepmen and the cattle raisers Buffalo Jones and I saw this fifteen years ago, but even we did not realize to what an extent such policy would be carried. The Grand Canyon on the North Rim is a tin can, gasoline joint, and the hunting season is a shambles."

WARDEN DEFENDS REFUSAL OF PERMIT

PHOENIX, Oct. 14. (AP)—Commenting on a statement by Zane Grey that a hunting permit had been refused him in 1929, State Game Warden Bayless said today the State has, for issuance of special permits out of season, a special affidavit to be used in such instances that proof has been established that animals or birds are predatory in their habits.

He said the policy of the State Game Commission is to issue such permits only to government predatory animal hunters.

"I see no reason," the game warden said, "why Mr. Grey's name on an application should bear any more weight than any other citizen's."

CORESPONDENCE CITED

Bayless produced from his files copies of correspondence between himself and Grey.

A telegram dated September 27, 1927, from Grey, said:

"New game law hits me hard. Most years we cannot hunt at my lodge on the rim after October 15. Would you be good enough to let me hunt stock-killing bears October 17 I have been Arizona's best advertiser and think I deserve some consideration."

To which the files show the game warden answered:

"Have no authority to issue permit to kill bears out of season. Letter follows."

STATUTE QUOTED

The letter quoted from the Arizona statutes as follows:

"The commission may issue permits to kill or capture alive any species of animals or birds which are seriously injurious to agriculture or other interests in any particular community.

"It would therefore be necessary for proof to be established," the letter continued, "that such animal was a predatory animal before such a permit could be issued. In view of the foregoing I cannot see my way clear to issue such a permit."

Bayless said he has no knowledge of any controversy between Grey and the game department or game association officials.

MAYOR WALKER SAYS HE'S WEARY OF JOB

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Mayor Walker, now in his second term, is tired of his job. "All the glory is gone, all the glitter is off," he said in an address before the United Real Estate Owners' Association last night, "it is just a hard job, and somebody else ought to have it. I am not a candidate for office, and if you add, 'and you'll never be again,' I'll not contradict it. But before I go I want to feel that I'm leaving the city better than I found it—that's all I want to live on for the rest of my life."

DRY LAW SEEKS PRESS OPINIONS

Prohibition Bureau Quizzes Nation's Editors

Sentiment on Statute Will Be Compiled

Monograph on Answers to Be Issued Later

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Bureau of Prohibition of the Department of Justice has asked 3000 newspapers of the country to express their sentiment on the national prohibition law.

It announced today the division of research and public information had mailed questionnaires to the newspapers. The questionnaire asks if the newspaper favors the Eighteenth Amendment and national prohibition law, whether they are opposed to the law or whether they are neutral.

When the replies are received the information will be compiled and made the subject of a monograph to be issued by the bureau. The questionnaires were sent out by E. A. Grant, acting chief of the division of research and public information.

The letter transmitting the questionnaire told the editors the Prohibition Bureau wanted to get the attitude of the press of the nation as a whole upon the subject of the Eighteenth Amendment and the administration of the dry laws.

TAKE COURAGE, SAYS BANKER

Black Prescribes Cure for Depression

People Must Pay Auto and Radio Debts

Confidence Not Enough, Convention Told

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Eugene R. Black, governor of the Federal Reserve Board of Atlanta, told delegates to the convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America that business courage to dispel fear is what is needed in America rather than confidence.

"I believe we need in American business courage," he said. "Confidence is not all that is required. Confidence bespeaks timidity, and there is not so much timidity in America as fear in America."

MUST PAY DEBTS

The speech of the veteran banker held the rapt attention of the delegates, who had said in statements and from the rostrum that confidence is all that is needed to raise business to prosperity.

"I do not agree with those men who are saying that all that is needed in America is a return of confidence," he said. "I believe other things are needed in America and in the world.

"I believe first we have got to be just. I believe we have to pay our debts. To do that I know we have to economize. We have admittedly a thirteen months' recession in business. It is farther back than that. We have been living in an automobile and radio era. We cannot pay our debts and continue in that atmosphere. Let us not fool ourselves. We cannot have any permanent prosperity when there is a load of debt around our necks.

ASSERT CHARACTER

"I believe we have got to do a second thing. I believe we have got to assert our character in America. I am afraid that in the past two years some of us have forgotten that a good name is rather to be desired than great riches and public favor rather than gold and silver. It is not confidence we need in America. It is certainty we need in America."

Mrs. Paddleford was convicted of defrauding a Carmel shopkeeper of $234.50.

Fess Confident of Republican Vote Victories

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Returning from a campaign trip through the Middle West, Chairman Fess of the Republican National Committee today, said he is "most encouraged" over the outlook in Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia.

Fess, the senior Senator from Ohio, asserted "there is not the slightest doubt that Senator McCulloch and Gov. Cooper, the Republican nominees, will carry Ohio."

The Senator traveled with Vice-President Curtis on his trip through the middle western States.

Captor Frees Young Woman

GREENFIELD (Mo.) Oct. 14. (AP) Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, 24 years of age, daughter of Benton Wilson, wealthy oil man here, who was kidnaped from her parents' home last night, telephoned late today from Stockton, twenty miles north of Greenfield, that she had been released and was returning home. Her father and husband started out to meet her.

Mrs. McKinley said her kidnaper had demanded $10,000. She told him that the only way he could get the money would be to release her, the young woman said, and she was set free.

DEATH CREEPS NEAR DIAMOND

Wounded Gangster Said to Be Sinking Rapidly

Police Still Unable to Find Cause of Shooting

Hotel Manager Returns to "Tell Whole Story"

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Death drew closer today to Jack (Legs) Diamond, New York's best-known gangster, while police knocked without answer at the wall of mystery surrounding his shooting Sunday morning in a West Side hotel.

There are plenty of theories for detectives to work on, but fewer facts and witnesses. Police, however, began an examination of Jacob Ginsberg, manager of the Hotel Monticello, where the shooting took place. He walked into the District Attorney's office today and announced he is ready to tell "the whole story."

CONDITION CRITICAL

Police had been searching for Ginsberg, who was the first to reach Diamond after the shooting. After calling a doctor he departed hurriedly from the hotel with his wife and child.

A bulletin issued late today at the Polyclinic Hospital, where the racketeer lies, said his condition is critical and there has been a "pulmonary collapse." Private physicians expressed the belief he will not live twenty-four hours.

Other persons whom detectives are anxious to question are Charles Entratta, alias Greene, ex-convict acquitted of a double slaying a year ago in the Hotsy Totsy Club on Broadway; "Dutch" Schultz, reputed Bronx beer runner who, police say, had openly declared his intention of shooting Diamond on sight; "Count" Miller, described as an intimate friend of Diamond, who lived at the Monticello and vanished after the shooting, and Vannie Higgins, said to be Diamond's lieutenant in Brooklyn, who has been reported missing for the past ten days.

THEORY BOLSTERED

The theory that an up-State beer war was responsible for the shooting was bolstered by the presence of two automobile loads of armed gangsters early today in the neighborhood of Diamond's fortified residence at Acra, N. Y. Police said Diamond had reputedly engaged in a price war for control of the trade that supplied the village roadhouses and speakeasies with beer.

Al Capone is reported to have been interested in regaining a foothold in the metropolitan underworld, and police are considering the possibility that Capone henchmen may have had a hand in the shooting.

EX-ART LABELED AS "OBSCENE"

Picture Lauded in New York Barred on Return There From Trip to Paris

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (Exclusive)—If it doesn't go to Paris, it's art—if it does—it's obscene.

That is the way Mrs. Nancy Kleben, young New York art student, feels about it.

Last year she painted a half-length nude at the Art Students' League and it was selected by John Sloan for exhibition. It was admired, criticised and examined, but it never was called obscene.

Then Mrs. Kleben went to Paris and took her painting with her. After six months of study she returned with the painting.

Today when she stepped off the French liner La Fayette a customs appraiser looked at the painting, blushed and told her sadly it can not be admitted. He called it obscene.

CHINA WILL END REIGN OF RAPINE

Army of 200,000 Sent South to Slay Bandits

SHANGHAI, Oct. 14. (AP)—Having virtually crushed the northern rebellion, the Nationalist government today is reported about to dispatch 200,000 troops against bandit and Communist armies which have been ravaging China south of the Yangtze River.

President Chiang Kai-shek said Nationalist officials ordered the troops withdrawn from Honan Province, where they have been fighting for six months against the Northern Alliance rebels of Feng Yu-hsiang and Yen Hsi-shan.

The troops will be sent to Hupeh, Anjwei, Hunan and Klangsi provinces, in which for many months bandit-Communist hordes have looted and burned cities and countrysides and have massacred thousands of Chinese.

In these provinces foreigners have lost much property and their lives have been endangered in many cities, including looted and burned Changsha, Honan Province. A large number of foreigners, many of them American missionaries, have been held in besieged Kiangsi Province cities or forced to flee.

TIME TURNED BACKWARD

Scientific Expeditions on Niuafou Island Find Day Tuesday or Monday, as Preferred

NIUAFOU ISLAND, Oct. 14. (AP)—To the scientists assembled here for the solar eclipse of next Tuesday, today was either Monday, the 13th inst. or Tuesday, the 14th inst., according to individual preference.

Members of the American and New Zealand Naval Observatory expeditions began choosing their own dates when it was agreed that Niuafou, known to mariners as "Tin Can Island," was close enough to the international date line to permit the use of two kinds—Tonga Island time, which is twelve hours west of Greenwich, or New Zealand time, twelve hours east of Greenwich.

The New Zealand Observatory equipment is erected and ready for final adjustments. Many photographs have been made lately and drills have been held, using the moon and stars for subjects, to insure perfect functioning of the personnel on eclipse day, when all the valuable work must be done in the ninety-three seconds' duration of the eclipse.

The weather has been unavorable the past week, with rain and squalls in the daytime.

Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, noted volcanologist of Honolulu, has discovered the hills of Niuafou are 200 feet higher and the lake twenty feet lower than previous surveys had recorded. Several small lagoons south of the large lake have been found to produce sulphurous water at 98 deg. The lakes contain life only of the microscopic variety, tiny crabs and shrimps, and a bug like a large roach. Several live malau birds, an extremely rare type, have been found. They exist only on Niuafou Island.

light, missing because it has been absorbed by some, but not all, of the sun's atoms lying in view of the camera eye. These atoms change their ways of absorbing light according to temperatures and many other conditions, so that a spectrum is really a photo of what atoms are doing in great masses.

Astronomers have learned how to interpret these mass photos. For example, one set of lines, Dr. Mitchell says, reveals in the sun's atmosphere the presence of a layer of iron vapor 600 miles deep.

ATOMS GET EXCITED

Other lines show a different iron vapor only 240 miles deep. The differences are due to the fact that iron does not all vaporize in one explosive flash at a single temperature level. Some of the iron atoms get "excited" as the astronomers say, and begin to glow and show lines at one temperature, while others are not fully vaporized until higher temperatures. The lower iron vapor layer on the sun represents higher temperatures.

This kind of reading of the earth's upper layers is hindered by the lack of light from terrestrial atmosphere.

Winding up two days of inquiry with a brief hearing here, Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the committee, said there was no evidence to substantiate such a charge.

OHIO ELECTRIC TRUST CHARGED

Contractors and Unions Said to Have Agreements

Cleveland Growth Retarded, Grand Jury Reports

Nineteen Persons Will Face Trial Next Month

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14. (Exclusive) Nineteen individuals, including labor union officials and members of the Electrical Business Association, indicted last June by the Cuyahoga county grand jury on charges of violating the Valentine antitrust law, will be brought to trial next month. Specifically a combination in restraint of trade was charged.

Because of the existence of such a combination the growth of the city and its industries has been seriously retarded, and outside interests avoid this locality in selecting a place for any new industrial establishments, the jury said in a report accompanying the indictments.

The grand jury in a special and lengthy report advocated that the State pursue a further investigation into all ramifications of the conspiracies in restraint of trade existing in the building trades generally, which its report declared was indicated by evidence in the investigation.

INDIVIDUALS CITED

The Electrical Business Association and Thomas C. Fowler, its president, various contractors, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and John H. Fitzgerald, business agent for local union No. 38 of that brotherhood, are the chief individuals and organizations charged with conspiracy.

The operation of the asserted conspiracy was outlined to the grand jury as follows:

Electrical contractors have combined into an association. This association has an agreement with the electrical unions.

This agreement is that the association will designate a certain member electrical contractor to bid on a certain electrical job that comes up. All others keep their hands off waiting their turns at bidding.

The price is agreed on with the electrical unions. These unions share in the profits from the contract.

Any firm bidding on the contract in violation of the price agreement is disciplined by reprimand from the asserted conspiracy leaders and faces withdrawal of all union men from its employ.

UNIONS THEN ACT

Thus if he should get the contract, the union leaders would call off his workmen. With trade thoroughly controlled by the union here this prevents him from filling his contracts.

To effect the purposes of the asserted conspiracy the indictment charges the officers and members of the Electrical Business Association and of the local union No. 38 employ the following unlawful means:

They set fixed prices per outlet for all units sold and installed by the association members.

They inform contractors in the county of these prices.

Owners, general contractors and architects are compelled to pay these prices.

They withdraw union men from jobs obtained from nonmember contractors at bids lower than the association-union fixed price.

They use union power against nonmember contractors to compel them to join the association.

NONMEMBERS SCARED

They scare nonmember contractors into not bidding on electrical jobs.

They have forced contractors refusing to join the association out of business.

They have used the power they have "so as to make themselves czars or absolute monarchs" of the electrical industry in Cuyahoga county, and have exacted "excessive prices from the public" by terrorism.

They have enforced a rule that before any contractor may bid on a job to cost more than $1000 he must get in touch with the association and union officials to tell them how much he intends to bid.

They have established quotas of work to the member contractors, telling them just how many dollars worth of contracts they are to bid over a given period.

They thus prevent contractors who might bid lower from bidding on the work at the expense of the public.

DISCRIMINATION CHARGED

The union labor leaders have enforced rigidly certain rules against nonmember contractors employing union labor, while condoning the same practices by member contractors.

They have discouraged fair competition in the entire industry in Cleveland by their methods.

County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller, attacked by union-labor leaders after the indictments had been returned, denied that he is opposed to organized labor.

"Neither the civil action nor the grand jury indictments are directed against union labor," Miller said. "The indictments are aimed at individuals and contractors who have combined in restraint of trade to fix prices and make competitive bidding a joke and to make illegal profits at the expense of the public.

"We have evidence that no one can engage in the electrical business unless he is a member of the association.

NO LABOR AVAILABLE

"Contractors who refuse to join the Electrical Business Association and abide by its rules can't get union labor to fulfill their contracts.

"Officers of the Electrical Business Association know in advance what their members are going to bid on jobs and, by a system of rotation and quotas, it is known in advance which contractor is to submit the lowest bid.

"Union labor reaps no benefit from this practice but individuals do. It is nothing more than a racket.

"We also have evidence that the same racket is set up in other trades and we expect to develop further evidence to this effect in the course of the fall grand jury investigation.

"I am determined to sound the death knell for price-fixing in this county."

Assistant County Prosecutor Leighley declared that as a result of the asserted illegal combination in the electrical business the cost of installing wires and fixtures in new buildings has increased from 25 to 100 per cent.

Attorney Joseph Moldaver stated that contractors who are his clients had been called in by the Electrical Business Association and assessed fines of more than $1000 on charges of misconduct.

The "misconduct" was underbidding electrical contractors assigned as low bidders by the association, according to Moldaver.

"Smaller contractors who were told to wait their turns as designated low bidders finally became desperate over lack of business and defied the association," Moldaver said. "Then they were called on the carpet, fined and their union labor taken away.

"Electrical contractors in completing estimates, now regularly list 'racketeer' fees among their costs.

"This, coupled with similar fees in other building trades, makes home building prohibitive to many. The result is that there is less building than there would be normally and the workingmen are the only ones who really suffer."

PLAN FOR BOARD PUSHED IN COAST CITIES

The local move to place in the hands of a new municipal board autocratic power over all electrical work and maintenance in Los Angeles is not confined to this city, it was learned yesterday. More or less simultaneously the same sort of proposition has been advanced in Pasadena, Oakland, San Francisco, Seattle and Spokane. In no instance, it is understood, has the proposed ordinance setting up the scheme actually reached the City Council of the municipality or progressed further than the "feeler" stage.

The proposed ordinance, outlined in detail in The Times September 10, last, at once attracted attention of local open-shop proponents as providing a remarkably fertile and prepared field in which unionism might work to the destruction of the open shop in the industry here. It further was declared that under such conditions as probably would result from the ordinance, racketeering in the field would be invited.

The ordinance ostensibly would set up a board of three men to have control over virtually all electrical installation and maintenance work in the city, from home to factory and from business house to studio. It has been known as the "Broach" ordinance because of asserted similarity to factors entering into the New York electrical situation in which H. H. Broach, now president of International Electrical Workers, wielded great influence while prominent in that city as a union agent. Broach recently placed Charles M. Feider and Lew Head, active in certain political circles here, in local union positions under his office.

The move toward the so-called Broach ordinance was observed here among a group of members of Electragists, local branch of a national organization, of electrical contractors, dealers and materials men. Opposition to the Electragists sponsoring the thing appeared and the matter is somewhat dormant on the surface at this time.

Some indications are believed to be in the offing that the Board of Supervisors may be asked to enact the ordinance for county control of the electrical field before the City Council is requested to tie up the city.

Besides New York, Cleveland, O., is said to have found itself tied up in an electrical way under ordinances facilitating autocratic control of the industry in much the same manner that local open-shop proponents say Los Angeles would be tied up if the Broach ordinance ever got through the City Council.

BARBS THROWN AT WASP WAIST

Corsetiere Stung to Action Against New Style

First Harpoon Hurled in War on Whalebones

Health Interest Has No Time for Hour-Glass Figures

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP) — The first harpoon in a whalebone war was hurled today.

Mme. Binner, Fifth-avenue corsetiere, called a conference of eight New York corset manufacturers in an effort to obtain concerted action preventing the return of the "wasp waist."

Mme. Binner, who corseted Lillian Russell's famous figure in the days of Diamond Jim Brady and who numbers society matrons and actresses among her clientele, declared a conviction the present fashion trend toward swaller waists was in reality the first step in an attempt to bring back the hour-glass figure.

CRY FOR SMALL WAISTS

"Don't tell me women won't go back to pinching their waists if fashion demands," she said. "They may say they won't—but they said they wouldn't go back to long skirts, too.

"They're coming to me today—women 45 years of age and girls of 18—and crying for small waists as a baby cries for candy.

"They see one of the new frocks and the saleswoman tells them they must have a small waist to wear it. Advertisements, fashion stories—everything they read about style—tells them waists are much smaller. Now, how much is 'much?' The women don't know. They read figure measurements by the yard telling them that for a certain height they should have a certain waist measurement.

MEASUREMENTS FOOLISH

"Those figures pay no attention to weight and bone structure. They're nonsense. If we don't nip this business in the bud it will go on until women's waists are pinched as they used to be, and their health suffers accordingly."

Mme. Binner said she found no fault with styles as they exist today. The present mode, she declared, is a natural one and as such reveals figures to the best advantage.

The pioneer airman, however, is watching the progress of aircraft and predicts that the airplane is the future master of the skies.

MANY NAVY SHIPS TO BE WITHDRAWN

Economy Plans Call for Sixteen Destroyers Being Taken Out of Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Twelve destroyers will be withdrawn from the battle fleet and four from the scouting fleet under the economy plans of the Navy.

In making this announcement today the Navy said destroyers in the battle fleet on the Pacific will be reduced from forty-two to thirty and those in the Atlantic scouting fleet from thirty-nine to twenty-nine.

Eight of the latter ten will operate with smaller crews, in the new Atlantic training squadron, and the other two will be decommissioned. Two additional destroyers, now attached to Washington and New York naval reserve units, are to be taken out of service.

Under the reorganization eighty-one destroyers and nine layers of 93,426 tons will remain in commission. Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, said the laid-up vessels will be kept in good shape so as to permit their recommissioning when necessary.

CHICAGO UNDER CHURCH X-RAY

City Declared Dominated by Racketeers

Business, Press, Courts in League With Crime

Honest Men in Office Held Only Solution

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Chicago Church Federation charged today that Chicago's government is "dominated by designing and greedy politicians, gangsters and racketeers," who are motivated by "greed for large and easy money."

The charge was made in a report on crime conditions by the federation's commission on political action as approved by its board of trustees. The federation, of which Dean Shailer Matthews of the University of Chicago divinity school is president, represents 800 churches in metropolitan Chicago, distributed among seventeen Protestant denominations.

ORGY OF CRIME

The situation, the Federation asserted, "results in grafting on public funds and an orgy of crime, which at times approaches a breakdown of local civic authority. The impelling motive of this shameful civic situation is greed for large and easy money which has developed an interlocking system of control which tends to throttle our civil, business and social life."

"This commission," the report said, "is convinced there is co-operation between the gangster, public officials, newspaper employees and large business interests to a most alarming extent."

The report then sums up the reasons for the existence of the conspiracy. It charges as follows: Control of law-enforcing agencies by gangsters, from the policemen up to the judge and including taxing and election machinery; the criminals' command of large capital; timidity on the part of business and civic leaders; confusion and indifference of voters, with corruption of election officials and, finally, the part played by newspapers.

PAPERS ACCUSED

"Certain papers have at times maintained strong-arm squads in circulation wars," the report explains, "while some of the papers have assiduously cultivated the patronage of gamblers by printing racing forecasts, odds and results. We believe they are still in close relationship with certain newspaper men generally reputed to be in control of important race-track gambling combines."

"Your commission," the report concludes, "recommends that relief be sought by going direct to the root of the matter, namely, the restoration of public offices to honest, courageous and intelligent men." It urges appointment of a committee to work in conjunction with other interested groups to plan a movement to that end.

NEGRO'S HORIZON ROSY NOW

Former Porter, Ill and Jobless, Finds Rich Man He Befriended Thirty Years Before

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Good deeds done more than thirty years ago today began paying dividends to Charlie Morris, a Negro, who had been dodging hard luck unsuccessfully since the Spanish-American War.

Before the war Charlie was a $9-a-week porter in a drug store, where he became a warm friend of Charles Walgreen, an $18-a-week clerk. When the latter was called to colors the Negro sent him money and tobacco. Before the war ended Walgreen was sent home ill and the Negro and his wife nursed him back to strength in their own home. Then they parted, and for thirty years neither knew where the other was.

Dame fortune smiled on Walgreen. He rose to the head of a huge drug-store chain. Morris was luckless and while ill and jobless saw an advertisement in a Chicago paper the other day bearing the name "Walgreen." He wondered if it could be the "Charlie" he knew in his drug-store days in Chicago, so he set out from his home in Watseka and went to the Walgreen offices in Chicago.

As he sat in the reception room a bald-headed man stopped and looked at him.

"Isn't your name Morris?" he inquired.

"Sure enough is, boss," said Charlie, and then, "say you ain't Charlie Walgreen that used to work with me in a drug store before the war?"

"That's exactly who I am," Walgreen replied, and the spectators stared as the drug-store magnate grabbed the old Negro and hugged him like a long-lost brother.

And, to make a long story short, Charlie walked out of the office—with a life-time job with his old boss.

UNION BARS REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

Chicago Musicians Order Radio Stations to Ban G.O.P. Speeches

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—James C. Petrillo, head of the Chicago Musicians' Union, notified eleven radio stations today that if any station permits a Republican candidate use of its facilities for political campaign speeches he will call a strike of the station's musicians.

"As the Chicago Federation of Musicians is about to place the Republican party of Cook county on the unfair list," the notification read, "this will mean that if any Republican candidates speak on radio the services of members of the federation will be withdrawn."

Petrillo said he had twice requested the Republicans to substitute live horn-blowers in their street parades and meetings for the traveling radio loud-speakers they have been using. The Democrats have already signed an agreement to use flesh-and-blood musicians, he said, and he added that, if the Republicans persist in their practice he will send out thirty or forty truckloads of musicians at the union's expense to proclaim their position and to urge the virtues of the Democratic ticket. Half the 8000 musicians in Chicago are out of work, he explained.

Bernard W. Snow, county Republican chairman, said the musicians' union had misunderstood the party's attitude.

He was arrested in Lewiston, Idaho, today by Sheriff's deputies.

RX: LET EXPERTS RUN HOSPITALS

Doctor Prescribes Cure for Sick Institutions

Trustees Should Be Trained, Surgeons Told

Physicians Urged to Retain "Human Touch"

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14. (AP)—A recommendation that boards of trustees of hospitals be composed of persons trained in hospital administration was made today by Dr. Paul Keller, a director of Beth-Israel Hospital, Newark, N. J., in speaking at the twentieth annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

"Hospital boards of trustees on the whole are not equipped as experts to give direction in the conduct of that most important part of our communal life, the hospital," Dr. Keller said.

THREAD TESTING APPROVED

The college went on record as approving a culture method of testing surgical threads explained by Dr. Frank L. Meleney of the department of surgery of Columbia University.

Dr. Allen Craig of Chicago urged monthly conferences between hospital administrators and the surgical and medical staffs, and made a plea that physicians retain the "human touch" in their contacts with patients.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, professor of pharmacology, University of California, described for the ninth annual congress of anaesthetists an anaesthetic which he said is expected to eliminate nausea.

The anaesthetic, he said, is a combination of ether and ethylene, and in experiments has not irritated or depressed respiration.

REGULAR VISITS URGED

Dr. Arvin Abell of Louisville, Ky., in a radio address advised the public to call on the doctor not only in times of sickness, but also at regular intervals to have him make a check-up on individual health.

Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher of Chicago, vice-president of the American College of Surgeons, in an address before the Kiwanis Club attacked physicians who split fees. He said the doctor who turns over a patient to a man who may not be a good surgeon, merely because he will get part of the fee, is endangering the lives of his patients.

REFORMING CHRISTIANS ADVOCATED

Churchman at Washington Conference Says Followers of Christ Neglect Duty

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—A plea to "Christianize the Christians" was voiced tonight by R. A. Long of Kansas City, president of the International Convention of Disciples of Christ.

In an address at the opening session of the organization's annual convention, Long asserted that none could contemplate the church today without "bitter sorrow for its divisions, its worldliness, its selfishness and its sloth."

He added, however, the church is leading reforms for "temperance, justice, peace and brotherhood" and contended that "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

"It is one thing," he said, "to condemn the church and seek its reformation and another to abandon it and thereby bring about its death."

Discussing "self-confessed but negligent Christians," Long said:

"They feel that the church is a good thing—for others. To my mind this attitude of neglect and irresponsibility upon the part of so-called Christians does more harm to Christianity than all the attacks of hostile criticism and unbelief."

CHEST CENTRAL GROUP ALL SET

Meeting of 300 Men Takes Place at Noon Today

Wealthier Persons of City Will Be Solicited

Chairman Kerr Pleads for Generous Response

More than 300 Los Angeles business men entrusted with the solicitation of large donations from wealthy individuals and concerns for the 1930-1931 Community Chest fund, will meet at noon today in the Biltmore for the first time this year to initiate the Central Division campaign and receive final instructions.

J. A. H. Kerr, Chest campaign chairman, announced that the solicitation by the Central Division Committee will begin immediately after the meeting and will terminate the 27th inst., the day the general solicitation begins.

An appeal for careful consideration by wealthy persons concerning their Chest contributions this year was made by Chairman Kerr, who said that, "The general support to the Chest is gauged to a great extent by the degree of support accorded by the wealthy. Everyone should carefully consider as to how much to give, and not as to how little."

Kerr pointed out that the recent economic depression, creating a larger number of indigent, has thrown an added burden on the 124 agency members of the Chest. They have had to give temporary relief to hundreds of families out of employment. The $3,200,000 quota represents no increase over the amount sought last year, in spite of the fact that demands for service have been steadily mounting. While agency budgets have remained practically stationary in the past five years, agency service has increased more than 50 per cent in that period.

Each of the thirty committees of the Central Division will have its individual quota set at the meeting today. The Central Division's collective quota also will be announced.

Following are the vice-chairmen of the Central Division: Byron J. Badham, Alfred L. Lathrop, V. H. Rossetti, Carey S. Hill, A. Wiese, D. J. Cahill, Harold Janss, C. Gardner Bullis, W. A. Simpson, J. C. McFarland, D. Joseph Coyne, William Tell Aggeler, Jay B. Jacobs, R. H. Moulton, C. S. Thomas, Will G. Farrell, C. C. Hine, R. H. Ballard, Homer Lawton, James G. Warren, Louis H. Moore, T. E. Ivey, Jr., Ralph G. Wolff, Robert M. Ketchum, Galen H. Welch, Oscar Trippet, J. M. Rugg and Carroll A. Stilson.

VERSES TO BE FEATURED

The first meeting of the Cadman Creative Club, Inc., will be held Monday evening in the third-floor auditorium of the Friday Morning Club. The verse department will sponsor the program featuring Bingham Thoburn Wilson, Mabel Curtis and Sylvia Beardall.

GEOLOGISTS TREADING ROCKY PATH

Fraternity Aspirants Must Fill Sacks With Stones

Candidates Literally Dig for Honorary Places

IT'S difficult work, but if a student at University of California at Los Angeles desires to be enrolled as a member of Theta Tau Theta, honorary geology fraternity, the path is not easy. One must don the habiliments of the great outdoors, which in the case of five junior candidates now seeking admission to the fraternity, consists of khaki trousers, woolen shirts and slouch hats, and gather enough geological specimens from the surrounding hills to fill each night a sack that is provided. Each candidate must carry his geology hammer in his belt while attending classes. The informal initiation work will continue a week. Then if they've met requirements the five will be declared members of the fraternity.

Fee, former deputy District Attorney and one of more than a dozen deputies discharged by Dist.-Atty. Fitts, yesterday continued his fight for reinstatement by filing a petition for a rehearing. HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT BIDS MADE

Fifteen Proffers Opened on Furnishings for New County Institution

Fifteen bids on material and equipment for the acute unit of the new General Hospital were opened yesterday by the Board of Supervisors, and all but two were referred to the committee of allied architects to pass upon before contracts are let.

The two rejected bids came from the Dohrman Hotel Supply Company on light and heavy ranges. As the company was the only one bidding, the Supervisors said there was no competition and ordered that new bids be advertised for.

The bids opened yesterday are for shades, electric clocks, lighting fixtures and sheet-metal equipment. The firms bidding and the amounts bid are as follows:

Shades: Sunset Shade Company, $12,593.35; Elkeles, Inc., $20,814.64; Barker Brothers, $33,257; Austral Window Company, $48,492.35.

Electric clocks: J. T. Welch, $48,461; R. R. Jones Electrical Company, $53,421; Barker Brothers, $36,426.97; Newberry Electric Corporation, $42,384.

Lighting fixtures: Schweitzer Brothers, $195,976.83; Newberry Electric Corporation, $159,875; Wagner-Woodruff Company, $240,478.30; English Electric Company, $170,254.

Sheet metal equipment: Dohrman Hotel Supply Company, $191,801.

On the recommendation of the allied architect committee the board let the contract for paving at the hospital to Fred F. Greenfield for $66,000.

Constitutional Revision Makes Rapid Progress

Rapid progress in revision of the State constitution was reported yesterday by members of the California Constitution Association at the conclusion of a meeting in the Governor's office in the Associated Realty Building.

Newton Thompson, chairman of the commission, said that tentative drafts of the simplified constitution have been prepared and that a final report will be made to Gov. Young before the end of the year for submission to the Legislature in January.

Chairman Thompson said that the result of the commission's labors will be, of course, a suggestion which the State may amend, adopt or reject. Members of the commission have held monthly meetings since last February, gathering alternately in Northern California and Southern California.

Corbett Rites Postponed Day

Funeral services for Harry D. Corbett, postmaster at Hilo, Hawaii, during President Wilson's administration, will be conducted in the chapel at Hollywood Cemetery at 2 p.m., tomorro , instead of today as originally announced. The postponement was necessitated by failure of his son, Harry J. Corbett, to arrive on schedule from Chicago. The obsequies are to be under auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which he was a member for fifty-three years.

Mr. Corbett, 76 years of age, died Sunday at his home, 1318 South Hoover street, after a lingering illness.

TWO KILLED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Man Knocked Down by One Car and Run Over by Machine Behind It

Two persons were killed last night in traffic accidents in and near the city and a third died as the result of injuries received four days ago. The victims were Harry G. Middleton, 49 years of age, 801 West Ninety-fifth street; Mrs. Ida May Winslow, 50, 123 Lahey street, Bellflower, and Charles Swanger, 77, 545 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident which took the life of Middleton, reported that he was walking in a pedestrian crosswalk at Ninety-fourth street and Vermont avenue when he walked into the side of an automobile driven by Howard Riemel, 760 West One Hundredth street. Middleton was knocked to the pavement and dragged for a distance of several feet by a following automobile driven by Miss Gladys Anderson, 307 South Juanita street, Redondo Beach. He was dead when taken from beneath the wheels of the car. Neither of the two drivers was held.

Mrs. Winslow was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas A. Chastain, 190 South Somerset street, Bellflower, as she was crossing Somerset street in that community, and was killed almost instantly. Chastain told investigating police that the lights of an approaching car blinded him and that he did not see the woman until his car struck her. He was not held.

Injuries received by Charles Swanger, 77 years of age, 545 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, when he was struck by an automobile on the 11th inst., at the corner of One Hundred and Twelfth and Figueroa streets, brought his death at the General Hospital last night.

Salvationist Wife Believed to Be Eloper

Mrs. Edith Davis, 19 years of age, Salvation Army worker and leader of the Girl Scouts in that organization at Pasadena, yesterday was charged by her father and her husband with having eloped with G. W. Mahoney, whose address was given to Los Angeles police as Fifty-second street near Figueroa.

Mrs. Davis and her husband, Bert Davis, lived at 2634½ Blimp street. The couple have a 19-months-old daughter, Barbara Lou. The young matron's father, Nelson Palme, has been making his home with his daughter and her husband.

In the charge of elopement filed with the police, it is stated Mrs. Davis became acquainted with Mahoney, an operator of a vegetable wagon, when he visited the neighborhood and she made a purchase. He and Mrs. Davis have been missing since the 2nd inst., police were told.

Dates Set for Food Shower in Orphans Home

Announcement of the dates for the fifteenth annual fruit and vegetable shower for the Los Angeles Orphans' Home, 815 El Centro avenue, was made yesterday by the committee in charge, the dates being next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The officers of the organization hope to obtain fruit and vegetables from public-minded citizens which will give the 104 children in the home the help needed for the year.

"Canned fruits, vegetables in cans and containers, jams, jellies, marmalades—anything," said Miss Eleanor Johnson, chairman of the committee handling the drive.

Owing to the inability of the officers to collect the donations it is asked that they be brought to the home on the dates mentioned. The Orphans' Home recently celebrated its fiftieth anniversary.

Missing Youth's Suicide Doubted

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 14.—An investigation made on request of Los Angeles police today satisfied Santa Monica officers that while Louis Panaro, 4229 North Griffin avenue, Los Angeles, left a note intimating he might commit suicide when he disappeared yesterday from his home, he may not have jumped from the local pier on which some of his clothing was found.

A check-up in Los Angeles revealed the youth assertedly had told relatives he was in love with a girl and had been brooding over the affair. When it was found that another suit than the one he was wearing when he left the house, was missing from his wardrobe, investigators stated they suspected young Panaro might have made a suicidal gesture to gain the girl's sympathy.

DAM SITE SURVEY ORDERED

Supervisors Authorize Hiring of Geologist as Prelude to Exploration Borings

Geological exploration work in connection with the plan of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District to build three dams in San Gabriel Canyon to take the place of the abandoned high-dam project at the Forks site, will be started within two weeks.

This was the assurance given Chief Engineer Eaton of the district yesterday by the Board of Supervisors when it authorized him to employ Wayne Loel, consulting geologist, to make a preliminary survey at the first site, two miles south of the Forks.

The board appropriated $700 for the geologist's fee and expenses for five days' work. At the same time the Supervisors ordered that bids be received within two weeks on the actual exploration work which will consist in making borings and tunnels to determine foundation conditions.

The exploration work will cost approximately $40,000, to be paid for with money the flood control district has saved on other contracts.

Engineer Eaton told the Supervisors that a request was made about two months ago to the government for a permit to build the three dams and he expects to have a return on it within the next two weeks.

According to Eaton the three dams and a spreading ground can be built in the canyon for less than the balance of the $25,000,000 bond issue voted for the high dam project.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When Favonia heard that a secret message was waiting for her, she hurried with the slave to find out what it was. She knew of the escape of Erich von Harben and her cousin, Mallius Lepus, and guessed that the message was from one of them. Her excitement was evident as she hastened toward the youth.

"No one must know that I am here," he whispered. "No ears but yours may hear my message. Send your slave away." "You may go," said Favonia, "and I will let the young man out when he departs." The slave moved silently away into the shadows of the corridor, leaving his mistress unguarded.

"Tell me," said the girl, "where is he?" "He is here," whispered the youth, pointing to the anteroom. "Come," and he led her to the door. As she approached it he seized her suddenly, and clapping a hand over her mouth dragged her into the dark room beyond. Rough hands seized her and she was gagged and bound.

Carrying Favonia, whom they had wrapped in a soiled and ragged cloak, they left the house of Septimus Favonius unobserved. As two men carried the heavy bundle through the streets, the youthful leader set off for the palace, where he reported that Favonia had been abducted and would be found in the deserted house near the Colosseum.

CENTENARIAN GIVEN DEGREE

Pomona College Founders' Day Honors Oldest One

Judge Charles E. Harwood Made Doctor of Laws

President Charles Edmunds Lauds Him in Address

CLAREMONT, Oct. 14.—Recognizing the attainments and the services to higher education of one whose life this week rounds out a full 100 years, Pomona College this morning conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon Charles Edward Harwood of Upland, who celebrates his one hundredth birthday anniversary next Sunday.

The occasion was the Founders' Day convocation held in Bridges Hall of Music before nearly 1000 students, alumni, trustees and friends of Pomona College.

In an address of praise and tribute to Judge Harwood and the Harwood family, Dr. James A. Blaisdell, president of Claremont Colleges, spoke of the long years of interest and service to which Judge Harwood has dedicated his life.

Of the longevity of Judge Harwood, he commented on the long life of so many of his family, his father having lived ninety-two years, his mother was nearly 100 at the time of her death, and of his own family of six brothers and sisters, of which four are still living, the average age is 92 years and 8 months.

Judge Harwood was born in Bennington, Vt. At 15 he went to the Smith-Burton School and later was graduated by Williams College. He made his first stake as a surveyor and map-maker in Ohio, and later moved to Wisconsin where he was a lawyer. Later he became a builder of railroads and communities in Missouri and the West and was one of the founders of Drury College. He moved to California and settled in Upland, where his interest and beneficience have radiated across the Pacific, throughout the Southwest and to the Midwest and East.

BLAISDELL SPEAKS

In closing his address, President Blaisdell said, "Fortunate is the college whose history is bound into the unity and meaning of some long and patient struggle for one accumulating and winning purpose, and happy, abundantly happy, must he be, who after a hundred years of toil in this turbulent, restless earth, can confidently see that all these years are bound together into one great plan which is crowned with the serenities of infinite peace."

Dr. Frank P. Brackett, chairman of the Pomona College faculty, presented Judge Harwood for the degree, calling attention to his special attainments and services to higher education.

Dr. Brackett said, "Judge Harwood is a graduate of Williams College in 1852, he is today her oldest alumnus. In his devotion to Alma Mater, he has crossed the continent again and again to attend her commencements, even three years ago for his seventy-fifth reunion.

"Both from Williams and Drury College he has already received honorary degrees.

"Endowed himself with the culture of a century's thought and study, and stirred with a passion to aid others in the acquisition of such endowment, he has been a leader among those pioneers who have established American colleges, fortresses of Christian civilization, on the advancing western frontier. Especially by this wise counsel and assistance, Williams College in the East, Drury in the Midwest and Pomona in the Southwest have been fortified and enriched."

Reference was made to his long connection with Pomona and abundant evidence of his loyal devotion to old friends and worthy institutions not only here in the United States, but in the Far East and in other countries as well. As "high ranking citizen in the life of his own community as well as in the inner life of a group of colleges" he was presented wth the honorary degree by Dr. C. K. Edmunds, president of Pomona College, the highest recognition given by Pomona College.

FLAME CEREMONY HELD

Immediately after the conferring of the degree Judge Harwood took part as the oldest trustee in the flame ceremony, which is held annually by the college on the local campus as well as by alumni clubs located throughout the United States, in Hawaii, China, Smyrna, Turkey and elsewhere.

Participating in the flame ceremony besides Dr. Harwood were Dean E. C. Norton, oldest emeritus member of the faculty; Dr. Brackett, oldest active member of the faculty; Dr. George S. Sumner, '94, member of the first graduating class; Jo Williford, '30, member of the last graduating class; Stanley Hahn, president of the senior class; Nora Cochran, president of the junior class; Robert Martin, president of the sophomore class, and Sewall Brown, for the freshman class.

In honor of Dr. Harwood, institutions with whom he has been closely associated were represented: Williams College by David B. Scott, '08; Drury College by William W. Cushing, '97; Claremont Colleges by Fred M. Wilcox, vice-chairman of the board of fellows; Scripps College, by President E. J. Jaqua; Chaffey Junior College, by Merton E. Hill, principal.

In addition congratulatory messages were received from Henry K. Chang, Chinese Consul-General in San Francisco; George W. Marston of San Diego, president of the Pomona College board of trustees; Jacob C. Harper of La Jolla, president of the Scripps College board of trustees; Dr. Amelia E. Reinhardt, president of Mills College; President Garfield of Williams College; Groce E. McConnaughey of the American Board of Foreign Missions, and W. L. Hoag, chairman of Claremont College's board of fellows.

LUNCHEON HONORS HIM

Following the convocation a luncheon was served in honor of Dr. Harwood in Harwood Court dormitory for girls.

This evening the Campus club, composed of Pomona alumni from Ontario, Pomona, Upland, La Verne, San Dimas and Claremont met for their annual alumni founders' day banquet in Frary Hall, Claremont. Dr. Phoebe E. Spalding was toastmaster. The speakers were Lloyd Lorbeer II, recently from India, and Sik Leong Tsui, leader of the recent Pomona College student expedition to the Orient.

Brackett, chairman of the college faculty, who presented the honorary degree of doctor of laws to Judge Charles Edward Harwood of Upland, one of the founders of the institution; Dr. Harwood himself, who will be 100 years of age Sunday, and Dr. Charles K. Edmunds, president of the college.

FLOOD WATERS HARNESSED

Mill Creek Canyon Stream Will Be Spread on Sinking Ground by New Diversion Dam

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 14.—Flood waters that will rush down the Santa Ana River out of Mill Creek Canyon above Redlands, at the arrival of the first local rain, will be harnessed and spread upon a porous sinking-ground and allowed to seep into the soil, it was assured today, as Francis Cuttle of Riverside, president of the Tri-Counties Conservation Association, announced completion of the 550-foot diversion dam across the stream's channel.

Constructed at a cost to three counties expected to reach nearly $90,000, the diversion dam, or "weir," as it is known to conservationists, will turn out of the main channel millions of gallons of water to be desilted and dumped upon the earth especially selected for a sinking ground. The area is known as a "debris cone." Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange county supervisors have contributed to the construction fund into which the conservation association also turned money it had consecrated to that work several years ago.

The concrete wall across the stream will feed an eight-foot conduit leading to the spreading grounds.

Cuttle said approximately thirty days will place the entire project in full use. Some work on the conduit and head gates remains.

No riparian irrigation rights will be menaced by the diversion, since water is taken from the stream only when the torrent is bearing an enormous quantity of water to the sea. The diversion and sinking of water offsets, in a small part, the loss of absorption on the thousands of acres of timber land devastated by fires. The work is particularly important in the Mill Creek Canyon because of the tremendous areas laid waste in recent years by fires that have ripped through the wilderness of that region.

MEN HELD FOR THEFT OF WEAPON

San Bernardino Guard Members Under Arrest at Oklahoma City

SAN BERNADINO, Oct. 14.—The mystery surrounding the theft of a machine gun and twenty-six automatic pistols from the National Guard Armory two weeks ago was believed cleared today with the arrest in Oklahoma City of Joseph Bailey and Ralph Rohrer, San Bernardino youths.

Bailey, a sergeant in Company M, and Rohrer had in their possession two of the automatic pistols, according to word received by Sheriff Walter A. Shay.

The youths were trailed from San Bernardino to El Paso, when suspicions were directed toward them as police began an investigation of the machine-gun theft and when Bailey failed to appear for a drill. Bailey was in charge of the platoon of machine gunners assigned to operate the gun which was stolen from the armory.

Sheriff Shay immediately assigned officers to Oklahoma City to return the youths to this city for questioning. They were traveling in Rohrer's car, when arrested on a description broadcast by Shay.

BUILDING PLAN INDORSED

Enthusiastic San Diego Meeting Gives Backing to Civic Center Proposition

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 14.—Representatives of forty-three organizations in the city and county gave unanimous and enthusiastic indorsement to the city-county building proposition that will appear on the November 4 ballot when a co-ordination breakfast meeting came to a close in the Don Room of El Cortez Hotel this morning. Approximately 220 representatives were in attendance and proclaimed intention of going back to their organizations and to give all members the reasons for advocacy of the proposition as set forth at the joint meeting.

The motion for joint indorsement was made by William T. Hart and promptly seconded by Dr. Leland D. Jones and a number of others, who wished to emphasize the importance of starting a civic center on the bayfront site. Among these were Sam I. Fox, F. G. Jackson, J. S. Siebert, Jerry Sullivan, Jr., and W. E. Kier, the latter a contractor who constructed buildings at the marine base and who took occasion to declare that talk of high costs for foundations on the civic-center site is not warranted. He stated that extra cost for piling foundation would not be more than 3 or 4 per cent, and this would be more than offset by the savings in grading and other preparations of any site not already in shape as is the proposed site.

Hal G. Hotchkiss, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the co-ordination meeting, and Philip L. Gildred, chairman of the civic committee, was program chairman. A concise explanation of the city-county building proposition as the initial move toward creation of a civic center, as publicly approved in adoption of the Nolen plan, on the water-front site selected by the people last year, was made by Neil Nettleship in a keynote address to the delegates.

BEET SUGAR YIELD HEAVY

Ventura County Declared Southland "White Spot"

Acreage Less Than Last Year, Tonnage Higher

More Than Ton Above That Per Acre in 1929

OXNARD, Oct. 14.—Although the total acreage planted to sugar beets this year was less than in 1929, the tonnage is considerably less than last year's yield, averaging as high as eleven and one-half tons per acre. This averages about a ton per acre above last year's tonnage, and is considered exceptionally good, according to J. W. Rooney, manager of the American Beet Sugar Company's local factory, who stated that "higher averages have been rare."

While the 10,000 acres planted to sugar beets this year were 600 acres below last year's total, the 11,000-ton increase in yield, or a total of 110,000 tons, which will go through the local mill by the end of the present campaign, offsets the shortage in acreage. This will make a total of approximately 410,000 sacks of Crystal Brand sugar this year.

CROPS BETTER CARED FOR

Although the normal rainfall for the season was only some ten inches, there are several good reasons for the increased tonnage and the satisfactory factory run. Reasonably favorable growing weather coupled with greater irrigation than in past years are largely responsible, Rooney declared. Good cultivation was another factor, according to Rooney, who added that "crops were far better cared for this year."

Another favorable and imporiant condition this year is the unusually high sugar content of beets, especially in Ventura county. Throughout the 10,000 acres under contract to the local factory, the average sugar content has run around 19.06 per cent. Content in Ventura county beets, however, averaged 20.50 per cent and in some specific instances, ran as high as 24 and 25 per cent, the highest in years, it was stated. This substantiates the statement made by a leading agriculturist recently that Ventura county is the "white spot" in Southern California agriculture.

It is expected that harvesting here, in Lompoc, Santa Maria and Chino districts will be completed by Saturday. All sugar beets grown in these localities are handled through the local plant which, it is expected, will be through with the 1930 run the forepart of next week.

ROONEY OPTIMISTIC

Rooney estimated today that this year's campaign will run about sixty-five days, or a little less than in 1929. The amount of beets going through the factory has averaged around 1800 tons a day, without mishap or accident, and in an unusually satisfactory manner.

Due to good conditions this year, the prospects for increased beet acreage in 1931 are bright, Rooney stated. Also, the continued maintenance of a guaranteed price to growers by the American Beet Sugar Company, a decidedly favorable advantage to farmers, especially this year, has had splendid reaction, the company official said. As far as is known, the sugar company is the only concern guaranteeing a price for crops at the outset, and it is expected that ranchers will reciprocate next year with increased acreage, it was said. The guarantee is based on a minimum of a 9 per cent selling price for sugar. And the sugar company is paying its guarantee.

EVENING SCHOOL GROWS

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 14.—The evening school of the Huntington Park Union High School shows an enrollment of 2800 students, while, in addition to this number, there are 272 enrolled for adult education in the daytime classes. This is a gain of approximately 300 over the corresponding week of the previous school year.

FARM BUREAU AIMS TOLD

Chester H. Gray Washington Representative of Body, Gathering; Ventura Group Elects

VENTURA, Oct. 14.—Charles A. Pope, Camarillo rancher, was re-elected president of the Ventura County Farm Bureau today at the annual meeting of the bureau board of directors held at the Courthouse. A. L. Drown of Ojai was returned to his office of vice-president; W. L. Collier of Somis was elected secretary, and G. G. Clark of Montalvo was re-elected treasurer. J. D. Culbertson of Santa Paula, who served the bureau the past year as secretary, was elected State director.

Directors-at-large who were elected today are: Albert Call, A. C. Hardison, J. D. Culbertson, Walter H. Duval, C. E. Kelsey and J. N. Thille, all of Santa Paula; Charles Donlon and Frank Laubacher of Oxnard, Adolfo Camarillo of Camarillo, Roger G. Edwards, Saticoy; George Tighe, Ojai; W. E. Goodyear, Somis, and George Sexton, Mound.

ANNUAL REPORTS GIVEN

Annual reports of the various farm bureau committees, embracing each group's activities, were read by chairmen of the committees.

"American farmers today are facing the transition of the nation from one of agriculture to one of industry," was the message brought here this noon to farmers of Ventura, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara counties by Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, in an address in the banquet room of the First Methodist Church. The luncheon was sponsored by the Ventura County Farm Bureau.

"Leaders of the farm movement in the United States foresaw this inevitable happening and started immediately after the World War to secure protection for American farmers through the organization of the American Farm Bureau Federation," Gray explained.

"This transition from agriculture to industry," the farm expert declared, "can be found in the history of every nation on the globe, with England its latest example and America its present one.

"Today less than one-fourth of the persons in the United States are farmers, while the other three-quarters are metropolitan.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation was organized right after the close of the World War with this idea in mind, and for the purpose of securing through legislation protection for American farmers.

MILLION MEMBERS LISTED

"Now the federation is composed of 1,000,000 members in 1800 farm bureaus, and in no other farm organization in the land can there be found a more general understanding of the fundamental problems of the farm today.

"The federation is looking ahead, as it has been ever since its inception, to this transition period, and through protective legislation, of which the recent tariff bill passage is a good example, is striving to retain home agriculture as an essential part of our national life."

Gray, who has been visiting States all over the nation in an effort to touch local problems at first hand, is spending two weeks in California.

HINDRANCE TO TARIFF LEGISLATION DECLARED

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 14.—American capital invested in foreign countries is the greatest hindrance to enacting protective tariff legislation for farm products, Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared yesterday in an address to farm leaders of Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, Los Angeles and Imperial counties.

Two transitions which the country has undergone since the World War are the chief causes of depression in agriculture, Gray maintained. Transition from an agricultural country to an industrial country and transition to the position of the richest nation in the world, with a consequent position of creditor nation, account for difficulties which the farmers of the United States are meeting today, the speaker said.

"KEEP FAITH IN YOUR CO-OPERATIVE," GRAY SAYS

ANAHEIM, Oct. 14.—More than 200 members of the Anaheim Farm Center last night were urged by Chester Gray, Washington representative of the Farm Bureau, to keep their faith in co-operative marketing.

Gray declared that succeeding years will witness consolidation of commercial effort, including marketing.

Following the program, the officers of the past year were re-elected. They are: President, L. B. Holderman; vice-president, Tim Shea, and treasurer, George Vandenberg.

ALHAMBRA GETS ADVICE ON WELLS

Pasadena City Board in Letter Says Purchase of Chapea Group Unwise

PASADENA, Oct. 14. — Advising the city of Alhambra against its proposed purchase of the Chapea Wells, located south of Lombardy Road, the Board of City Directors today addressed a communication to the Alhambra City Commission.

"Before any investment is made in the Chapea wells," recites the communication, "we wish to draw your attention to the fact that the wells draw upon an underground water basin which is already being overdrawn in excess of 9,000,000 gallons a day."

"In the Chapea wells, which flowed formerly with a head several feet above ground, the water level is now more than 100 feet below the surface, making it necessary for Pasadena to secure water elsewhere and at the same time to attempt to limit the draft from the basin to a safe yield.

"It appears certain, therefore, that the draft from the Chapea wells will have to be reduced, and that the net result of Alhambra's development of these wells would be an increased overdraft."

Chamber Holds Annual Dinner

ANAHEIM, Oct. 14.—Introduction of sixteen new members and an address by Rev. W. O. Trueblood of Whittier last night featured the annual dinner meeting of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, attended at the Elks' clubhouse by 170 men and women.

President Lotus H. Loudon declared that for the coming year the chamber will "work for anything that promises the upbuilding of Anaheim and will oppose anything that threatens its growth and prosperity." This was the only program offered.

Rev. Trueblood spoke on "Hitch Hikers," declaring that every community is infested with persons who are willing to ride along at the other fellow's expense.

AGED WOMAN OF UPLAND PASSES

UPLAND, Oct. 14. — One of Upland's oldest pioneers, Mrs. Mary Ann White, was laid to rest today in Bellevue Cemetery, Ontario, closing a life that extended over a period of ninety years, five months and twenty-eight days.

Mrs. White died at her home in Upland, 358 East C street, following an illness of two years, brought on by old age. She was a native of Bath, Eng., and before coming to California lived at Stewart, Iowa.

Mrs. White had been a widow for twenty-five years, and was widely known throughout the community as "Mother White."

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Elisabeth Lee of Stewart, Iowa; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank White of Chino; six sons, Herbert of Des Moines, Walter, in England; Robert, in Long Beach; A. T., Will and Harry, Ontario.

Funeral services were conducted from Stone's funeral home, Upland, with Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating minister.

TWO HELD IN FATAL CRASH

Mrs. Chris Olsen Succumbs to Injuries Incurred Near San Clemente; Three Other Persons Hurt

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Chris Olsen, 45 years of age, of 1460½ Dana street, Los Angeles, died in the San Clemente Hospital this morning from injuries received in an automobile accident late Sunday evening. Three other persons were injured and two are held in jail as asserted hit-and-run drivers.

Justine Rassmussen, 61, of the Dana-street address, is in a serious condition with head injuries. Chris Olsen received cuts and abrasions; Mrs. Rasmussen, 56, sustained a sprained ankle, dislocation of several ribs, cuts and bruises. All are confined in the hospital here. Mrs. Olsen died from crushed head, internal injuries, fractured leg, arm and jaw. Drs. Loe and Crandall of Oceanside assisted Dr. Garnet B. Grant in giving Mrs. Olsen a blood transfusion yesterday in an effort to save her life. Roy Divel of the San Clemente Funeral Home gave the blood.

Daniel Lohnes, 48, part owner of the Los Angeles Lime Company, residing at 450 South Almont Drive, Beverly Hills, and Leo Bohner, 29, truck driver, 794 East Eighteenth street, Los Angeles, are held in the Oceanside Jail for investigation as asserted hit-and-run drivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Humphrey, 1327 Ninety-first street, Los Angeles, were driving on the Coast Highway in Oceanside and witnessed the accident. They gave chase to the hit-and-run car and obtained the license number and description of the occupants. Then they notified the Oceanside police. It is asserted that the car driven by Lohnes sideswiped the machine in which were the two couples, forcing them off the highway into a palm tree.

Charles Goff, Chief of Police of Oceanside, notified the Orange county authorities and officers set out to capture the persons responsible. Deputy Sheriff Floyd Howard and John Stanton, Chief of Police of Tustin, arrested Loynes and Bohner in Tustin. Dr. R. A. Cushman, police surgeon, said that Lohnes was drinking.

Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold an inquest tomorrow at the Divel Funeral Home at 2 p.m.

ONE KILLED, ANOTHER HURT WHEN CAR FALLS

YUCAIPA, Oct. 14.—Ted Ritson, who has been working in the ice plant at Indio, was killed, and C. C. Gray of Hemet badly injured, early this morning when the car Ritson was driving went over a grade near the King laboratories here and dropped twenty-five feet into an arroyo. Ritson was caught under the car but Gray was thrown clear.

The body of Ritson was taken to the Cortner chapel in Redlands and Gray to the home of a brother there.

He was told to remain at the brother's home until called for an inquest but officers later found he had left and have been searching for him.

A quantity of fruit was found in the car and the officers will make an investigation regarding this. The sides of the arroyo were so steep that ropes had to be used in lifting out the body of Ritson. The father of Ritson lives at 8109 San Vicente Boulevard, Westgate, and has been been notified.

Bullet Pierces Glass of Car

REDLANDS, Oct. 14.—Dr. A. T. Gage, past president of the Rotary Club, is wondering if this city has been invaded by gangsters or racketeers. For this morning, while driving to his office from his home near Redlands Country Club, he heard a "zing," a pop, and then the whine of a bullet as it traveled close to his ear.

There in the windshield in front of him was a round hole left by the bullet as it plowed through the nonshatterable glass. Police believe it was some boy with a rifle, probably shooting at a target, and the bullet caromed from a rock.

THIEVES STRIP PLANE

BURBANK, Oct. 14.—Charles H. Kramb today notified Burbank police of the theft of a carburetor and a propeller hub from his airplane at the airport on Victory Boulevard and Clybourn avenue. Police say that in recent weeks thieves have made a practice of stripping airplanes instead of automobiles, and that Kramb's case is not unusual.

ROBBERY SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Charles and Robert Goltra in Pasadena Jail; Believed in Oxnard Job

PASADENA, Oct. 14. — Charles Goltra, 35 years of age, arrested here Sunday night on a raid on a woman companion's apartment at 48 South Chester avenue, today admitted, according to police, that he has indorsed and cashed some of the $800 worth of pay checks identified as the plunder obtained in a robbery at Oxnard early in September.

Coincident with the asserted confession, police received word that the sheriff at Oxnard had in custody on suspicion a man giving the name of Pat O'Reilly, and, accordingly, Goltra tonight was sent there for further questioning. According to Detectives Burlingame and Cheek, who made the arrest, Goltra disclaimed all knowledge of the robbery, stating the checks he cashed had been given him by a man he said he knew only as Sage. Police believe Sage and O'Reilly may prove to be the same person.

At the time of Goltra's arrest the detectives found in the Chester-avenue apartment a revolver which they say was stolen during the Oxnard hold-up. Despite this link, however, Goltra maintained his innocence.

Meanwhile police are holding here Goltra's brother, Raymond, booked on suspicion of robbery. Raymond, it developed today, also was taken in custody Sunday night. Learning of his brother's arrest, he had gone to a Glendale apartment-house, where police say Charles had been living with a woman. An argument with the landlady over payment of rent as Raymond and the woman attempted to move, resulted in arrival of Glendale police. They questioned the two and turned Raymond over to police here, but released the woman.

It is the intention of local police later to interrogate the brothers concerning the recent $6000 Pacific Electric pay roll robbery here and a hold-up in which an Annandale Golf Club official was forced to drive the bandits to Los Angeles.

He was pulled unconscious from the water by fellow-workmen, and had not regained consciousness this evening.

First of Cabins for Veterans of War Ready

REDLANDS, Oct. 14.—The first of twelve cabins to be erected at the Victorville Hospital for disabled veterans of the World War has just been completed by the members of Redlands post of the American Legion.

Eleven other posts of the Legion in this county will erect cabins similar to this. Besides this, the officers of the Victor Cement Company after seeing the cabin decided to raise funds to build one.

The cabin has been placed directly back of the Victorville Hospital, about a mile beyond Victorville. It will be ready for occupancy in two weeks when the sanitary arrangements for the entire group will be completed.

Painted white, with brown trim, the building is attractive. It contains accommodations for two veterans, with individual clothes closets, sanitary facilities, and a joint shower. Inside and out, for purpose of insulation, the building has been finished with spruce pulp board.

Cost of the cabin was $567, exclusive of the volunteer work done by the Legion members. Originally it was figured that $450 worth of material would build the cabin.

CHINESE PHEASANTS FRE...

More Than 200 Fowl Released in Riverside C... by State Game Bird Farm

CHINO, Oct. 14.—California's game bird farm at the Country Club property, south of here, is continuing its work of "planting" game birds throughout Southern California, by releasing nearly 200 Chinese ring-necked pheasants in Riverside county.

The pheasants were released on the Rubidoux rancho in West Riverside by E. D. Platt, director of the State game farm at Chino. Members of Riverside Izaak Walton League chapter assisted Director Platt in freeing the birds.

Platt, after careful study of the Riverside community, decided the river lands ideal for liberating the birds, and there the large coops were opened and the pheasants given their freedom.

Members of the Izaak Walton League chapters of California are co-operating closely with the State Fish and Game Commission in protecting the game birds liberated from the game farms. Platt said. The fine of $500 or six months in jail provided by law for killing pheasants will be ... leagues in each ... hunters are caught ...

Assertions that ... damage to tomato ... den crops are refuted by ... Platt, who said that ... contention that pheasants ... tomato plants a large ... shot in a tomato patch ... ternal contents ... of tomato worms ... no traces of ... matoes.

Other game birds ... ated in the Southern ... Chino game farm, and ... be given their freedom ... vals. Wild turkeys have ... loose in the San Bernardino ... cains, and are ... ing satisfactorily.

Ford

 Of all the features of the new Ford there is none more important than reliability. It is a reflection of the substantial worth of the car.*

Evidence of the high quality built into the Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. From the engine to the road, the entire drive of the new Ford on all forward speeds is wholly on ball and roller bearings.

In addition to smoother operation, this saves gasoline, gives the car more speed and power, decreases noise and increases the durability and efficiency of every moving part.

Another important factor in good performance is the care with which the car is made. The aluminum pistons are an interesting example of precision manufacture.

Though weighing more than a pound each, they are made so accurately that they do not vary more than two grams in weight. In size they are held true to within one one-thousandth of an inch. The wrist-pin holes in the pistons are diamond bored to within a limit of three ten-thousandths of an inch. In each motor, complete piston and connecting-rod assemblies are not permitted to vary from each other by more than 3½ grams.

Throughout the car you find many other instances of this same accuracy in the manufacture and assembly of vital mechanical parts. Combined with simplicity of design and high quality of materials, it is the reason for the economy and long life of the car and the satisfactory service it is giving millions of owners the world over.

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the new Ford. You will know then that it brings you everything you want or need in an automobile at an unusually low price.

Creameries of America, Inc., Invades Honolulu

Extensive Holding Company on Island Acquired

Other Purchases Predicted for Near Future

Creameries of America, Inc., organized in Los Angeles a year ago, and which operates throughout twelve States, has acquired the Honolulu Dairymen's Association, Ltd., Honolulu, a $2,000,000 holding company, S. H. Berch, president, announced yesterday.

The Honolulu Dairymen's Association is a large distributor of ice cream, milk, butter and other forms of dairy products. It owns the Oahu Ice and Cold Storage Company on the island, manufacturing most of the ice cream consumed in that territory. It handles imports of perishable goods from the United States, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippine Islands, and also owns the Rawley Ice Cream Company, Ltd. The Hawaiian operation also embraces imports of cattle sold to dairymen on the island and does an extensive feed business.

PROFITS ESTIMATED

The Honolulu association should increase the annual earnings of Creameries of America to at least $800,000, Mr. Berch stated. For the first nine months this year the combined group of plants exclusive of the Honolulu unit reported earnings of approximately $600,000. Sales volume, including the Honolulu property, is close to $6,500,000 annually, with total assets of about $6,500,000. About 1200 employees are on the pay roll.

Negotiations are now in progress for acquisition of other properties which will raise the earnings of the company, Mr. Berch said, to more than $1,000,000 per year. After giving effect to the Honolulu acquisition Creameries of America will have approximately 370,000 shares of common stock outstanding. There is no other class of stock or fixed charges of any nature. As yet the company has had no public financing. The company will apply for listing the stock on the major exchanges when market conditions improve, Mr. Berch said.

ACTIVITIES WIDESPREAD

Twenty-six important companies now constitute the holdings of Creameries of America, Inc., these being in Dairies, Inc., St. Louis; Midwest Dairies, Inc., El Paso; Mid-Western Dairy Products Company, Salt Lake City; Grays Harbor Dairy Products Company, Aberdeen, Wash.; Kern County Creamery and Farms Company, Bakersfield; Tulare Creamery Company, Tulare; Crown City Dairy, California, and Honolulu Dairymen's Association, Ltd., and Rawley's Ice Cream Company, Honolulu.

Mr. Berch expects to announce shortly further interesting developments which are now under negotiation.

"Present adverse business conditions will not deter the principals of Creameries of America, Inc., from continuing on with their plans for additional acquisitions under a policy which will provide further diversification of Creameries of America holdings with consequent greater protection to those who are holders of its securities," he said.

The Creameries of American organization will be materially strengthened through the addition of Stanley McKenzie, president of the Honolulu Dairymen's Association, Ltd., according to Mr. Berch. He has been elected to the board of Creameries of America, Inc., and brings with him an efficient staff. Mr. Berch stated. He will continue in charge of the Hawaiian unit.

Production Up

Daily production of oil from the Venice field increased over the week-end and yesterday was at the rate of 24,100 barrels. W. T. Mason, independent operator, reported that his No. 1, near the corner of Fortieth avenue and Trolleyway, was completed at the rate of 850 barrels daily.

The Gant Oil Company's No. 1 at Venice came in for an initial yield of 350 barrels daily and the Mohawk Petroleum Company's No. D-2 has started producing. A gauge of its output may be possible today or tomorrow. The Speedway Oil Company's No. 1 was completed for approximately 900 barrels of oil a day from the deep sand.

Southern Rail to Hold Rate

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—Southern Railway hopes and expects to maintain the present common dividend in spite of decreased business, Fairfax Harrison, president, told stockholders at the annual meeting today. The board was re-elected.

Earnings from operations this year to date have been sufficient to cover operating expenses and preferred dividends, but not sufficient for any payment on the common stock, Mr. Harrison said. Other income from Southern's investments for this year is expected to equal about 5 per cent on the common stock and the management will dip into previous-year earnings to make the 8 per cent common dividend, he stated.

AYRES HOPEFUL ON TREND

Cleveland Expert Finds Business Decline Stopped; Is Encouraged That Status Not Getting Worse

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Col. Leonard P. Ayres, the Cleveland business sage, is not yet ready to prophesy a recovery of international business from the trough of depression. He does, nevertheless, note the encouraging sign that business activity is no longer slowing down; that at least it is not getting worse.

Writing in his monthly review for the Cleveland Trust Company of which he is vice-president, Col. Ayres points out increased activity in business in the last thirty days, but analyzes the improvement as only of normal seasonal proportions.

CHANGES SLIGHT

He finds that more coal was produced in September than in August; more freight was carried on the railroads; and more steel was made and fabricated. Only small changes, however, were recorded from July to August and from August to September by the standard indexes of business activity.

"It seems probable," cautiously comments this economist, "that we have reached the bottom of the depression, but there is no sure method for estimating how long the bottom may prove to be. Already this depression has lasted rather longer than have most of the major depressions of recent decades, and that is one good reason for believing that some measure of improvement is likely to develop before long."

This depression has already lasted fourteen months, according to Col. Ayres's computations. This period of time compares with a duration of twelve months for the first three of the seven major depressions in the last forty years; with ten months for the 1907 decline; fifteen months for the prewar and twelve months for the post-war depressions.

YIELDS COMPARED

Col. Ayres, in discussing yields on stocks, carefully refrains from expressing an opinion on whether yields are yet low enough to warrant investment purchases at or near the bottom of the price decline. He merely notes that previous bear markets show wide variation in yields, ranging from the highest monthly average in 1903 of 5.5 per cent; 7.5 per cent in 1907; 6.5 per cent at the outbreak of the war; 9.2 per cent in the 1917 market, and 8.9 per cent in the 1921 decline. The average for September of this year was 5.7 per cent for all classes of stocks combined.

Turning to specific industries, he sounds a note of hope for the tire manufacturers who have been as badly hit as any line of industry. Because millions of American automobiles are going into the autumn and winter with worn tires in reflection of the tendency of buyers to defer purchases, Col. Ayres believes the first days of warm weather will bring a pronounced demand for new tires. A real shortage of tires, in his opinion, will exist which will considerably improve the fortunes of tire makers.

Relative to prices, he concludes the diminishing rate of decline indicates the early appearance of price stability, which he regards as one of the most hopeful items of evidence to suggest the country is at or nearing the bottom of the long depression.

Net Earnings of Advertising Company Lower

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—General Outdoor Advertising Company, Inc., and subsidiaries for the quarter ended September 30, last, today reported net profits of $437,231 after charges and Federal taxes, equal after preferred dividend requirements and under the participating provisions of Class A stock to 42 cents a share on 642,383 no-par common shares as against $804,296, or 91 cents a common share in the third quarter of last year.

Net profits for the nine months ended September 30, last, were $439,915, equal after preferred dividend requirements to $2.50 a share on Class A stock as against $1,566,810 in the 1929 period, equal after preferred dividend requirements and under participating provisions of the Class A shares to $1.63 a share on the common stock.

Contracts taken in September were $4,900,000 greater than the largest amount secured in any one month in the history of the company, Kerwin H. Fulton, president, stated in pointing out it has been the experience of the management that fluctuations in volume of sales have foretold by several months any general business depression or revival.

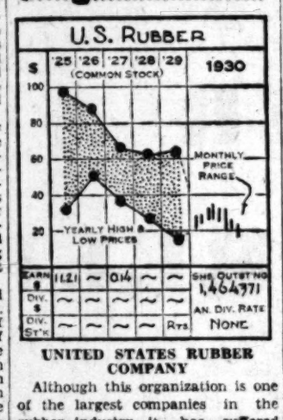
WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY

Although this organization is one of the largest companies in the rubber industry, it has suffered from demoralized rubber prices and excessive competition prevailing in the tire field in the past few years and during this time has been undergoing a process of readjustment and plant centralization that should enable it to operate at a profit in the future. An extensive line of rubber goods, aside from tires, includes footwear, rubber clothing and sheeting, flooring, chemicals, fiber products and latex sprayed rubber. Du Pont management is aggressively consolidating manufacturing operations and aims at centering tire production about Detroit, mechanical goods at Passaic, N. J.; clothing at Cambridge, Mass.; miscellaneous products at Providence, R. I., and footwear at Naugatuck, Ct. It is expected that this program will require several years for completion.

A deficit of $3.16 reported for the year 1929 showed considerable improvement over the $21.95 deficit of 1928, but in the first half of the current year a deficit of $3.69 compares with a $1.40 deficit reported in the 1929 six months.

Net of Jantzen Knitting Mills Best on Record

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. (Exclusive)—Jantzen Knitting Mills has concluded the best year in its history, both in point of sales and profit, showing net earnings of $699,156, which is equal to $6.57 per share on the common stock. This compares with net of $649,809, or $6.10 per common share, reported for the 1929 fiscal year. The remarkable results shown in the 1930 fiscal year, which closed August 31, are believed to have been the basis for announcing the two-for-one stock split recently.

Net sales during the year just closed appear in the report for the 1930 year at $4,753,203, as compared with $4,103,413 in 1929. This report shows an increase of approximately $650,000 for the year and more than double the $2,157,070 total reported for the 1926 year. European business increased $191,100 last year, the report reveals, which is equivalent to a gain of 36 per cent.

Addition of the new London plant, which will start operating about November 1, will provide means for further increasing European volume.

Total assets of Jantzen have shown substantial increase during the past few years. According to the present report, total assets as of August 31, 1930, were $3,386,873, as against $2,726,206 at the close of the 1929 year and $1,150,754 in 1926.

Canada Broker Concern Fails

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—Current downward moves in stock exchange values resulted today in the failure of J. Pitblado & Co., members of the Montreal Stock Exchange and Montreal Curb market. The firm started in 1902. Total liabilities are in the neighborhood of $1,150,000, while assets are less than $700,000.

Indications tonight were that creditors could expect only 50 cents on the dollar. The failure followed when new low prices on all leading Canadian stocks were touched yesterday and this morning.

MOORE LEAVING FOR BUSINESS TRIP EAST

Robert Moore, head of Moore, Hull & Evans, Inc., members of the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges, is leaving today for an extended business trip in the East. He will be gone for about three weeks, visiting in New York City, and in addition will visit Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo and San Francisco.

"The number of shareholders has increased 70,000 since the first of the year. The total at the end of September was 540,000."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—An opening decline of some 18 to 20 points under southern selling and in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables was followed by rallies on trade buying and covering in cotton here today. INSULL PROGRAM CHEERING

Utility Chief's Announcement of Expansion Plan for Coming Months Encouraging News

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Samuel Insull's statement that his companies will spend more than $200,000,000 in 1930, and the same amount for next year, shows the enormous extent to which the public utilities under his direction have grown.

Samuel Insull, 71 years of age, born in London, Eng., began his amazing career in the public utility field first by getting interested in electricity in 1881 as private secretary to Thomas A. Edison.

It was while he represented Mr. Edison in the organization and management of the Electric Tube Company, the Electric Machine Works, the Edison Lamp Company and other Edison companies that Mr. Insull began to see the vast possibilities in the public utility field. He resigned the vice-presidency of the General Electric Company in 1892 to become president of the Chicago Edison Company, which in 1907 was merged with the Commonwealth Edison Company. In recent years Mr. Insull has been the outstanding figure in public utilities in the Middle West.

Now when other industries are curtailing Mr. Insull announces that his companies will keep all of their operating employees who attend to their business and will spend for construction betterments 30 per cent more this year than in 1929, and as much again in 1931.

"While we will try to keep all of our people employed, the disposition to curtail what might be called the frills of the business, and see that we get a full day's work for a full day's pay, is inevitable," says Mr. Insull.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's statement before the New York Bond Club that the time has come for reconsidering Germany's reparation payments has received very little attention from the Allied governments or from the American press.

Even the German press has been disposed to let the matter ride upon the theory that the next step in the revision should come from the Allies, who are now suffering as great business depression as Germany.

But the reparation question is not yet settled. Germany's 3,000,000 unemployed and Britain's 2,161,000 unemployed, the highest since 1921, show that the overloaded debt condition of Europe is holding back business recovery.

German financiers think the world will be forced to recognize this before many more months pass.

The automobile figures for the first eight months show a total of 2,836,000 cars produced this year, as against 4,448,000 last year.

But the sales tell a much better story! This year, for the first eight months, 2,950,000 cars were disposed of by the car manufacturers, as against 4,240,000 last year. Thus the manufacturers sold during this period 114,000 more cars than they produced, as against last year, when they sold 208,000 cars less than they produced.

This does not show up badly at all for the present condition of the industry; and, while the upturn has not come, the different manufacturing units are getting their houses in order, preparing for some good times ahead.

STAATS OPTIMISTIC ON BOND MARKET

Indicated by fundamental factors and confirmed by the course of quotations, bond prices have projected the advance which has been in the making for many months, says a bond survey issued yesterday by William R. Staats Company.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Activity in the bond market fell off sharply today as liquidation pursued its vigorously last week showed further signs of abatement. Domestic bonds lost ground and the foreign list moved irregularly.

Bargain hunters attracted by the drastic declines in Latin-American issues forced an upturn in some of the most active issues of Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Peru, Colombia and Uruguay.

Latin-American issues showing the best recovery included Brazil 6½s of '26-'57 and '27-'57, up 4 and 2 points, respectively.

Rio De Janeiro 6½s dropped 3 points to a new year's low at 48.

The domestic list moved lower. Railroad bonds were among the most reactionary. Southern Pacific 4s lost a point. American & Foreign Power 5s rallied more than a point.

United States governments were firm.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Leaders of Market Close Strong While Group of Inactives Slips to Lower Points

Under an unusually light volume of trading security prices were allowed to drift irregularly lower when trading was resumed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday after a two-day closing interval. While prices softened for a number of issues not called for trading during the recent break the more popular stocks maintained a firm level and closed strong.

Union Oil, Union Associates, Southern California Edison, Transamerica and Claude Neon recorded a fractional improvement at the close while Standard Oil of California, Richfield and Rio Grande were unchanged. Pacific Finance touched another new low at 15 1-4 and closed at 16.

National Bank of Commerce, an inactive issue not called during the recent market slump, crossed the board at 29 3-4 to record a drop of 5 1-4 points. Only a few shares were traded. International Re-Insurance hit a new low at 33, down 2 points and Pacific Mutual, yielding ½, marked a new bottom at 68½. Security-First National Bank held above 100 and closed later at 100 even for a net loss of 1-4.

Union Oil and and Union Associates were the principal traders of the session, each issue selling around 3000 shares. The former ranged between 32 1-4 and 31 closing at 31 3-4, up ½ net and the latter after hitting a low at 29 7-8 closed high for the day at 31, up 3-4 net.

Standard Oil of California, Edison, Richfield and Rio Grande closed at the highest levels for the session. Transamerica ended at 18, up 1-8 net, after having reached 18 1-4 earlier.

Emsco yielding 1-4 established a new low mark at 12 1-4. Bolsa Chica firmed up 1-8 to 11½ and Hancock Oil dipped 1-4 to 10 1-4 on light trading.

Sales totaled 18,712 shares valued at $546,455; previous day, 16,186 shares valued at $540,421.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—The curb market sold off substantially only to rebound in its more active spots today, leading at the close.

The day's sales aggregated 776,300 shares. The wider declines were easily traded and represented lack of bids rather than urgent liquidation.

Oils recovered substantially after early heaviness, apparently reflecting the action of the Oklahoma Supreme Court in upholding the constitutionality of the State's conservation law. Cities Service sold off nearly 2 point, then rallied to close up 1/8. Gulf retained most of a 2-point drop. Indiana was off a fraction.

Electric Bond & Share declined 2 points then rallied to close about 2 net higher. American Gas & Electric and Middle West Utilities closed about a point higher. Power Company of Canada dropped 13 points.

Cuere dropped more than 7 points and closed off 4¾.

Prince & Whitney Trading preferred dropped more than 3 points to 12. Goldman Sachs closed steady.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

PORT YARD MAY GET LINER JOB

Panama Mail Contract Still Open on Four

New Bids Filed on Lot by Local Company

Material Change in Design Basis of Action

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation yet stands a chance of landing the job of building the four $4,000,000 Panama Mail liners, according to word from shipyard officials yesterday.

New bids have gone to New York from the local yards, and will be opened the 21st inst., based on changed specifications, varying materially from the design of the Santa Clara. These variations are the main hope of western yards, otherwise it is said the New York Shipbuilding Company, which constructed the Santa Clara, would be assured all four jobs. The bids were to have been opened yesterday, but were delayed in deference to western representations.

Whether these jobs are obtained or not, however, sentiment along Spring street is declared crystallizing on the need of backing local shipbuilding, and other contracts will be sought with the support of Los Angeles business behind the yards. The harbor industrial committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has entered actively into the movement to aid such industry.

"Big repair yards are absolutely vital if our shipping is to grow commensurately with our port and we are going to do everything we can to help stimulate shipyard activity," declared Franklin Cole of that committee. He was reluctant to reveal what these activities are, but it was indicated business men frowned on any forms of subsidy, such as San Francisco proposes to offset lower bids by eastern yards. In fact, shipping men say San Francisco's proposal is not meeting with unanimity.

TWO SHIPS BOUGHT FOR ENSENADA TRADE

The former fast "Mystery Q" ships Guerrero and Chihuahua are to be brought here from San Francisco next week for reconditioning and impressment into the passenger run between San Pedro and Ensenada, it was announced yesterday by Noel Pemberto-Billing.

Mr. Billing yesterday had ninety artisans rushing reconditioning on the Chiapas, which he will put on the run from San Diego to Ensenada the 24th inst. The Chiapas and the other two are to carry excursionists to Jack Dempsey's new Hotel Playa Ensenada, just opened at the Mexican resort town.

The Chiapas has been rebuilt into a daylight-run ship, with a host of public rooms, and even a cafeteria, while the old bar from the California Club has been installed bodily. The plan is to run the ship down from San Diego in the morning, and back that night.

The Guerrero and the Chihuahua will be over-night ships from San Pedro, the two maintaining sailings from here nightly. Each will accommodate upwards of 200 passengers.

Mr. Billing said he also will have three smaller craft, ranging from sixty to ninety feet in length, one an express cruiser carrying twenty-six passengers and capable of making the San Diego-Ensenada run in ninety minutes.

Crowly towboat No. 9, dispatched from here the 10th inst., yesterday was expected to contact the 105-foot fish boat Asama, disabled near Magdalena Bay, and would return with her early next week. Spare parts also were taken for the tug Woodman, which first had been sent to the Asama, but was caught in the tail-end of the recent hurricane and suffered a breakdown.

Hamburg-American Line's big turbiner Vancouver will arrive at the port this morning on her second voyage in European-Pacific trade, with Capt. Heinrich Carstens on the bridge. She will dock at Berth 228-E, in the Terminal Island area, her 2000 tons of cargo to be handled at the North German Lloyd terminals.

From Hamburg, Bremen, Antwerp and London, she is bringing a full list of passengers, with twenty-six to disembark here.

Lassco's flagship City of Los Angeles will arrive from Honolulu Friday morning with 110 passengers and after discharging her 3000 tons of freight, will sail back for the islands Saturday noon, embarking 150 passengers and a fair cargo of machinery, canned goods and building material.

It was reported yesterday that the steamer City of Honolulu, recently re-purchased by the Los Angeles Steamship Company following her fire at Honolulu, will be brought to this port soon, either for salvaging or reconditioning.

Local Trade Tone Mixed

Business of the larger downtown stores is showing a small steady improvement while smaller dealers report sales considerably behind last year's volume for the month of October to date, the Bradstreet weekly summary reported yesterday. Buying continues restricted for immediate needs and while sales in numbers are better than a month ago amounts are smaller, the report stated.

Production in Southern California oil fields still continues to exceed demand with Playa Del Ray, one of the newest fields, showing the greatest activity with an estimated daily production of 21,000 barrels, a gain of 1000 a day over the previous week. Retail gasoline prices are firm. The Coachella Valley date crop is estimated at 1,500,000 pounds, an increase of 500,000 pounds over last year. The walnut crop is reported in good condition with the output estimated 30 per cent lower than 1929 with prices to average about 1 cent a pound higher. Opening prices are 23 cents a pound for No. 1 to 18½ cents a pound for emerald medium budded.

WIFE OF GOVERNOR TO REPRESENT HIM

Mrs. Raymundo Enriquez

TWO-NATION ROAD MEET OPENS HERE

Woman Delegate Sent by Mexico State to Confab on Pacific Highway

With the opening of the first International Pacific Highway Conference this morning at the Automobile Club of Southern California, there will be one woman, Mrs. Raymundo Enriquez, wife of the Governor of the Mexican State of Chiapas, who will appear as the representative of the Governor with twenty-five other delegates to the conference.

Mrs. Enriquez arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with her staff of highway engineers and will confer with the governors of three Mexican States and other delegates to the highway meeting. She was chosen when the pressure of State business kept her husband in his capital.

The major feature of the conference will be consideration of the Pacific International Highway from Nogales to Mexico City, a distance of nearly 1600 miles, much of which is now in place. A second feature of the conference will be a practical demonstration to the Mexican representatives of the types of highways that have been built in Southern California.

Officials of the Automobile Club who arranged the conference yesterday said that an effort will be made to give the delegates from Mexico information on the growth of sections of this State where highways have recently been constructed and point out to them the possibilities of the growth of tourist travel into Mexico with the construction of the proposed highway route.

Tours of the southern portion of the State will be started on Sunday and will include a route through San Diego, El Centro, Barstow and Mojave.

Yesterday an informal conference between the Mexican delegates was held at the Biltmore with Gov. Filiberto Gomez of the State of Mexico, Gov. Francisco Elias of Sonora and Mrs. Enriquez, wife of the Governor of Chiapas, and their staffs of technical engineers and secretaries laid first plans for the conference.

"The agitation for a national highway system is well under way in Mexico," Gov. Gomez declared last night, "and there is particular interest on the west coast for a Pacific highway.

"We are coming here with the hope that we will be able to secure the moral support of not only the Automobile Club of Southern California, but of the people of the State of California as well."

Mrs. Enriquez, who has come to the conference as the representative of her husband, the Governor, last night expressed the hope that the 1931 Mexican tour of the Automobile Club will be continued from Mexico City into her own State of Chiapas, on the Guatemalan border.

She said that some roads have already been built through the

TAX COLLECTION TO START SOON

Bills Will Be Mailed Out by Welch Next Monday

First Installment Becomes Delinquent December 5

Approximately $126,000,000 Assessed Owners

Collection of the first installment of taxes due for the fiscal year of 1930-31 will commence on the 27th inst., it was announced yesterday from the office of Tax Collector Welch.

The taxes to be collected include all those on personal property secured by real property and one-half of the taxes on real property. These taxes, according to law, become due and payable on November 1, next, but at the option of the tax collector and on publication of the notice required by law they may be collected in advance, Chief Deputy Alfonso stated.

TO BE MAILED MONDAY

Publication of the required notice for a period of ten days will begin today and the tax bills will be mailed out next Monday, Alfonso said.

While the Tax Collector's office is not yet in receipt of the total tax to be collected, it is estimated that it will be approximately $126,000,000, of which about 60 per cent will comprise the first installment. This is compared with the total of $125,750,455.80 collected last year of which close to $71,475,000 was collected as a first installment.

First-installment taxes become delinquent if unpaid by 5 p.m. on Friday, December 5, next, at which time a penalty of 10 per cent is added. If still unpaid by April 20, 1931, an additional penalty of 5 per cent is added. The total taxes due may be paid at the time of the first installment.

SECOND HALF JANUARY 20

The second installment, consisting of the remaining one-half of taxes on real property, becomes due and payable on Tuesday, January 20, 1931. The second installment becomes delinquent and subject to a penalty and service charge on April 20, 1931.

Alfonso pointed out that the regular State and county tax bills will be mailed to the address given on the assessment rolls for all properties which have been listed for assessment with the County Assessor for the current year's taxes. Should taxpayers not receive bills on any or all properties upon which they desire to pay before November 5 next, such bills must be obtained at the County Tax Collector's office and taxpayers should not further delay in obtaining them, it was stated.

DAY SET FOR STARTING OF BEACH PIER

Santa Monica Project to Draw Official Interest on Tuesday, 28th Inst.

With crowds lining the Palisades and a great array of officials in attendance, the first pile will be driven Tuesday, the 28th inst., in the great pier-extension project undertaken at Santa Monica, C. F. De Witt, president of the Santa Monica Harbor Company, yesterday announced.

The Santa Monica Realty Board, the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce and representatives of many private concerns supporting the work will be on hand. There will be fireworks at night and a banquet at the Deauville Club.

Officers of the Santa Monica Harbor Company in addition to President De Witt, were announced yesterday. They are Taggart Ashton, vice-president; Douglas L. Skelly, treasurer, and C. E. Hewing, secretary. Members of the advisory board are Frank A. Garbutt, Harry Chandler, William May Garland, Norman Chandler, Claude L. Parker.

The plans are for the immediate construction of pontoons and cribs to form the 3000-foot breakwater. The first unit of 1500 feet is to be completed, if possible, by June 1, next. The Los Angeles Athletic Club has taken an option to buy 1200 feet of the breakwater.

McNABB NAMES AIDE

Announcement was made yesterday by U. S. Atty. McNabb that he has appointed Milo E. Rowell, Fresno attorney, as assistant United States Attorney. Mr. Rowell will handle governmental civil matters.

Gigantic Searchlights Reveal "Enemy" Planes

Army Maneuvers Spectacular

Supreme Court Finally Decides Long Drawnout Fight Over Taxation Issue

Uncertainty of the status of residents of the Barnes City area, lying along Washington Boulevard between Culver City and Venice, was settled yesterday when the State Supreme Court held that the territory is within the incorporated limits of Los Angeles and property owners must pay city taxes.

Litigation as to the exact status of the territory has been under way since a complaint was filed in February, 1927. The case pertained to the question of whether the Barnes City area is a part of Los Angeles city or Los Angeles county.

The question of status was carried through Superior, Appellate and finally the Supreme Court in an action brought by residents who contended they reside in Los Angeles county and asked a final decision. They petitioned the high court asking that they be assessed the lower county taxes on the ground that the territory was not actually incorporated.

Barnes City came into being out of territory along Washington Boulevard where the Al G. Barnes circus had winter quarters. It was incorporated early in 1926. Some months later it was consolidated with Los Angeles by a vote of the residents. A suit followed shortly on grounds that the area never was a legally incorporated city and the action of the residents void.

During the hearing the status of the district has moved from city to county and back again. Taxes for the district, due November 1, will be based on the decision of the Supreme Court, according to authorities.

ALDEN KINDRED MEET

The fall meeting of the Alden Kindred of California, consisting of twenty-three direct descendants of John Alden, who came to America in the Mayflower, was held last night in the studio of Adele Hatcher-Smith, 642 South Berendo street. Fred Home Alden of Orange is president. The orchestra of Frank Denman Olney, a member of the kindred, provided music.

"ENEMY" BOMBERS SCORE

Attacking Planes Slip Past Outposts and Drop Flares Over Airport in Mimic Warfare

Successfully slipping past two lines of observation outposts and batteries of protecting antiaircraft guns three giant bombers of the United States Army Air Corps hovered over Los Angeles and United Airport, Burbank, last night to score the first definite victory for the Red forces that are playing at war with the defensive Blues in a three-day tactical problem.

Its two 600-horsepower engines idling, the first air leviathan loosed its parachute flare—dropped to simulate a 2000-pound bomb—squarely over the airport before the nest of antiaircraft observers knew the ship was in the sky.

Within a few seconds after the flare burst, five fingers of blue-white lights from the Sixty-third Coast Artillery searchlights swept the heavens, but the Red attacker was too high and her slipped homeward to Rockwell Field, San Diego, his mission completed.

That was at 8 p.m. Twenty minutes later without warning another flare lighted up the sky. It was the second Red bomb. Its release ship was also too high for the searching fingers of light to spot and the plane made good its escape.

THIRD SPOTTED

But the third attacking bomber did not fare so well. Just as it let go its supposed load of destruction, the ground force spotted it, and it was caught in the vortex of five giant lamps. The defenders believe they would have shot it to earth, that is, if their batteries had not been cleaned out by the attack of the two sister ships that came over earlier.

The Red pilots declared that the third ship was much lower than the other two and that the ground forces would have been helpless had it held to the altitude of the first attackers.

During the day the Blue forces were successful in repelling two attacks of the Reds—but not before one "Red" bomber nearly reached its objective. In the daytime maneuver the Blue forces were aided by six pursuit ships, but the latter craft did not take to the air for the night engagement.

Word was flashed from the Oceanside outpost of the Blues that two bombers—attached to the Seventh Bombardment Group—were making their way northward, one at an al-

ASSEMBLY DECISION DUE SOON

Appeals Court Pledges to Decide Quickly in Row of Hill and McGinley

With the promise of a speedy decision, Division Two, District Court of Appeals, yesterday took under submission the election fight between Ben A. Hill and Frank McGinley, opposing candidates in the race for Assemblyman for the Seventy-second Assembly District in the primary election.

Hill was victorious in the election by a margin of eleven votes. McGinley instituted an action in Superior Court, whereby he sought a recount. Hill, after several sorties in the Superior Court, appealed to the Appellate Court, seeking to prevent the lower court from proceeding to trial with a contest.

The appellant maintains that the Superior Court lost jurisdiction because McGinley did not proceed within the time provided by law.

JULIAN TRIALS' CURTAIN FALLS

Superior Court Dismisses Last Criminal Actions

Judge Schauer Says That "Justice Has Failed"

Only Conviction Recorded That of Berman

"The defendants are discharged and bail exonerated."

With these words Superior Judge Schauer yesterday morning closed the last of the criminal actions which grew out of the Julian Petroleum Corporation crash of more than three years ago.

For the overissue of Julian stock the records disclose there have been no convictions, and with the exception of Jacob Berman, convicted on three counts of forgery, no convictions of any kind directly connected with the financial juggling which wrecked the oil company were ever obtained.

Alvin Frank, I. L. Roupe, Adolph Ramish, H. F. MacKay, Jr., C. E. Reese, R. M. Reese, Motley Flint, Jacob Berman, S. C. Lewis and Ed H. Rosenberg, all named as defendants, and charged with conspiracy to violate the Corporate Securities Act in connection with the sale of overissued stock, were named in the motion to dismiss presented by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and granted by Judge Schauer.

DISMISSAL GROUNDS

The motion for Rosenberg, Lewis, Berman, the two Reeses and Rouse came on the grounds of former jeopardy.

Frank, Ramish and MacKay escaped trial because of the lack of evidence.

Flint's name was removed from the records because of his murder by Frank Keaton.

It was after Fitts and his chief deputy, Robert Stewart, had made the motions for dismissal that Judge Schauer condemned from the bench the practice of returning indictments without proper evidence.

"I believe that it would be a gross waste of the taxpayers' money to proceed with a long drawn-out trial," declared Judge Schauer. Then he continued:

"JUSTICE HAS FAILED"

"The net result of justice in the Julian cases has been the conviction of one lone defendant. Justice has failed; these are the last of the Julian cases; there can be no more.

"I hope the Julian case has suffered its last exhumation, and I hope that now it shall remain forever buried.

"I cannot see how any grand jury properly advised could have returned indictments such as these without violating their oath as grand jurors."

The indictments dismissed yesterday were returned a number of months ago together with more than a score of usury indictments all dealing with various phases of the Julian crash. They were voted by the grand jury following testimony given by Jacob Berman.

LENGTHY TRIALS

Lengthy trials of the first group of usury indictments resulted in verdicts of not guilty and then the rest were dismissed. Then yesterday came the end of the overissue charges.

In his motion for a dismissal the District Attorney made it plain to the court that the death of Motley Flint left the prosecution in a position where convictions could not be obtained.

The former jeopardy plea which won the dismissal of six of the defendants yesterday came as the result of the first Julian trial which resulted in verdicts of not guilty and then developed into the scandal which sent former Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Ed Rosenberg to prison for bribery.

Yesterday morning the cases were called by Superior Judge Crawford, but were transferred by order of Presiding Judge Wood to Judge Schauer's court.

Bicknell Choice Given Approval

Mayor Porter's nomination of M. J. Bicknell, real estate broker, as a member of the City Planning Commission to succeed Donald M. Baker, resigned, was confirmed yesterday by the City Council on recommendation of the City Planning Committee.

Bicknell lives at 515 Molden street. He is married. He came here from Iowa twenty-two years ago.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Bundy Drive from Norman Place to Bowling Green Way and for the sewering of Huston street between Lankershim Boulevard and Bellefloower avenue.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE riots in Berlin are as dangerous to the rest of Europe as to Berlin.

The present conditions in Berlin show the beauties and benefits of having made the world safe for democracy. In ten years Germany has been changed from the sheet anchor of Western Europe into a dynamite bomb.

It isn't a matter of sociological theory; it is a plain matter of military strategy. Russia has always been the threat of Europe. Some years ago Henry Norman, M.P., wrote: "At every frontier in Europe the sentries challenge, 'Who goes there?' and the answer is 'Russia.'"

Russia's military elasticity and mobility were until now crippled to the point of military paralysis by the close proximity of the German frontier, by the presence of what military men call "a force in being."

Woodrow Wilson and the peace conferees at Versailles made a grand mess of of readjusting Europe.

MOVIE VANDALISM

Whoever gave a permit to the Pathe Company to blow up the cliffs in Dinosaur Canyon, where the disastrous explosion took place, should have his head examined and somebody else should get his job.

These cliffs on the Navajo reservation contain priceless relics of antiquity. Last year Gilbert Gable discovered hundreds of authentic dinosaur tracks buried deep between rock strata in just such cliffs.

That these valuable and irreplaceable scientific deposits should be flung into oblivion to help Bill Boyd play-act in a movie scene does not seem to be among the government's most pressing necessities.

THE TRAGEDY

There is no mystery in the "mystery" of cured lepers trying to get back to the pest camps that have sheltered them.

You can imagine what their lives are like after they are released. The old cry of "unclean! unclean!" of Bible times may have been reduced to a whisper; to a nervous avoidance; but it is there just the same.

And, after all, when you come right down to it, a gentleman just released from a leper hospital is not just the little playmate you would pick out for close association yourself.

HE JESTS AT SCARS—

There is a line in a Kipling poem that I might recommend to the brash young Harvard editors who wrote so scathingly about the righteous jags during the American Legion convention in Boston:

"Yes, makin' mock of uniforms that guard you while you sleep
Is cheaper than them uniforms, an' they're starvation cheap."

BELATED INSPIRATION

The engineers have discovered that three small dams will do the work better in San Gabriel Canyon than the high dam planned and abandoned. It would have been a grand idea if they could have collided with this inspiration before wasting $4,000,000.

THE "PULL" OF LEGS

The scandal is that "Legs" Diamond should have been allowed to return to America. The Immigration Service held up a Los Angeles high-school teacher—with insults and bitter annoyances—for weeks at El Paso this summer. They almost took the filling out

DEATH OF TWO IN SEA BLAMED ON WAVE TRAP

Furtively, but regularly, every seventh wave approaching the beach breaks over Dead Man's Rock at Point Mugu, ten miles southeast of Oxnard, off Roosevelt Highway, say old-time visitors.

Julia Bestmann, 24-year-old Los Angeles girl, who with her escort, Walter Vashon, 30, also of Los Angeles, started out early last Sunday for a picturesque place for a swim, seemingly did not know this.

The girl clambered onto the rock. Six waves struck at her and then broke playfully about the rock's base. The seventh came—and yesterday, almost as playfully as another wave had washed over the rock, the surf yielded Miss Bestmann's body.

Vashon, too, died in the treacherous waters, probably, say police, when he saw her washed from the rock and went to her aid, but his body is still to be recovered.

The tragic story, ending search for the young couple that had gone on since early last Monday, was reconstructed from what had been observed by State Highway Patrol Officer W. E. French last Sunday.

"I saw the girl, dressed in her bathing suit, climb out on the rock," he said, "and I saw the young man, Vashon, running for exercise up and down the beach in his bathing suit. There can be only one explanation, which is that she was washed off, and her escort died trying to save her."

Miss Bestmann, daughter of J. H. Bestmann, cement contractor, lived at 1522 West Fifty-fifth street, and Vashon, long a dear friend, lived at 1129 West Fifty-ninth street. In pursuance of their intention to find a romantic place along the coast for a swim, they took camping equipment in their automobile for a day's outing. They told Mr. Bestmann of their intention, and added they would visit Louis Gott, former police officer at Long Beach, and deliver a message the girl's father desired to communicate to him before proceeding on their quest for a suitable strip of beach.

They arrived at Point Mugu

RAIL HEAD PRAISES STATE

President of Erie Reports Growth in Fruit and Vegetable Shipments to East

Importance of California perishable products in eastern markets was emphasized here yesterday by C. E. Denney, president of the Erie Railroad, who came to Los Angeles in company with Carl Howe, vice-president of the carrier, and M. J. Foll, secretary to the president, on a month's business trip.

Two Erie piers in New York are used exclusively for handling perishables from California and other Western States, with a great percentage of the shipments coming from this State, said Denney at the Biltmore. The piers will accommodate 350 carloads of products and about 700 men are employed to handle the vast shipments.

"Shipments from California have shown a steady increase from year to year," said Denney, "and we look for constantly increasing markets for this State's fruits, melons and other articles."

As to general business conditions, Denney said that although the business done by his line is below last year's level, there is no question in his mind that "we have reached the bottom as far as the depression is concerned."

"Succeeding months will show an upward trend," said Denney.

Supported in their activities by this optimistic view, executives of the line are going ahead with the expenditure of a $30,000,000 improvement budget, said Denney.

HEARST GUEST AT BANQUET

Publisher Talks of Expulsion From France and Protests Against Foreign Alliances

Voicing a vigorous protest against foreign alliances and entanglements, William Randolph Hearst, publisher, gave his views on European conditions and spoke on his recent expulsion from France at a banquet in his honor at the Biltmore Hotel last night.

Several hundred guests from the motion-picture, business and professional life of the city gathered in the Sala de Oro to hear the publisher's views. Oscar Lawler, attorney, presided as toastmaster.

The gathering was described by Mr. Lawler as of a dual purpose. First to welcome Mr. Hearst from his European trip and second to show France that the attitude adopted toward the publisher was resented by the citizens of America.

In his welcome address, John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that the "leaving of France at France's behest was the proudest act ever done by Mr. Hearst." He also stressed the important part Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, deceased mother of the publisher, had played in the early history of California, and spoke of her untiring efforts in behalf of education in the early days.

Louis B. Mayer referred to Mr. Hearst as one of his associates in business and spoke of the Panama Canal and woman suffrage as two of the great monuments to the accomplishments of the honored guest.

JUDGE CONVICTS G. E. BITTINGER

Financier Found Guilty of Grand-Theft Charges

Petition for Probation to Be Given Consideration

Defendant Fully Recovered from Suicide Attempt

George E. Bittinger, financier, who recently attempted suicide, yesterday was found guilty on four counts of grand theft in Superior Judge Hahn's court. Bittinger, who is 62 years of age, was able to appear in court. A bandage swathed his head back of his right ear, where he fired a pistol shot after taking a slow-acting poison in a room of the California Club. His suicidal attempt a few days after his trial had begun, postponed the hearing until yesterday.

The financier was convicted of embezzling $9500 from the funds of the Mortgage Discount Company, of which he was manager. Judge Hahn indicated that he will consider probation when Bittinger is produced for sentence the 28th inst., but the jurist also indicated that he believes some punishment is necessary as a deterrent to others. In finding Bittinger guilty, the judge took occasion to flay unethical financial practices.

DEFENSE PLEA

Bittinger's attorney, William E. Simpson, contended that no proof of criminal intent was produced as required to constitute embezzlement. The lawyer argued that Bittinger believed he had authority to loan himself money from the Mortgage Discount Company's funds, and that he had had funds transferred to the Calivada Securities Corporation, not for concealment, but so that the latter corporation would stand back of the loan as security.

Dep. Dist.-Attys. Van Cott and Kemp retorted that the circumstances surrounding Bittinger's act revealed his intent.

EXPLANATION REJECTED

They held that Bittinger's character witnesses, including Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, and former Superior Judge Valentine, were mainly social acquaintances and not persons who had business dealings with the defendant.

Judge Hahn said that the theory that Bittinger thought he had a right to "borrow the money" did violent to reason. The judge stated that the transaction by which Bittinger loaned money to himself from the Mortgage Discount Company to the Calivada Securities Corporation was a subterfuge.

After finding Bittinger guilty, Judge Hahn denied bail and remanded him to the custody of the Sheriff.

ROBBER'S VICTIM LACKS FAITH

Promise of Money's Return Fails to Halt Report of Hold-up to Sheriff

John Wolery, 1281 Atlantic Boulevard, doesn't have much faith in a robber's promise to repay his victim's loss, it was indicated in a Sheriff's office report yesterday.

Wolery reported a robber took $20 from him at his service station Monday night, stating he hated to do so but was hungry and would return the money within a week if Wolery did not report the matter. The service station man said he fired three shots at the robber's car as it drove away.

INQUEST ON TRIO DEATH NEEDLESS

Wiping Out of Family by Huchendorf Declared to Present Plain Case

An inquest into the triple tragedy which wiped out the family of Herman Huchendorf at noon Monday in a spectacular shooting at 1402 North Catalina street is unnecessary, Chief Deputy Coroner McDonald announced yesterday. The case, he stated, is plainly one of double murder and suicide, the man having first shot his wife Alice, and daughter Maxine, and then turned the gun on himself.

In the light of the Coroner's decision the bodies were ordered released to the LeRoy Bagley mortuary, 5440 Hollywood Boulevard. Funeral arrangements will be completed today.

Brooding over a six months' estrangement Huchendorf, 36-year-old mechanic, went to the Catalina-street address Monday morning in the hope of effecting a reconciliation, according to the theory developed by police after questioning neighbors. When his wife turned a deaf ear to his plea he flew into an insane rage and shot down his 15-year-old daughter, who had returned from school unexpectedly because of illness. Then he killed his wife, reloaded the gun and committed suicide.

TEACHER DENIED REHEARING

Division One, District Court of Appeal, yesterday denied the petition of Fred W. Becker, former school principal of Pasadena, for a rehearing. Becker's conviction on a morals charge was affirmed recently by the tribunal.

EARLY 'YELLOPHONE' RECALLED

Pioneer Remembers Old "Coffee Mill"

Ancient and New Type Instruments

Miss Ida J. Olson, for twenty-nine years chief operator at Manitowoc, Wis., with replica of original Bell telephone and a modern instrument.

THAT husband-calling contests, so popular at picnics and gatherings, were originally inspired by the old-time telephone is the belief of Miss Ida J. Olson, for twenty-nine years chief operator at the telephone exchange at Manitowoc, Wis., and who was an arrival last night on the Continental Limited with the first of the delegates to attend the convention of the Telephone Pioneers of America which will gather here this week.

"From a coffee mill or worse," she said, "I have watched the telephone grow to a mechanism almost beyond human understanding. From the old-time 'yellophone,' I have watched the instrument grow to one that will almost record the changing of a man's mind in Europe. One of the reasons why the phone was so quickly adopted in rural communities was that the farmers had the voices necessary to converse over some of those earlier lines. Calling the pigs and the cows just naturally gave them an advantage over their city friends. The softly modulated voice of the central of today would hardly have carried out of the building on some of those ancient instruments."

"The most radical departure from the old-time instrument, I believe, is the dial phone," John A. Uhrig of Milwaukee, also a member of the Wisconsin delegation, declared. "I think that within a few years there will be inventions which will make our present instruments appear like toys."

Uhrig has forty-one years of service with the Wisconsin Telephone Company behind him.

The Chicago delegation of 114 will arrive over the Union Pacific at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A train from New York bringing Canadian and New England delegates will arrive tomorrow morning.

Included in the three days' program will be business meetings, trips to the picture studios and to the sea shore, a visit to Catalina and trips through the orange groves. The convention will bring more than 2000 persons to the city, according to M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company. All delegates have at least twenty-one years of service back of them. The gathering will be held in the Biltmore.

BOMBERS SCORE MIMIC VICTORY

titude of 8000 feet and the other at 12,000 feet, to "bomb" the airport.

Immediately six of the Army's fastest Boeing P-12 pursuit planes, under ground command of Lieut. E. C. Batten, and led by Lieut. D. D. Graves, took off to repulse them.

"We met them near Whittier," Lieut. Graves said. "Four ships like ours, also from the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron, were riding their tails to protect them.

"Our group dove on them and I suppose we theoretically shot them down, but there was supposed to be another bomber and two more pursuit planes. It turned out that the third one was about fifteen minutes behind the others. The Reds were trying to fool us."

RUSE UNCOVERED

Through the communication system to the outposts, word was received that the third bomber was on its way and Lieut. Batten sparked out its location to Lieut. Graves over ground-to-plane radio.

The Blue scouts wheeled about and spotted it near San Gabriel at 8000 feet. Another formation attack by the Blues theoretically shot the two escort planes and the bomber out of the skies and Los Angeles was "saved."

On a morning attempt to reach their objective the Reds stepped up their altitude to 13,000 feet, forcing the Blues to make 16,000 feet in order to gain the upper hand for the engagement over Covina.

Lieut.-Col. Willis G. Peace and Maj. Felix Gross, directing the maneuvers for the Coast Artillery, were pleased with yesterday's results. The signals from the outpost bands of communication were flashed in swifter than on Monday, the opening day of the exercises, and a greater efficiency was noted throughout the organization formed for the maneuvers, the officers said.

Today and tonight the war games will become more complicated when the Red bombers, Curtiss twin-motored Condors, will be free to attack at varying altitudes and come from any direction after they pass over the outposts.

They will fly at their service ceilings—about 16,000 feet—and will shut off their engines when crossing the outposts in a final effort to avoid detection before they can simulate dropping their explosive "eggs" on the Blue headquarters.

The five 8,000,000,000-candlepower searchlights that pick the bombers out of the sky and "put them on the spot" for the five "nests" of antiaircraft pieces and machine guns surrounding the airport, have proved their worth against night attacks, Blue officers of the Sixty-third pointed out.

With the aid of aircraft detectors—giant "ears" that amplify the sound of the planes' engines—the lights make it possible for the anti-aircraft batteries to locate the "enemy" in the dark. It takes only a few seconds to throw the lights on the bombers and once caught by a brilliant beam there is no shaking it off.

Maj. Carl Spatz, commander of the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron, flew back and forth between San Diego yesterday, checking up on the way his men have carried out their parts as members of both Red and Blue air forces. Lieut. C. H. Howard is in command of the Red bombers and Lieut. J. E. Mallory at the controls of the leading Red convoy plane.

Following tonight's "attack" the artillery groups will return to their stations—250 men and officers of the 400 taking part in the exercises to Fort MacArthur, San Pedro. The Blue planes will go home to Rockwell Field, there to rejoin the friendly "enemy" Reds after three days of thrilling combat.

HEARST GIVES TALK AT DINNER

Mr. Hearst was referred to as "one of the three greatest living Americans" by Antonio Entenza, former national commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, who spoke in behalf of the veterans of all wars. He did not name the other two great Americans. Opening his talk, Mr. Entenza called upon some forty war veterans seated at the banquet tables and asked them to rise to their feet. In calling the publisher, "one of the nation's greatest patriots," Mr. Entenza declared that he led all fights for the betterment of veterans' welfare.

HEARST TALKS OF EGO

Speaking for fifteen minutes, Mr. Hearst expressed pleasure at the dinner tendered him and implored his friends to "be careful not to overestimate the importance of my exit from France by mutual consent. The matter is of no interest to me," he said, "and none to you except in so far as it indicates the attitude of France to America and Americans." He declared that the immediate trouble with France is an "exaggerated ego."

Among those seated at the speakers' table were: Lieut.-Gov. H. L. Carnahan, William May Garland, C. C. Young, Winifred B. Sheehan, Congressman Joe Crail, George Hearst, Frank W. Merriam, Dr. Frank Barham, D. W. Pontius, Joseph Scott, William De Mille, Earle C. Anthony, J. A. H. Kerr, Joseph M. Schenck, Walter Leimert and S. W. McNabb.

TIBBETT SINGS

Preceding the addresses vocal numbers were given by Lawrence Tibbett and Miss Grace Moore, artists from the Metropolitan Opera Company, who are making a sound film for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Music was furnished during the evening by an orchestra under the direction of Oscar Radin of the same motion-picture studio.

No reference was made during the evening to the black and white lapel buttons bearing the words "Hearst for President, 1932," which made their appearance here yesterday. It was learned that the buttons were manufactured in Los Angeles, but members of the local Hearst organization disowned them and declared that the publisher is not a candidate for any office.

NEGRO'S TRIAL DECLARED FAIR

Attorney-General's Office Gives Opinion

Rehearing Petition Filed in Sheffield Case

Ex-Officer's Attorneys Stand at Trial Cited

Filing a petition for a rehearing in the case of Maceo B. Sheffield, former colored police officer, granted a new trial after conviction on two counts of bribery, the Attorney-General's office yesterday declared that in its opinion the conduct of the prosecution, court and jury was not such as to deprive Sheffield of a fair trial.

Quoting a statement by the defense counsel to the jury, the State declared that the former policeman's attorneys were satisfied at the time of the trial that the trial had been conducted fairly and impartially.

Division Two, District Court of Appeal, reversed the trial court's judgment in an opinion that severely arraigned the judge, Superior Judge Wilson, and the prosecuting attorneys, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison, deceased, and McKay. The opinion, written by Justice Schmidt, pro tem, found that the trial court and the District Attorney's office showed a seeming desire to convict the appellant at any cost, even to the violation of his constitutional rights to a new trial.

Sheffield was tried along with Roscoe Washington and Richard Dunn. Washington and Dunn were found not guilty.

soon after noon, but failed to return home that night, whereupon Mr. Bestmann became alarmed and asked Los Angeles police to begin a search.

Late Monday afternoon Motorcycle Patrolman Hearn of Oxnard, patrolling the beach, found the automobile owned by Vashon which had been standing near Point Mugu for thirteen hours. In it were cards and other personal belongings identifying it as the one in which the girl and her escort had started on their expedition. And late yesterday the surf yielded the girl's body, which was taken to Diffenderffer's Undertaking Rooms at Oxnard.

Lieut. J. C. Phillips of the Los Angeles police department, brother-in-law of Vashon, went to Oxnard yesterday to assist in the search for his body.

HARBOR TO GAIN UNDER PRATT PLAN

Aircraft, Mine and Base Forces to Be Affected by Reassignments

Importance of the local fleet base will be materially increased by reassignment, in the immediate future, of various forces under the Pratt plan, it was announced yesterday. In addition to the new tactical organization for the fourteen battleships based here, previously announced, the changes will affect the aircraft squadrons, the mine force and the base force.

The 13,400-ton transport Argonne, now serving as a submarine tender at San Diego, will come here immediately after January 1, as new flagship of the base force, relieving the U.S.S. Procyon, to be decommissioned. In addition to taking up the Procyon's present duties, the Argonne will serve as tender for the utility squadron of heavy seaplanes. These big scouting planes, now based on the Aroostook at San Diego, will then be based at San Pedro.

The local port will also be headquarters for the Navy's air forces. Under the Pratt plan, the Navy's air forces afloat will be commanded by an officer designated as commander, carrier divisions, United States Fleet, and this desirable post will go to Rear-Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, now commanding the Battle Fleet aircraft squadrons. The air forces afloat will be divided as follows:

Division One, (to operate in the Atlantic with the Scouting Fleet;) aircraft carrier Langley and aircraft tenders Wright, Sandpiper and Teal.

Division Two, (to operate in the Pacific with the Battle Fleet;) aircraft carriers Saratoga, (flagship of Admiral Reeves,) and Lexington and aircraft tender Gannet. Admiral Reeves will also command Carrier Division Two and each of the aircraft carriers will be assigned two destroyers as plane guard.

The reorganized mine force, to be based at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, will operate here and at Panama with the Battle Fleet each year from October 1 until the fleet completes its annual winter concentration.

Designation of Police Station to Be Changed

The name of the Wilshire Police Station, which is on Pico Boulevard, is to be changed to the Pico Police Station in order to avoid confusion, the Police Commission decided yesterday when it requested Chief Steckel to present a proposal to it with that object in view.

It was decided to name the new station to be erected at Santa Barbara and Harvard boulevards, when the deal for the property is completed, the Santa Barbara Station and to extend its boundaries south to Slauson avenue.

A request from the Ninth District Chamber of Commerce that the Hollenbeck Heights division be renamed the East Los Angeles Station was referred to Chief Steckel.

until health suddenly failed. 6 out of 10 are affected many without knowledge, for there are no warning signals.

6 out of 10 men and women are afflicted with kidney breakdown, many without knowledge for there are no warning symptoms. Yet if not checked, kidney ailment may develop into serious ills.

Extensive research by medical authority has brought to light this fact: that kidneys excrete 75% of waste matter from the system, much in too concentrated form. Excessive strain is thus placed on delicate kidney cells, and eventually they break down. Poisons which should be eliminated, are harbored and turned back into the system. It is here that more serious diseases originate.

In Puritas drinking water, doctors find the most effective combatant to this increasingly prevalent ailment. Puritas acts to dilute concentrated poisons, absorb and carry them off. Minerals found in ordinary water, which add further to congestion, are eliminated in Puritas. Thus worn kidneys have a chance to repair. Normal kidneys are constantly protected.

So, on eminent medical advice, thousands are drinking 6 glasses of Puritas daily. Through scientific distillation, all minerals and impurities are removed. The Puritas is the purest drink for young or old.

With your first drink of Puritas you will note its difference taste, and each drink becomes more enjoyable. Thus Puritas gives you both health and taste, a happy combination you'll agree.

KETTLEMAN OIL MEETING VITAL

Bay City Conference Today May Solve Riddle

Bankard Said to Favor Two Units for Field

Half of Acreage Controlled by Rockefeller Group

Considerable importance attaches [illegible] to today's meeting in San [illegible] of executives of the various oil companies interested in the Kettleman Hills oil field, because much of the discussion will concern the possibility of establishing two unit plans for its future development, based on a recent decision made by the Standard Oil Company.

During the past year the biggest [illegible] block in the way of a co-operative plan for Kettleman Hills was the scope of the Standard Oil Company's holdings there. It controls more than one-half the total acreage in the district and as a result has wielded considerable influence in the matter.

STANDARD COMES IN

It is reported that Standard now is willing to place its holdings in the unit plan and has consented to the proposition that all other operators holding properties at Kettleman Hills form a separate unit plan. It is understood this move on the part of Standard has smoothed out many little difficulties which have arisen the various operators on the ground of rejecting all proposals.

With a double-unit co-operative plan a prospect for Kettleman Hills now is believed a curtailment program may be worked out for the ultimate benefit of all operators and to enable the industry to [illegible] of production down to the point where it will not flood the market. It is thought probable that [illegible] advisory board will be created to put into operation the double-unit plan.

ACTIVE FIELD

The completion of the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills field activity in the district has increased. Not only have drilling operations alarmed officials who have sought to curb them, but it now is definitely known that companies going into the fee land on Sec. 36, [illegible] plan an extensive campaign to develop production. Section 36 is the only one that permits unrestricted operations at present and more than a half-dozen wells are expected to be drilling there within the next six months.

William Reinhardt, chairman of the Kettleman Hills Oil and Gas Conservation Committee, together with executives of the several companies interested at Kettleman Hills left yesterday for San Francisco to attend the meeting.

Second Trial of Garret Murder Widow Delayed

[illegible] of the second trial of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, charged with the murder of her [illegible] husband, Fred Oesterreich, August 22, 1922, was granted by Superior Judge Hardy yesterday on the request of the woman's [illegible], Jerry Giesler, who is counsel in other trials.

Mrs. Oesterreich's first trial, which failed to agreed upon a verdict, [illegible] several weeks previously [illegible], Mrs. Oesterreich's [illegible] sweetheart, who admitted [illegible] actions in the Oesterreich [illegible] for ten years, was convicted [illegible] murder, but was released [illegible] the charge was outlawed.

[illegible] FOR JOHNSON IN [illegible] JURY CASE FIXED

[illegible] (Cholo) Johnson, charged [illegible] perjury because of testimony [illegible] during the criminal-libel trial [illegible] Gilmau, failing in his [illegible] to have the indictment [illegible] has set aside for asserted [illegible] errors, yesterday pleaded not [illegible] to the charge. Superior [illegible] Wood fixed his trial for November 17 in Superior Judge [illegible]'s court.

AUTOIST'S PURSUER AIDS VICTIM'S SUIT

Ruth Metzger

Ruth Metzger, 1642 Lyman Place, saw an automobile collide with another at Sunset Boulevard and Vine street on January 27, last, and pursued the responsible driver, who fled, until she obtained his license number, testimony in Municipal Judge Galbreth's court yesterday disclosed.

As a result of her action William Koenig, film director, the victim, was given judgment for $103 by Judge Galbreth against Sterling Dixon, 22 years of age, of 385 North Wilton Place, driver of the other car, the court ruling that Koenig's car had been damaged to that amount. Shortly after the crash Dixon was fined $25 in traffic court on a reckless-driving charge.

EAST SIDE FORMS CLUB FOR GRAVES

Many Civic Leaders Also Indorse Candidacy for Supervisorship

Holding that Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the Board of County Supervisors, has proved himself a friend of the East Side, citizens of that section gathered yesterday to form a Graves-for-Supervisor Club.

John E. Reardon, civic worker in the Indiana-street district, was elected president. Vice-chairmen were named as William L. Cummings, Dr. Louis Kepsel, P. G. Cronin and John Vieth. Benjamin Bernstein is secretary and R. J. Arey, treasurer.

Other Graves clubs will be formed during the week.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, pioneer Republican and founder of the Woman's Republican Study Club, yesterday added her name to the list of prominent citizens who have indorsed Graves.

Among the other prominent indorsers are Louis B. Mayer, Leo V. Youngworth, Dr. Gustav A. Briegleb, Gilbert H. Beesemyer, Judge Bledsoe, J. W. Buzzell, Bernal H. Dyas, William May Garland, Rex B. Goodcell, Frank Meline, Joseph Pedrotti, Irene Rich, Joseph Scott, Harriet Works, Perry Weidner, Mrs. Fannie G. Woodside, Mrs. Charles E. Scott and Martin C. Neuner.

MORE PERMITS GIVEN FOR VENICE DRILLING

The City Council yesterday adopted ordinances permitting Joseph M. Schenck and Kupfer & Tatum to drill for oil in Venice, and also approved reports giving permission to fifteen others to drill. The fifteen are H. R. Crowell, the Del Rey Company, two permits; Emma J. Hively, California Trust Company, Mary E. Hoffman, Martha Marsh, George Bamber, Chester A. Bell, Elise Fleishman, Richard E. Barry, George Walters, the H. R. Gage estate, Rosser L. McGinnis and Emily Bolle. Councilman Williams voted against them.

LINCOLN-ORINOCO

Bullock's --- Distributor For This Furniture That So Closely Follows Fine Old World Standards Of Craftsmanship »

Furniture that lifts cabinetwork to an art . . made in this country, but faithful to old ideals! That is Lincoln-Orinoco Furniture of which Bullock's is sole distributor in Southern California. This close affiliation establishes higher standards of value since the middleman and his profit have been so largely eliminated!

The name Lincoln-Orinoco has long stood for the best in furniture reproductions. Each piece is rich in historical inspiration, created in this age with much the same painstaking care of craftsmanship as it would have received at the hands of a skilled cabinetmaker of the 18th century.

That furniture so faultless in detail and construction can be priced so attractively would seem surprising, unless the fact is remembered that Bullock's as sole distributor for Lincoln-Orinoco in Southern California can price this furniture much as the wholesale dealer does . . can price it far lower than is possible under the usual method of purchase.

FINE ORIENTAL RUGS«

Lower Priced With Advantage And Protection Of Bullock's Integrity

There is a sliding scale of price for Oriental Rugs . . . but there is no sliding scale of quality! Quality determined by closeness of weave, design, color and condition of wool.

Comparatively few find themselves capable of correctly judging quality in Oriental Rugs. Such ability is a matter of study and close association. Obviously then it is wise to select a dealer whose integrity is unquestioned, whose name will stand for your protection.

Bullock's has developed reliable resources through long years of contact with distributors of note. When selecting an Oriental Rug at Bullock's you have the assurance of Quality, and what is of great importance also, the satisfaction of obtaining it at a price lower than you would usually find a similar quality elsewhere.

Oriental Rugs in Bullock's stocks stand worthy of comparison . . . their lower prices you can scarcely afford to ignore!

Today's Bible Text

And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission. It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us.—Heb. ix:22, 24.

TYPICAL AMERICA

The head of the German reichsbank, who is now in this country, declares that Chicago is the typical American city and he is leaving his son there to be educated. Possibly he wishes to teach the young idea how to shoot.

THE TAX BILL

The assessed valuation of New York City real estate is $18,500,000,000. At the same time the personal property is put in at $808,000,000. It would seem to an outsider that some of the plutocrats were hiding out. Either that or they took an awful wallop in Wall street.

IMPOSSIBLE SHOTS

Charles H. Tuttle, the Republican nominee for Governor of New York, challenges Gov. Roosevelt to demonstrate that he is a bigger man than Tammany. This would be quite a demonstration for a New York Democrat and it is feared that none will be able to make it.

POWER FROM THE SEA

If power to run turbines, dynamos and other bric-a-brac can be nurtured through the use of water drawn from different temperatures from the same sea we should still be doing a lot of business. At our very door we have the finest and most variant ocean of the whole set.

A HORSE APIECE

Speaker Longworth has just as much warrant for blaming industrial sluggishness and unrest upon the Democrats as the Bourbons have in heaping all the nation's ills upon the broad shoulders of Herbert Hoover. It was the Democratic Senators who by designed trick and argument were enabled to delay tariff action for months. Industry and commerce had to mark time for that period and adjustments were thrown into a time of confusion and embarrassments. Had tariff action been quick and responsive to the mandate of the people as given at the polls there would have been no time for emotional hangovers in other lands and our own industries might have been plugging merrily along over months that were made dull and unhappy.

CRIME IN THE COMICS

Crime has been extended to the funny page. Andy Gump is charged with a super theft and has been in jail. Tilda was seen sitting on a bench in a cell. Harold Teen is out on bail. Not long ago Ella Cinders was before the court. And even the dog Riley appeared behind the bars.

Crime is not so funny; but some of the unsolved mysteries are. When innocent Andy with a thimblefull of brains and scant discretion can be accused and Harold can be arrested for a robbery he did not commit, our American system of something or other seems to be at fault.

Crime is no joke. But the myriad pettifoggers and slow courts are. When a civil case can drag on for years in but two courts, here is something that will never be arrested for the speed limit. Technicalities are allowed to trip up justice; but clipping is penalized on the football field. A jury has to be blindfold in our estimation.

Sherlock Holmes gained popularity largely because of Scotland Yard's humorous attempts to catch criminals. But Scotland Yard is different today and, like the Canadian mounted police, always gets its man, largely because A. Conan Doyle held it up to ridicule.

The joker can sometimes laugh in a reform when serious preachments fail. One reason why Sherlock Holmes died before Doyle was because his work was done.

The funnies may help to serve the same purpose in America. Maybe Gump in jail may also help Mayor Thompson of Chicago to find his wife's jewels. That magistrate now has something closer at home than the King of England to worry over.

THE ROAD CONFERENCE

The heartiest welcome that California can give is the due of the Mexican officials who are here to lay plans for the International Pacific Highway, at a conference which starts today at the Automobile Club of Southern California. This highway, which eventually will extend from Alaska to Argentina, will tie the three Americas together as nothing else could, and Mexico, wide awake to the opportunity, proposes to be among the first to further the project. Interest has been stimulated by the fact that President Ortiz Rubio, himself an engineer, holds road-building projects to be of first importance for his country and has surrounded himself with men of like opinion.

Among the foremost of these are the Mexican delegates to the Los Angeles conference, who include Roberto B. Martinez and Miguel Angel Menendez, engineers, Baja California; Gov. Francisco Elias, Sonora; Hernando Estrada, chief road engineer, Sinaloa; Juan F. Parkinson and Manuel F. Ochoa, engineers, Nayarit; Gov. Lazaro Cardenas, Michoacan; Gov. Filiberto Gomez, Mexico; Senator Miguel Andreu Almazan of Pueblo and two engineers, Miguel de Abed and Senor Allende; Gov. Jose Lopez Cortez of Oaxaca; Senora Gloria Starr de Enriquez, wife of Gov. Raimundo Enriquez of Chiapas, and Jesus Ruiz, lawyer, and Mariano Grajales, engineer. Four Governors of Mexican States are thus represented in person. Gov. Gomez and Gov. Elias in particular are noted road builders, but others are not far behind.

The road as proposed will, of course, be valuable for internal communication in Mexico, but even more so as a means of international communication, benefiting the United States not less than Mexico itself. Running through some of the most interesting, though now among the least visited, sections of the Western Hemisphere, it is certain to attract a vast amount of tourist traffic. The conference of this week is a follow-up of the surveying trip taken last March by officials and guests of the Automobile Club, from Nogales, Ariz, to Mexico City, down the Mexican west coast and across to the capital, the approximate route which the proposed road will take, and those concerned are authorities of the States to be traversed.

The American scout party was received with the utmost courtesy and hospitality everywhere in Mexico, and it was in part a desire to reciprocate these favors that brought about the calling of the conference here. Scheduled for today are welcoming addresses by Gov. Young and Mayor Porter and a talk on the International Pacific Highway and its problems by Henry W. Keller, chief of the division of highways of the Automobile Club. Tomorrow there will be addresses by Carl McStay and E. E. East of the club, and on Friday a general discussion of the problem, including that of financing. On Saturday the visitors will see talking pictures made and on Sunday will begin a series of road inspection trips which will carry the party to Agua Caliente, to Yuma, to El Centro, to Barstow, to Needles and then back and over the Ridge Route.

The coming of this Mexican delegation is a high compliment to Los Angeles and one certain to promote continued cordial relations which may have even greater results than the building of this highway.

FROM THOSE WHO HAVE

At no time since the war has thoughtful and constructive giving been so essential to the tiding over of troublous days as at this juncture when the Community Chest is opened again to our citizens for the yearly replenishment of its coffers. Solicitation from our wealthier citizens commences today. On the example they set, the general success of the campaign, which starts October 27, largely depends.

Much hinges on the response the 300 volunteer collectors receive from those to whom this first appeal is made, the fortunate ones who have been able to weather the economic crisis of 1930. On them in the face of the suffering caused by the existing unemployment a heavier responsibility rests than on former occasions when money was easier and jobs more plentiful. Rich and poor stood up alike under the test of war necessity. Shall it be said that we are less zealous in displaying our peace patriotism?

There is little sign that the number of great fortunes has been seriously diminished during the recent depression. Very few large operators in our various lines of business, industry and finance have suffered to the point of personal discomfort. Patrons of music spent more money for grand opera tickets than they have ever before spent in Los Angeles. When miniature golf courses promised remunerative returns immediate cash was at once available in large quantities. Nor is there any sign of money being short for the purchase of admissions to any of our many sporting events.

Those who have can still afford to gratify their tastes and desires for amusements and recreations. What they cannot afford is to allow their less happily situated brothers and sisters to suffer for lack of the care and ministration the Community Chest—and the Community Chest alone—is able to supply. More of the less able and less secure workers are this year feeling the pinch, and feeling it a little harder. To relieve the undeserved suffering of the less fortunate in life's constant struggle our citizens rely on an amply filled Community Chest.

This is our common obligation to be shared proportionately to our individual blessings. Since the need is greater, we should not suffer any falling off in our contributions. What we give is for the preservation of public health, of public welfare, of public morals—no less than in the name of Christian love and pity for the distressed.

This is the office of the Community Chest. "Let him that has much give plenteously; let him that has little do his diligence."

REMOTE CONTROL

This remote control so frequently mentioned over the radio should be more widely distributed. The listeners-in should be given some of it to use on announcers.

The LEE SIDE o' LA
By Lee Shippey

THERE is a home for the aged which is not an institution at the corner of Regent and Keystone streets, in Palms.

An institution, you know, is a place which is run by rules and red tape and system, and all that. This Home for the Aged hasn't any rule except common sense. The old ladies who live there have as much individuality in their rooms as would girls in a sorority house—and more privacy. Each who wishes it has a separate room, the exceptions being women who have grown fond of each other and wish to be together. The room of one on one side of the hall may be draped in rose curtains, with general color scheme to match. Across the hall one sees a room the color scheme of which is blue. Each woman is quite at home in her own room, with her own personal treasures about her. Each pays $35 a month for her room and board and laundry, and feels as independent as she would in a hotel, but far more at home than she would in most hotels. The dining-room has a festive air, like that of the dining-room of some amazingly large family. The old ladies in the home may come and go practically at will.

Where They're Most at Home

This Home for the Aged is operated by the King's Daughters of Southern California, each circle of which manages some benevolent enterprise in its district. One Los Angeles circle, for instance, operates a day nursery. All the Southern California circles aid the home, however, and certainly they could not aid a worthier enterprise. For it has been noted that it is easier for one mother to care for six children than for six children to care for one mother in her old age. There are many old ladies whose children are prosperous who practically have no homes. And this is so truly a home to them that frequently those who go to their relatives' homes for Thanksgiving or Christmas celebrations go in the morning and return to "their own home" for "the family" dinner.

Individual Whims Considered

Mrs. A. Russell, president of the King's Daughters in Southern California, showed us through the home yesterday. No one was in the pretty grounds or on the verandas or even in the lounge full of deep, soft chairs. Most of the old ladies prefer their own rooms most of the time, except for an hour or so of visiting together after meals. In their own rooms they can have windows open or shut, as they desire, and turn the heat on or off. If the day is gloomy they can turn on the lights and if they want to read in bed at night there is no lights-out hour. Each guest's room is her castle and several of them have radios in their rooms.

When we reached the kitchen we found both the cook and the matron busy, the latter cooking some especially dainty dish.

"One of the old ladies is feeling rather badly," she said, "and a little something special for her will brighten her up."

That seemed to sort of keynote the place.

Fellow-Workers Who Do Not Forget

Some years ago a woman who had been a trusted employee of Barker Brothers for more than twenty years became incapacitated for business life, and illness and such things had depleted her savings. Her fellow-workers got together and raised a fund for her, with which they built a cottage just behind the main building at this Home for the Aged, the arrangement being that it was to be her cottage till her death, and after that was to become the property of the home. That arrangement continues and "Aunt Betty" is a bright and lively member of the home group. Her old friends from the store visit her frequently and the store's doctor calls regularly enough to keep check on her.

You don't find comradeship like that in every business house.

Joshua Little Says

When a fellow's income is curtailed it's likely to give him a hang-dog look.

So many fake "antiques" are offered for sale nowadays that the only place you can be sure of getting genuine antiques is on a used-car lot.

The suicide of a man in a motor park is called a mystery. My theory is that the poor fellow was overwhelmed with despair when he rushed out of the theater and tried to locate his car in a hurry.

"Crowned" and "beaned" mean about the same thing in current slang. So I can't understand why those Rumanians don't make a natural mistake and "bean" King Carol.

PHARMACY WEEK

All over the country, from October 12 to 18, a group of hard-working, highly specialized men are observing what they call "Pharmacy Week." Probably it does not mean much to the general public, but it should.

For how could any of us get along without our corner druggist? The drug-store man today is much more than a mere dispenser of pills and powders. He is caterer, banker, postoffice, emergency first-aid if the baby swallows a safety pin or Fido gets chewed up in a fight.

Everybody tells the corner druggist not only all of his physical ills, but all of his financial, domestic and professional grievances. And did anyone ever hear of the druggist himself complain? Did it ever occur to you how much genuine kindness it requires to sell stamps, at no profit whatever, to cash checks at considerable hazard, to weigh out a dime's worth of this and that, to hand out gratuitous glasses of water, to bear the responsibility of mixing deadly poisons in a ratio that will be beneficent and not lethal, and wear a good-natured smile all the time?

To face the little annoyances of every day, to be cheerful when trade is dull, to be kindly and sympathetic when customers are irritable, impatient and sometimes insulting; to be level headed and logical and efficient when there is a bedlam of noises—people clamoring for ice-cream sodas, cigarettes, change for the telephone, listerine, a ham sandwich, a two-cent stamp—does this not all require characteristics worthy the term of heroic?

FASTER AND FASTER

England, which once had a very low speed limit for automobiles, is about to lift the lid and give the speeders their fling. Beginning November 1, speed limits for motor cars will be abolished. Motorists may "hit it up" to ninety miles an hour or more as long as they do not drive in a way to endanger life or property. At the same time the license to drive a car will be more strictly regulated and all car owners must insure themselves against injuries to others.

Nearly everywhere the tendency is toward greater and greater speed on the highway, and legislation against slow driving in a way to impede traffic is being adopted and enforced. In New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island and several other States slow drivers must keep well over to the right or they will be tagged and prosecuted.

But while England has wiped out its speed limits, drivers in that country must operate their cars with full regard to the rights of others. A license will be granted only after the applicant proves his fitness. The motorist who drives under the influence of liquor must give up his license and will not be permitted to operate an automobile again.

Doubtless this no-speed-limit plan will work better in England than in the United States, as we have one car to five persons in the population, while over there they have one to thirty-one. In California the proportion is one car to three persons, and we have nearly twice as many automobiles as there are in England.

But imagine a go-as-you-please motor pace in the land of staid old John Bull!

SPOILING A KING

The iconoclasts are ever busy. Now they have wrecked King Arthur's castle at Tintagel, in Cornwall. Inasmuch as there is no proof that there ever was a King Arthur it is quite possible that this was never his castle—especially as there is some recent evidence that the structure was not built until the eleventh century. The world society known as the Arthurians are said to have made this discovery. They gather everything they can concerning the British romantic hero and although there is no absolute proof that he was ever crowned a king there was a highly successful scrapper of that name who knocked the stuffing out of the Saxons and other foemen back in the fifth century and became the centerpiece of what is now described as the Arthurian legend. The years lent a glamour to his deeds and he became almost as magnificent as Charlemagne himself. The Arthurians are keeping his memory green. Now it is up to Bill Wrigley to find out where it was in Avalon that the lovely Morgain bore the body of the dying warrior.

LINES BY AN ANTI-ANT

By James J. Montague

"I believe that the ant is far less unhappy than the happiest of men."—Maurice Maeterlinck.

Admitting that an ant can think,
It well might swell her noodle
To learn that Mr. Maeterlinck
Regards her as a model.
She follows, under stern duress,
The pace her mates have set her,
And if she calls that happiness—
Well, let 'er.
A wiser creature would recoil
From bitter, never ending toil.
She is not shrewd, as one might judge
From reading Aesop's fable;
All day she has to toil and drudge
To stock her sovereign's table.
She wears her form 'to skin and bone;
She struggles and perspires,
Yet never can she serve her own Desires.
What happiness can fill a life
Of ceaseless, unremitting strife?
We may not compass perfect bliss
Or cull life's fairest flowers,
Success, no doubt, we often miss
By losing golden hours.
But though we are inclined to shirk,
And idle are, and wasteful,
And find unbroken, dreary work
Distasteful,
Before our pilgrimage is done
At least we have had lots of fun.

DAYLIGHT SAVING?

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

II

Who favors "daylight saving" for California? If "a man is known by the company he keeps," would it not be logical to argue that a proposed law be judged by those who sponsor it?

On the November ballot is a proposition, No. 7, which reads that hereafter California shall spend its summers on the "daylight-saving" plan, so-called, advancing its clocks an hour in April and continuing them so till the end of September. It is an initiative measure—the State Legislature has refused five separate times to pass such a law, for what it has deemed were good and sufficient reasons, so this sort of action is necessary to bring it before the voters of the State. If they adopt it, they thus make it the organic law of the commonwealth, unchangeable save by their own votes, no matter what evils may follow in its train.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce sponsored this movement at its start. It has since withdrawn its sponsorship, left it an orphan on the doorstep, and stands from under—neutral. The chamber heard from the State at large, it seems, in no uncertain terms. The Los Angeles Realty Board, once listed as on record in its favor, has been deleted from its roster, also likewise by its own request. The local Chamber of Commerce refused its indorsement and the chamber in Santa Barbara reversed its action, turning commendation into comdemnation within a week—by demand. That shows where these official bodies stand; even though some favored it at first, they soon found it expedient to think again.

Incidentally, in line with this, it might be stated here that Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco, his church's supreme prelate on this Coast, under his own signature demanded that the unauthorized use of his name in favor of the scheme be dropped forthwith, as he was opposed to it unqualifiedly. As are clergymen generally.

However, the proposal is not entirely without friends. The banks of the State, especially the big chains, heartily support the daylight-saving idea. The change in hours, they claim, will synchronize their time more closely with that of New York, where daylight saving prevails, to their profit. Also stock brokers and speculators desire it most earnestly as an aid to their business; it will boost transactions on the eastern exchanges by bringing hours of operation closer together.

The gasoline and oil interests and many automobile dealers favor it also. The California Oil and Gas Association heads this list; the Motor Car Dealers' associations of Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Jose are lined up solidly for it, also the Garage and Property Owners, Inc., here, and the Automobile Accessories Jobbers Association. They believe that, under the proposed law, many will find an extra hour of daylight at their disposal of an evening and will spend it in motoring. The big oil companies, with the bankers, are generally credited with financing the heavy campaign in its favor.

For similar reasons the plan has the support of the Miniature Golf Owners' Association, Professional Golf Association of the Pacific Southwest, the California Golf Association, the Northern California Golf Association and the Southern California Golf Association, the Metropolitan Bridle Paths Association and the Associated Boating Industries of California.

As against these proponents—not all of whom are here listed; just a sort of cross-section, as it were—you must set out as opposed to the idea, the great agricultural interests of the State (its largest industry;) the whole amusement world as represented by the picture studios and the theaters of whatever sort; the churches, the schools; labor in all its phases, which is fighting it bitterly; the letter carriers, who denounced it at their recent Glendale convention; women almost without exception, especially housewives and mothers; the dairy and poultry men; traffic experts, who fear greater road congestion; many insurance experts, many physicians, cafe and hotel men, tourist agencies, students of child welfare—the list here is only a fragmentary summary of what might be given; a mere hint of the forces opposed to any change.

Shall California stand with the 97 per cent of the land which is against this scheme, or with the 3 per cent that has it? Shall California fasten almost irrevocably upon itself a law helpful to a minority or stand by its agriculture, its vast film and theatrical enterprises, its dairy and live-stock men, its fruit growers, its churches, its schools, its children, its workers, its women, its leading business men's organizations? Its voters themselves must decide

BUSINESS "OVERHEAD"

Speaking in general terms, by overhead is meant those items of general expense of a manufacturing plant (for instance) which are additional to the cost of the labor and material actually entering into the production of the plant. For example, under overhead it is usual to group salaries of officials, office expenses, all indirect labor, traveling expenses of salesmen, interest, insurance, legal expenses, care of plant; depreciation also frequently is included under such head.

Many taxi drivers in Berlin speak one or more foreign languages. With true German thoroughness this accomplishment is capitalized, the chauffeur wearing an arm band indicating which language he speaks. It is very convenient for an American tourist, for instance, to be able to hail a cab when "English Spoken" gleams from the driver's arm.

Mexican Labor

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am interested in the recent discussions as to the desirability of our Mexican neighbors coming into California, having lived in Mexico for seven years and worked with them there and here for twenty-three years.

In today's paper the present Mexican population of our State is given as 350,000, which is 6.2 per cent of our total of 5,672,000. The prison population at Folsom (presumably a fair example) is given as 6.6 per cent, a correct proportion and practically equal to our own percentage, and yet the majority of our Mexicans are classed as laborers; and described as poorly housed. Should we take our own "poorly housed" population only we would undoubtedly find a much higher percentage of lawbreakers.

At a recent "Red" outbreak at the Plaza, which is in the center of our Mexican section, a list of the offenders was published, in which not one Mexican name appeared.

In view of the foregoing it is easily explained that so large a percentage of construction and agricultural operators prefer Mexican labor, as also I personally have found them always cheerful, willing and dependable under good and bad conditions, and not encroaching on the field of our own more skilled workers; and the better class on the highest plane in courtesy and hospitality.

King Mountain Speech

BELL, Oct. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am a great admirer of President Hoover. I listen to or read most of his speeches, but I must object to some things he said in his recent address at King Mountain, S. C.

When he claims there is a greater opportunity for our young men and women than there was thirty years ago, is he not mistaken? Then there were millions of acres of fertile soil open for settlement and offered for sale at from $5 to $12 per acre. Railroads carried materials to build homes and cattle to stock the farms at the least possible cost. Towns sprung up everywhere and stores, backed by the wholesale houses, carried the settlers until they could raise a crop. The combinations of capital and trust companies are the dictators today. Millions of farms are, therefore, vacant.

He refers to our educational system, of which we are all so proud, the number of young people going through high schools and colleges. Does he realize the problem of the "white collars" asking for positions which cannot be furnished? The mechanic is better off than others these days and yet he is joining the ranks of the unemployed.

I was surprised at the confusion that seems to be in his mind about Socialism and Communism. Socialism stands for the co-operative commonwealth, true democracy. The ideals of Socialism are in harmony with the Sermon on the Mount. Communism is what the word implies, the common ownership of all things, no private property or rights, all sharing alike, all of which is unjust and unworkable.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Physical Education?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Formal gymnastics for reducing and normalizing is given by the Venice Evening High School, corner Walgrove avenue and Venice Boulevard, Venice. There is no charge of any kind, but each student furnishes some kind of gymnasium suit (often a bathing suit) and soft shoes. These can be bought at a total cost of about $2.50. The women's class meets on Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 8 p.m., and from 8 to 9 p.m. they play basketball.

The class for men meets on Tuesday and Thursday, 7 to 9 p.m. There are match games in basketball, handball and baseball and there is also mat work, such as tumbling and wrestling.

There is no charge for either class and the happy spirit of play that pervades extends over to all newcomers who wish to get exercise and relaxation after the day's work.

Sandwich Habit Growing

Seventy factories now make mayonnaise, salad dressing and sandwich spreads in twenty-one different sizes up to a five-gallon jug, as might be expected in a machine age. The business increased last year from more than $11,000,000 to more than $14,000,000. The sandwich habit also has grown. But a few old-fashioned folks still believe that no other kind of salad dressing is as good as the home-made.

GIRLS ACCUSE FERRIS HARTMAN

Cause His Arrest in Wage Dispute

Jeanne Moore and Louise Muehlhousen

JEANNE MOORE, 24 years of age of 2520 West Seventh street, has not received three weeks' wages, amounting to $120, due her as treasurer for the Ferris Hartman Opera Company, she complained yesterday to Deputy City Prosecutor McDonald.

Louise Muehlhausen, also 24, of 7283½ Fountain avenue, told McDonald she was employed for two weeks to answer telephone calls for reservations for a Victor Herbert opera which Hartman, who resides at 1725 North Edgemont street, and Lou B. Jacobs of 200 South Kenmore avenue, were to produce on June 6, last, at the Shrine Auditorium. The opera was not given, they said.

Detective Lieutenants Swan and Marshall took the two men to the Prosecutor's office. Miss Moore signed a complaint against them and before Municipal Judge Curtis both pleaded guilty to violating the State Labor Law regarding payment of wages. They were sentenced to thirty days in jail each, the sentence being suspended on condition that Miss Moore's claim is paid within thirty days.

Mrs. Weimer Assents to Court's Counsel to Make Insanity Defense

Yielding to the suggestion of Superior Judge Wood, Mrs. Ruth Weimer of 418 East Thirty-seventh street, charged with killing her sister September 14, last, to end her troubles, yesterday agreed to enter a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity in addition to her original plea of not guilty.

Judge Wood announced that he will appoint two alienists to examine the woman at once to determine her mental condition. The trial was set for November 19, next, in Superior Judge Fricke's court.

Mrs. Weimer is charged with shooting her sister, Mrs. Mabel Steele, to death after the latter had pleaded for death for days because her estranged husband had obtained custody of her two children.

GOOD-WILL GROUP HOME FROM NORTH

Los Angeles Business Men Report Hearty Welcome at San Francisco

Headed by Mayor Porter and E. J. Fleming, president of the Los Angeles Downtown Business Men's Association, a delegation of 125 prominent Southern Californians yesterday returned from a three days' "good-will" visit to San Francisco.

The delegation left Los Angeles on a special train Saturday night for a two days' visit as guests of the San Francisco Downtown Business Men's Association.

Arriving in San Francisco Sunday morning, the Angelenos were received by Mayor Rolph and Marshall Hale, president of the Bay City association.

The visit was marked by a civic luncheon given in the Hotel St. Francis Monday noon, attended by approximately 1000.

Commenting on the results of the visit, President Fleming yesterday said:

"We feel that this visit to San Francisco has been a long step forward in bridging the old differences and sectionalism that once handicapped relations between the two great cities of the Pacific Coast.

"We went to San Francisco with the sincere desire to cement a closer friendship between our cities, and found among the business men of San Francisco an enthusiastic and wholehearted desire to cooperate."

The Los Angeles delegation officially was welcomed at the Monday luncheon in addresses by Mayor Rolph and President Hale. Mayor Porter and President Fleming responded.

Among other Los Angeles members of the delegation who addressed the meeting were J. A. H. Kerr, first vice-president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; former Gov. Friend W. Richardson, Joseph Scott, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners, and Rex Goodcell.

CLOCK TINKERS' FOES WIND UP

Executive Group of 1000 to Fight Daylight Saving

Prestige of State Declared Endangered by Plan

W. M. Garland Names Aides in November 4 Contest

The formation of an Executive Citizens' Committee of 1000, pledged actively to oppose daylight saving as proposed by Proposition No. 7 on the November ballot, was announced yesterday by William May Garland, president of the 1932 Olympic Games Committee and past president of the State Chamber of Commerce.

"All of those selected hold the honest belief that daylight saving would constitute a real hazard to the future prosperity and prestige of the State," Garland said in making his announcement. "They believe that the State's future progress is at stake."

VICE-CHAIRMEN NAMED

Garland named the following vice-chairmen in the Los Angeles district: George L. Eastman, financier; Charles E. Toberman, W. W. Mines, C. C. Tatum and G. D. Robertson, real estate dealers; Judges Rex B. Goodcell, Walter Guerin, Georgia Bullock, Carlos Hardy, William T. Aggeler and B. Ray Schauer; James F. Collins, former State commander of the American Legion; James E. Davis, chief of the police traffic department; P. G. White, physician; E. B. De Groot, Scout executive; Galen Welch, Collector of Internal Revenue; Lewis H. Smith, attorney; E. Manchester Boddy, publisher; Rev. James Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., Rev. Hugh K. Walker and the following motion-picture executives: Louis B. Mayer, Joseph M. Schenck, Winfield R. Sheehan, Jack L. Warner, Oscar S. Oldknow, Jesse L. Lasky, E. B. Derr, Hal Roach, Mack Sennett and Charles Christie.

Garland stated that his committee represents approximately 1,000,000 voters in Southern California who through their leaders have studied the matter of daylight saving in its relation to industry and the personal lives of more than 5,000,000 inhabitants of the State.

CHAOS FEARED

Rex B. Goodcell, chairman of the volunteer speakers' bureau, said that his committee believes "passage of the daylight saving measure next November would throw into needless chaos 600,000 farmers and dairymen, 500,000 skilled and unskilled laborers, 125,000 hotel employees and 200,000 workers in the motion-picture and theater industries, and jeopardize the merchant, industrialists and real estate operators who depend upon prosperous customers and on simplified, sane practices in the conduct of business.

"A thorough investigation of this subject revealed to us that Germany dropped daylight saving at the close of the war, that Spain, Portugal, Denmark and the Balkan countries repealed their national daylight saving laws because it did none of the alluring things promised for it. Of course, most of us know that this system was tried in America in 1918 and repealed in 1919; no other law ever died so quick a death. In California it was defeated five times by the State Legislature."

EVILS POINTED OUT

"The Liverpool Weekly Post of the 6th inst., reporting a growing sentiment against daylight saving in England, says: 'It reduces the productivity of the farmer, leads to the exploitation of the laborer, is a serious inconvenience and leads to serious nervous disorders in children forced to rise and retire at unnatural hours of the day.'

"In view of these facts, and the expressed antagonism of the labor, farm, hotel and motion-picture interests, as well as the rank and file, we citizens of California unalterably oppose the imposition of antiquated, foreign and unsuccessful laws upon the statute books of our prosperous State."

BANDITS USE METHODS OF CHICAGOANS

Machine Gun Employed in Hold-up of Grocery; Employees Tied Up

Imitating the ruthless methods of Chicago gangsters, two bandits, one armed with a submachine gun, held up the Safeway store at 1209 Cypress street, bound and gagged three employees and escaped with $200 in cash yesterday.

The pair appeared just after R. H. Lowry, manager, opened the grocery. The one with the machine gun stood by the door with his weapon covering the interior while his partner tied up the manager, A. H. Vitzthum, the butcher, and Leroy Townsend, clerk, with cord. Just before his hands were bound Lowry was forced to open the safe. He was then placed with the other victims in a rear room.

A few moments after the bandits left in an automobile which they had parked in front, Lowry hobbled to the front door in a vain effort to get the license number of their car. J. Lane, a tailor, at 1202 Cypress street, observing Lowry's plight, released him and the other victims.

Wilbur McCabe Appeals From Death Sentence

Appealing from a death sentence for the murder of Henry P. Miller, University Club clerk, Wilbur McCabe yesterday filed transcripts of Superior Court proceedings with the Los Angeles office of the Supreme Court.

McCabe was declared to have slain Miller in an attempted hold-up in the club lobby on June 17, last. He was arrested a short time after the crime by officers who trailed him by stains of blood from wounds inflicted, according to the evidence, by Miller with a penknife.

He was found guilty on September 13 in Superior Judge McComb's court and sentence was pronounced on September 17. The place of the hanging was fixed at Folsom prison, but no date was set.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

DEFICIENCY DISEASES

Pellagra is undoubtedly a nutritional disease because, like all of the nutritional diseases, it seems to be caused by a lack of important elements in the food. Pellagra is often found in the Southern States and in the southern part of Europe and follows a restricted diet of using too much devitalized food and not enough meat or other protein. The diet is the most important thing to consider in the cure.

The symptoms usually begin in the winter when there is a smaller variety of food to choose from. The first symptoms are a slight nervous and digestive disturbance, followed in the spring by sore mouth, heartburn and diarrhea. The portion of the skin exposed to the sun shows a sharply defined inflammation, after which the patient shows marked mental and nervous changes, even insanity. In chronic cases the patient may have a recurring attack each spring, becoming worse every year. It seems that a toxic absorption from the lower bowel is a secondary cause, and a cure rests upon a thorough bodily housecleaning program.

The best diet seems to be an occasional acid fruit fast of from four to five days at intervals of a month apart, followed by a well-balanced diet as suggested in my weekly menus found in this paper. It is especially important that plenty of meat or other protein foods be obtained. The use of these menus will usually be sufficient to correct the trouble after the fruit fast.

BERIBERI

The Chinese are a very old race, and yet one of their first medical histories deals with beriberi; a disease which is now known to be due to a lack of vitamin B. The first suspicion that this disease was due to the lack of some unknown food substance began when it found that those who lived exclusively on polished rice developed this disease, while those who used unpolished rice did not develop it. It was found that beriberi could be prevented either by eating whole rice or by eating polished rice and with it some of the polishings.

The patient affected with beriberi has a pronounced weakness of the legs and great fatigue upon exertion. The stomach becomes tender and the muscles of the calves, hand and forearm usually ache. As the disease progresses the arms and legs may become paralyzed. Some swelling or edema usually accompanies the trouble. Neuritis becomes well developed and there may be much gastric disturbance.

When the white or polished rice is fed to chickens they show similar symptoms of weakness of the legs, followed by paralysis, symptoms which closely resemble those of beriberi.

It is said that those who live on such devitalized foods as polished rice, sago, peeled boiled potatoes, corn grit, macaroni, white flour, sugar and lard will develop this disease if they do not have some of the foods containing vitamin B in their diet. This vitamin is present in yeast, the germ of wheat, green leaves, avocados and the growing parts of vegetables, cabbages, spinach, carrots, nuts and glandular meats. Care should be used in cooking these foods, as the vitamins may be destroyed by excessive salt or soda.

It has been noticed that children nursed by beriberic mothers may develop the disease, another indication of how important it is that the nursing mother receive a proper and well-balanced diet.

Children say "great"

You can eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit right out of the package with milk or cream—but it tastes better if you crisp the biscuits in the oven and pour hot milk over them. The flavory shreds of baked wheat are so crisp and delicious—children always ask for more and it is so good for them. Contains everything their growing bodies need. Delicious with fruits.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PORK POT ROAST

Trim a small shoulder of pork, and place the trimmings in a Dutch oven. Dry out the trimmings, and remove with all of the fat but one tablespoonful, add to the oven, two tablespoonfuls of flour, and cook until brown, with one thinly sliced onion, then add two cupfuls of tomatoes, and the pork shoulder. Cook until well done, turning often, when partly cooked season with salt and pepper. Lift out the pork, onto a hot platter, skim the fat from the gravy and pour over the meat.

SWEET POTATOES AND PEANUTS TOASTED

Take six medium-sized sweet potatoes, uncooked, one-half cupful of sugar, one-third cupful of milk, three tablespoonfuls of butter, the yolks of two eggs. Scoop out the inside of the raw potatoes, after having cut them in two lengthwise, leaving enough of the skin to make a film shell, place in the scooped out portion, in a double boiler, and cook until tender, then mash, whip lightly and add the sugar, milk, butter and beaten egg yolks. Pile the mixture in the uncooked shells, sprinkle with finely chopped salted peanuts and bake in a rather hot oven, until the potatoes are well browned.

CABBAGE SUPREME

Place in a sauce pan one quarter-cupful of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, and cook until well browned, add two cupfuls of strained tomato juice, and one cupful of beef stock, five peppercorns, one-half bay leaf, three cloves, one tablespoonful of sugar, and one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion. Stir until it boils, then simmer slowly for twenty minutes, put through a strainer, then combine it with three cupfuls of finely shredded uncooked cabbage, one-half of a chopped green pepper, place in a sauce pan and cook uncovered until the cabbage is tender. Place on a hot platter, garnish with parsley and quarters of hard-boiled eggs.

COMBINATION FRUIT PIE

Three cupfuls of fresh rhubarb, cut in one-inch slices, one and one-half cupfuls of strawberries, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, the yolks of two eggs, one-fourth teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and two small bananas. Wash the rhubarb, cover it with a half a cup of sugar, add a tablespoonful of water, and cook the rhubarb until tender. Wash and hull the strawberries, and stew them with a quarter of a cupful of sugar, allow both mixtures to cool. Mix the cornstarch with a little of the strawberry juice, and stir it into the rhubarb, beat the egg yolks slightly, and add to the rhubarb, then add the well-drained berries, and the banana pulp. Mix altogether, pour into a pie pan lined with plain pastry, place in a hot oven, for the first ten minutes, then reduce the heat and bake thirty minutes longer. When cool, garnish with whole berries.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

WHY IS SLAPPING INEFFECTIVE AS A PUNISHMENT?

An Answer to a Young Mother

The habit of slapping small babies when they molest the home furnishings is probably one of the commonest of parental punishments. The slappings may not be done in a mean way, the parent may not even be angry. She honestly thinks that this is a legitimate way to teach her child not to touch what she knows must not be touched.

Suppose baby pulls a book from the family table and tears it to pieces. Naturally the mother is annoyed and angry. Also she wants to prevent this happening again. So she slaps the baby's hands, a smart and stinging blow. Baby cries pitifully and rubs his red, little hand and mother feels like a brute and says: "It hurts me more than it does him."

But two days later baby finds another book and tears it to bits.

"The little wretch," moans his mother. "He knew he was doing wrong for he looked at me with absolute deviltry in his eyes. I just had to spank him hard."

PRIZED POSSESSIONS HARMLESS TO CHILDREN

Why didn't the slapping do the work? We know there is a perfectly good rule of psychology (Thorndyke) which says, "Attach annoyance to a response and it is weakened." Surely slapping is an annoyance to the child, as is all pain. But in the above case the annoyance was not attached to the touching of the object, but to the mother, who is entirely outside of the situation.

Had the pages of the book cut baby's finger as he tore them apart, he would have howled and dropped the sheets and in the future looked with mistrust at all books. Had the book toppled on him as he pulled it off and given him a bang on the head, he would not need to be told that he must not pull books from the table. He would probably cry at the sight of one. Many objects have the power within themselves of teaching the child the dangers of handling them. Hot stoves, radiators, knives and scissors are all self-punishers. But we are the child's protectors and cannot allow him to handle these objects in order to discover their natural penalties. We have to keep them out of his way.

Most of the things which we tell children they must not touch carry no penalties. They are harmless so far as the child is concerned. So instead of preventing the child from repeating the forbidden activity, slapping merely prevents him from doing it while we are around. He runs like a deer with the forbidden treasure in his hand. He waits until our back is turned to shoot like an arrow straight for the prohibited spot. He is not afraid of doing what he has been slapped for doing. He is afraid only of his mother who does the slapping. Our leaflet on "Obedience and Punishment" suggests some more appropriate punishments than slapping, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope inclosed with any reader's request will bring it to you.

Slapping as a punishment is never successful. It is just a temporary check, and that check is removed as soon as the slapper is out of sight. We have to use other tactics in training children.

BRIDGE REPAIR FINANCED

Long Beach was assured of money to repair the Anaheim-street bridge over the Los Angeles River yesterday when the Board of Supervisors allocated $18,670 for the work. The appropriation was made on the recommendation of Road Commissioner Jones. The bridge is over a channel maintained by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Secure Covers

A discarded blanket comes in very handy in bedmaking, if you like the covers to stay put at the foot. Divide the blanket in half and let half be under the mattress and the other half over the foot of the bed just under the spread. It certainly holds the covers firm.

A Reminder

When roasting a piece of meat in an iron skillet with a handle, be sure to turn the handle toward the back of the oven and avoid severe burns from thoughtlessly grasping the hot handle.

Endorsed by Nurse

"Just a few words of praise of your medicine. Nothing gave me relief and health as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. I am a practical nurse and was so rundown that I was unable to work. I used to suffer agonies at times and would have to lie down the biggest part of the day. After two bottles of Vegetable Compound I felt better. Now I have used ten bottles and feel fine. I recommend it to many of my patients."—Mrs. Florence Johnson, R. R. #3, Chetopa, Kansas.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

FARMER BROWN'S BOY SAVES THE DEER

Blessed he who brings relief,
And puts an end to fear and grief.
—Lightfoot the Deer.

The moment Farmer Brown's boy saw the two deer lying head to head, unable to get to their feet, he understood exactly what had happened. He had never seen such a thing before, but he had read about it.

"Locked antlers!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's boy. "The poor things! Just see how they roll their eyes at me!"

He walked around the two fallen animals and presently they struggled to their knees and then to their feet. But they were so tired and so weak that they trembled. And they did roll their eyes. It seemed to Farmer Brown's boy as if those eyes were simply begging him to do something. He didn't waste any time. He turned on his heel and began to hurry away.

Peter Rabbit, who had been peeping out and watching hopefully, was disappointed. Farmer Brown's boy had been there and had done nothing.

"I told you he couldn't do anything," cried Sammy Jay.

"Perhaps he's gone to get someone to help him," said Peter trying to appear hopeful.

"I don't believe it," said Sammy Jay, just to tease Peter. Nevertheless, Sammy in a few minutes flew away and secretly followed Farmer Brown's boy. The latter hurried back home. He went to the barn. Presently he reappeared with something in his hands. What it was Sammy Jay didn't know. Sammy waited only long enough to see that Farmer Brown's boy was heading straight back for the Green Forest. Then Sammy flew back as fast as he could go. "He's coming back! Farmer Brown's boy's coming back!" he cried.

"What did I tell you!" cried Peter joyfully.

Now, the thing that Farmer Brown's boy had gone home for was a saw. The two deer were down again. Their tongues hung from their mouths, for they were very, very thirsty. Farmer Brown's boy's heart fairly ached with pity as he looked at them. He reached out and patted Lightfoot lightly. "Never mind, old fellow," said he. "It won't be long now before you are out of your trouble." Then he carefully studied those antlers, which are what many people call horns. He studied them to see just how they were locked together. Then he began to saw one of those antlers. It was one of the antlers of the strange deer who had challenged Lightfoot. There was silence all around as Farmer Brown's boy worked. Presently that antler was cut through. Then he cut through the other antler. He had cut at just the right places. Lightfoot, somewhat weakly trying to toss his head, found to his surprise that he could do it. He was free! Farmer Brown's boy stepped back. After a moment or two Lightfoot scrambled to his feet. So did the other deer.

For a moment or two both acted as if they didn't know what to do. They acted as if they couldn't believe that they were free. Lightfoot shook his head with its crown of great antlers. The other deer shook his head, but only part of his antlers remained. He seemed to sense this, and, turning aside, he slowly made his way back in the direction of the Great Mountain, as if in shame because he no longer had his wonderful crown of antlers. Lightfoot took a step forward and blew a faint challenge. But there was no more fight left in either Lightfoot or the other. The stranger stopped at the Laughing Brook and drank and drank and drank; and Lightfoot followed him there, so that the two enemies were side by side as they drank. Then the stranger went on his way and Lightfoot turned to join Mrs. Lightfoot, who was waiting for him. They didn't even notice Farmer Brown's boy, who stood looking on.

The Happy Wonder Bakers themselves, Frank Black's famous orchestra, entertainers from other radio broadcasts, simply "pitched in" till there wasn't a single roll left. Even the singing violins agreed that "Happy Days are Here Again."

COUNTY STUDIES AIRPORT LEASE

El Monte Property Owners Call on Supervisors

Beaty, Limping From Crash, Advocates Action

Board Asks for Report of Plan Commission

Another effort to revive the county's interest in leasing of 968 acres of land near El Monte for a major airport was made yesterday before the Board of Supervisors by representatives of the thirty-four owners of the property.

The effort was successful to the extent that the Supervisors ordered all data relative to the project, which was obtained by the County Regional Planning Commission, since the matter was first proposed three years ago, be placed before them on next Monday.

BEATY AT SESSION

The proposition to lease the land for an airport was brought before the board by Supervisor Beaty, who made his first appearance at the Hall of Records yesterday following a crash in an airplane at King City a week ago last Saturday. Beaty, still limped and carried a cane.

A few minutes after his arrival he declared:

"I would like to bring the matter of an airport at El Monte before this board again. Since my experience recently I am for bigger and better airports. We can acquire this property and I think we should take some sort of action by adopting a motion of intention."

WRIGHT OPPOSED

Supervisor Wright opposed the motion. After discussion it was agreed that the Regional Planning Commission submit data before the board next Monday.

The proposal made is that the owners build a fully equipped major airport, known under the regulations of the Department of Commerce as an A-1A port, then turn all the property and land over to the county on a lease for forty years with the option of releasing at the end of the period for another forty years.

TERMS OF LEASE

Under the terms of the lease the county would pay $85,000 for the first year and $185,000 each year thereafter. At any time during the life of the lease the county would be permitted to purchase the field, including all its improvements and equipment for $3,250,000.

According to those who are advocating the county taking over the project, the field is an ideal location. They say it is only thirteen miles east of the postoffice; twenty-five minutes by automobile and twenty-two minutes by the Pacific Electric Railway.

A motion made by Supervisor Wright that other sites for an airport be considered by the board at the same time the El Monte site is being considered was lost.

COLORFUL FESTIVAL TONIGHT

U. S. C. Foreign Students to Celebrate

Whole World Represented

CARRYING flags of their nations and dressed in the costumes of their native lands, foreign students of the University of Southern California will participate in the annual celebration of international night on the Trojan campus tonight with members of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. sponsoring the event.

Dr. Willard Lyon, professor of philosophy of California College in China, will act as master of ceremonies. One of the leading events of the evening will be a grand march, accompanied by varied national songs for the gala students. Every part of the world will be represented in the entertainment. From French, Mexican, German, Russian, Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Hawaiian, Czecho-Slovakian and Hindu organizations entertainers will be selected.

Draped with flags representative of forty-two nations, the Y.M.C.A. Hut will be the scene of the festival. John Dorfner is assisting the two organizations with arrangements for the affair.

BOYS FLEE SPADRA COLONY

Deputy sheriffs yesterday were searching for William Martinez, Mexican, 15 years of age, and Corinthian Green, 15, colored, inmates of the Pacific Colony at Spadra, who escaped from the institution. The boys, who were committed to the colony by Los Angeles juvenile authorities, were dressed in regulation blue shirts and overalls.

Hughes Asserts United Artists Price Too High

Definite word that Howard Hughes, young motion-picture producer, has abandoned all plans for buying into United Artists was received in Hollywood yesterday from New York. Hughes sent a message to his local office that he had ended negotiations with Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists.

"I was prepared to take over Art Cinema Finance Corporation at a reasonable figure, but the price asked was beyond all reason in view of the unsettled and none too prosperous condition of the motion-picture industry at this time," wired Hughes.

"I regret we were unable to come to terms, but I can now say definitely I am no longer interested in the proposition."

The Art Cinema Company is a financing organization for United Artists. Hughes, who makes millions in the oil business and who produced "Hell's Angels," a picture that cost in excess of $3,000,000, will leave New York within several days to start a new production program.

ROTH TO BE QUIZZED IN BRIBE CASE

Fitts Seeks Additional Evidence for Friedlander and Crawford Trial

New evidence concerning the bribery charges upon which Charles H. Crawford, Los Angeles politician, and Jack Friedlander, former State Corporation Commissioner, are to be tried on the 20th inst., will be laid before Dist.-Atty. Fitts today, Fitts indicated yesterday.

The first move in the renewed investigation will be the questioning of Jack Roth, head of the firm of J. H. Roth & Co., and Frank Creasey, formerly connected with the Commonwealth Securities Company. Creasey is under indictment with J. J. Costello and W. W. Costello on eleven counts of grand theft. They are accused of defraudng clients of their firm.

Friedlander and Crawford were indicted last April after an investigation which arose out of the renewed Julian Petroleum inquiry. The indictment charges the two men and S. C. Lewis, former head of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, who also is named in the true bill, with conspiring together to control the State Corporation Commissioner's office in such a manner that special concessions could be granted to J. H. Roth & Co.

The indictment sets forth fourteen overt acts of asserted bribery ranging from sums of $250 to $3000, which it is charged were paid to Friedlander. Friedlander denies the charges, asserting that all money which he received was from legitimate fees which he accepted as a practicing attorney.

VALLEY TO GET MORE OFFICERS

San Fernando Area Given Promise by Police Board of Better Protection

Assurance that ten motorcycle officers will be assigned for regular duty in the San Fernando Valley and that an effort will be made to afford the district better police protection was given the San Fernando Valley Committee on Safety by the Police Commission yesterday.

The committee, represented by Harrun L. Rowland, secretary, Edgar Rice Burroughs, author, Police Captain C. A. Hodsen and others, charged that drunk drivers are making the district dangerous to both pedestrians and autoists. They petitioned for more boulevard stops and urged more attention be given the district.

City Councilman Randall, Capt. C. A. Hodson and Deputy Chief James E. Davis spoke in behalf of more motorcycle officers for the district. Capt. E. A. Elkins of the Board of Public Works was another speaker.

Chief Steckel explained the fifty new motorcycles ordered recently will be received by November 1 and will be manned immediately by present personnel of the department and that he has arranged for ten to patrol the valley.

Fines or Jail Terms Imposed on Communists

Found guilty by a jury of violating the city handbill ordinance by distributing Communist literature, Gabria Rabinbach and Louis Klein were denied a new trial and sentenced yesterday by Municipal Judge Bogue. Rabinbach was fined $100 with the option of spending ten days in jail, and Klein given a fine of $25 or five days.

Both men gave oral notice of appeal, but were committed to jail when they failed to post appeal bond. They were arrested by officers of the police intelligence bureau on September 12, last, at Ninth street and Broadway.

Wife Misses Family Cash

Spending family money on other women was charged against her husband by Mrs. Dessie E. Finnicum yesterday in obtaining a divorce from Max L. Finnicum, automobile salesman of Pasadena.

"I found our bank account $35 short, and asked my husband about it," complained Mrs. Finnicum. "He knocked me unconscious."

Superior Judge Bishop ordered the husband to pay $30 a month for the support of their son, Tommy, 2 years of age.

LOVE LOSS CHARGED AS WIFE GETS DECREE

Some one else won her husband's heart, Mrs. Helen C. Bennett testified yesterday in winning a divorce from Vivian Mason Bennett, an oil man. They married April 17, 1917, and separated March 7, last. Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a decree on grounds of cruelty, and ordered Bennett to pay $30 for the support of their son, Alfred, 10 years of age.

Carol Lombard

Word was received in Hollywood that Carol Lombard, motion-picture actress, is sole beneficiary under the will of her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Knight, who died in Fort Wayne, Ind. The amount she is to receive was not given but friends stated it may reach $10,000.

Miss Lombard returned to Hollywood two weeks ago from New York with a new contract with Paramount. The inheritance will not interfere with her career.

Grand Jury May Get Walkup Quiz Data Tomorrow

Under the personal charge of Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart the testimony and evidence gathered by the police in the Police Commissioner Walkup "frame-up" plot will probably be presented to the grand jury tomorrow, according to reports in the prosecutor's office.

Several new witnesses and a digest of the entire case occupied Stewart all yesterday afternoon together with a conference with Detectives James, McMullin and Nolan, who investigated the case under the direction of Chief of Detectives Taylor.

According to the officers they are in a position to prove that a plot was hatched to lure Walkup to an apartment and then place him in a compromising position with Miss Helen Lee, a pretty blond.

Statements from Miss Lee and others are already in the hands of the authorities and will be placed before the grand jury. About a dozen witnesses in all will be called, according to the present plan.

Oil Stations Add Wire Service

From now on the motorist who finds it expedient to keep in touch with home and office no longer need wait until he reaches a town or city to dispatch a telegram. He has only to draw up before the first Standard Oil service station that looms up on the open road, and—zip! — it is done, for the Postal Telegraph Company has just so arranged, C. A. Holzer, Los Angeles manager, announced yesterday.

The new service was inaugurated Monday and enables not only motorists but pedestrians, too, if they care to do so, to file telegrams, cables and radio messages for immediate dispatch. It is in effect also in many other States by arrangement with other gasoline companies operating chains of stations.

Cell Houses Blast-Defier

"He says he's dynamite-proof and can stand within a few feet of an explosion of the stuff and not be hurt."

Indicating Renick Frey, 31-year-old transient from Corsicana, Tex., C. E. Erickson, business manager of United Artists' studio, made that complaint yesterday to Deputy Sheriffs Packer and Wood when they arrived in response to a call.

"He's been hanging around here for hours," continued Erickson, "demanding to see Douglas Fairbanks, whom he says he knows personally."

"Is that right?" inquired the officers.

"Correct," said Frey.

Whereupon the deputies hustled him off to the County Jail, where he was booked on vagrancy charges.

BAIL OF PHYSICIAN IN DEATH CASE LOWERED

The bail of Dr. William C. Fiske, Hermosa Beach physician charged with murder as the result of the death of Miss Vera Nelson from an asserted illegal operation, was reduced from $10,000 to $5000 by Superior Judge Wood yesterday. Dr. Fiske is scheduled to go to trial before Superior Judge Hardy on November 12, next.

PARTY GIRL DEATH CASE HAS DELAY

Further Official Inquiries Await Result of Analysis of Liquor She Drank

Investigation into death of Hazel Cole, young Los Angeles girl, who died in a Culver City apartment after indulging in a liquor party with Bobby La Salle, prize fighter, marked time yesterday while an analysis of the liquor, suspected of containing lethal elements, was being completed by County Chemist Abernathy. A report may be made today.

In the meantime, Joe Vera, C. Wilson, Sam S. Stutzel and Dan W. Hatt, asserted Venice and Santa Monica bootleggers, said to have sold La Salle the liquor, are held on charges of suspicion of manslaughter and Wright Act violation.

Inquest also was postponed until autopsy findings are returned. If examination discloses death from a natural cause, no inquest will be conducted.

The girl was found dead Sunday morning. Beside her lay La Salle in a drunken stupor. Later investigation developed the fact that La Salle and a companion had met Miss Cole and another girl at an Ocean Park dance Saturday night and had taken them to the apartment.

Organ Grinder Escapes Jail

Los Angeles has an ordinance against monkeys and hurdy-gurdies on the streets, Pete Iezza, 50 years of age of 716½ Cole avenue, discovered yesterday. Police Officer Nowacki heard Iezza's organ at Sixth and Grand View streets and placed both the Italian and his monkey in custody.

In Municipal Judge Curtis's court Iezza received a suspended jail sentence of thirty days on condition that he keeps his monkey and hurdy-guardy off the streets hereafter.

'Hexed' Woman in Sanity Test

Charged with cutting her cat's ears to avert being "hexed," Mrs. Martha Peterson appeared yesterday in Municipal Judge Eagan's court for trial.

The trial was halted by the court, however, soon after the woman took the witness stand. She was ordered to the psycopathic ward of the General Hospital for observation until the 28th inst., when she will again be brought before Judge Eagan for a report on her sanity.

BOARD STILL DEADLOCKED ON CHEAP POLICE BA

Puzzled over what to do with the 32-cent police badges ordered from a Rochester company for the Los Angeles Police Department, the Police Commission still has the shipment in its possession. Satisfied that no matter what is done with the badges to improve them they will still look too cheap for officers with new uniforms in a city of more than 1,000,000 population, some of the commissioners favor the designing of a new issue and to have them manufactured in Los Angeles.

Commissioners Coe and Walkup do not favor them and the former suggests that the commission admit it has erred in an effort to get cheap badges and design a new type which will be appropriate for a metropolitan police force.

Another suggestion is that the 17-cent special-officer badges be placed in a warehouse and that the regular police badges be relettered for use of the special officers. This would add 15 or more cents each to the cost of the special-officer badges and reduce the loss in making a new issue for the police department, it is said.

DUCKS AS WATCHDOGS PROVE TO BE ALL WET

"Pigs is pigs," wrote Ellis Parker Butler, humorist, in years gone by.

"But, ducks," bemoaned P. M. Russell, San Dimas rancher, to deputy sheriffs yesterday, "now you take ducks. Ducks is all wet; that is, as watchdogs, I mean."

"What's trouble?" the officers asked.

"Well, sir," Russell explained, "I raise hogs; that is, I'm tryin' to—but pig thieves is makin' it plenty tough. They started makin' off with 'em couple months ago; and Sunday I checked up and there was missin' the followin', to wit: About thirty-five weanlings worth $1750 and about the same number o' sows worth $1575.

"So yesterday I bought a goose and five ducks and turned 'em loose on the ranch, figurin' they'd set up a racketin' soon's the prowlers set foot on the ground. And what do you think? Darned if the thieves didn't make off with the ducks!"

After an investigation, the officers reported they have no clews except a few miscellaneous footprints.

HELEN HICKS WINS PAR-SMASHING GOLF MATCH

WHEN VICTORY SMILED ON HELEN HICKS

And Helen smiled right back as the winning putt dropped on the seventeenth green of the north course, Los Angeles Country Club, yesterday afternoon to give her a 3-and-1 victory over Miss Lucille DeLong of San Diego in a brilliantly contested first-round match for the national women's championship. Pressed by the great golf of the slender southern girl, Miss Hicks batted around the north course in 77 strokes, the best effort of the tournament. "Smile," requested the photographer after "Billie's" victory, and the personality miss of America's women golfers certainly registered. Miss Hicks is rated as one of the most dangerous players in the tournament and she will make her fellow-favorites step to beat her. [Photos by A. P.]

BROWN VICTOR IN VARNER TILT

Newsboy Earns Decision in Speedy Fistic Mill

Maurice Holtzer Defeats Hess at Olympic

Goldie is on Short End of Thrilling Soiree

BY PAUL LOWRY

If main events are to be decided by a flip of Promoter Jack Doyle's spare four-bit piece commend to us the Newsboy Brown-Claude Varner fight at the Olympic last night.

Brown, the best flyweight in the country, won from Varner after the most sizzling ten-rounder fought in this city for months. Just out of the preliminary ranks Varner, a ball slim will-o'-the-wisp kid, did the unheard-of when he smacked Brown to the canvas in the fourth round.

It was a right-hander that landed flush on the point, and Brownie went flat on his back. He was up like a flash, and finished the round so furiously that only the knockdown gave Varner the margin.

From then it was a sensational bout, Varner again crashing Brown with a right in the sixth, which sent Newsboy into the ropes.

THREE AND THREE

At the end of the sixth round the count was even—three rounds apiece—but Brown took three of the remaining four rounds with lefts and rights to the body at close quarters

SINGER IN ONE-SIDED RING WIN

Mack Stages Retreating Go With Lightweight Champ in Chicago Scrap

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Al Singer, newly crowned lightweight champion, engaging in his first lightweight match since knocking out Sammy Mandell in one round last July, easily defeated Eddie Mack, the Denver collegian, in a ten-round, one-sided match in the Chicago Stadium tonight. A crowd of 10,000 spectators watched Singer chase Mack around the ring from the opening bell until the finish. Singer won nine of the ten rounds, with Mack showing only a flash in the fifth. In all other rounds, Mack was in full retreat, and when Singer did catch up with him he grabbed and held on for dear life.

Mack, a tall, straight boxer, at least a head taller than the world's champion, confined his offensive efforts to a light left jab, and a frightened right cross which he let go as Singer came booming in on him. For the most part, however, he was busy running backwards around the ring, trying to escape from Singer's two-fisted attack to the head and body.

As early as the first round, Singer convincingly demonstrated that

Title Series Dates Named

Hollywood and Los Angeles open their play-off for the Pacific Coast League championship Wednesday afternoon at Wrigley Field. That was decided yesterday at a meeting held by League President Harry A. Williams and Joe Patrick and Bill Lane, heads of the rival local clubs. Patrick won the toss of the coin and the Seraphs, first-half race winners, will be the home team Wednesday. The Stars, who have the second half cinched, will wear the white uniforms Thursday and the teams will alternate as the home club during the series, which will be for seven games or until one outfit wins four contests. Ladies will be admitted free to the Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday games. Some of the play-off games may be played at night, this being decided by the weather conditions.

TWIN GRID BILL HILL SATURDAY

Trojan Frosh to Play Bear Babes Prior to S.C. Varsity Game

BY BRAVEN DYER

Fans who like their football in large quantities are in for a heavy helping at the Coliseum Saturday. Southern California plays the Utah Aggies in the main affair of the day, while the Trojan frosh entertain California's peagreens in the curtain raiser, which is slated to start at 12:30 o'clock.

Last year Aubrey Devine's boys trimmed the California frosh, 21 to 19, in a hectic tussle. Due to the fact that the baby Bears lost to the St. Mary's freshmen, 22 to 7, last week, Devine's charges will be slight favorites this week-end.

Aubrey's team is lining up considerably changed from its early season appearance. Homer Griffiths of Fairfax is at quarter, with Ken Fay of L.A. High and Bob McNeish of Van Nuys as halfbacks. Williams of Lindsay is playing full.

Ford Palmer, injured some time ago, is expected back at his end berth Saturday, pairing with Erskine. The tackles now are Ray Gribi of Hanford and Lawrence Stevens of Piedmont. Gribi started as a back, went to end and now is a tackle, Aaron Rosenberg, the big boy from Fairfax, is installed at running guard, and plays tackle on defense. Dye plays the other guard position with Uhl sitting in at center.

The Utah Aggies are coached by Dick Romney and were tied last week in a scoreless game with Colorado U. It was this same Colo-

Bruins Stage Novel Stunts

Something new and different in the way of bleacher stunts will be offered to Southern California grid fans by the U.C.L.A. rooting section Friday night at the Coliseum when the Bruins clash with the St. Mary's Gaels. Instead of the card stunts as is customary at day games, the Bruin rooters will use electric lights between halves to trace figures and words. The stunts will be done by 576 men in the rooting section, each man to have a blue light and a gold bulb, with forty-eight men supervising.

LUCILLE DE LONG DEFEATED IN FIRST-ROUND BATTLE

Miss Quier Loses to Mrs. Potter in Only Upset of Day; Other Favorites Win Handily

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

A mere slip of a girl with a fighting heart, Miss Lucille De Long of the La Jolla Country Club, packed more dramatic, pulse-quickening thrills into seventeen holes of golf yesterday afternoon over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club than all the remaining fifteen first-round matches in the national women's championship put together.

Outdriven and outweighed, a slender stripling alongside the buxom, hard-hitting Helen Hicks of Inwood, N. Y., the 20-year-old Southern California star forced her nationally famous opponent to uncork some of the greatest golf shots ever seen on any course to beat her, 3 and 1.

When they stepped off the seventeenth green Miss De Long had a par for an 82 and "Billie" a 5 for a sparkling 77, four under women's par.

The Hicks-De Long match shared the day's big moments with the upset of Miss Edith Quier, young Reading (Pa.) golfer, who lost to Mrs. Brent Potter of San Jose, 2 up. Holding a 1-up lead going to eighteen and with the eastern girl staging a beautiful comeback, the former Northern California women's champion crashed three tremendous wood shots down the heart of the fairway, the third, a fine spoon shot ending up twelve feet from the pin. Miss Quier's third found a trap and she dashed over to congratulate Mrs. Potter without playing the hole out.

OFF TOP FORM

Miss Quier is a splendid sportswoman and a brilliant golfer, but seems to lack the match-play temperament that makes champions.

PHILS, ROBINS IN BIG TRADE

Quakers Get Trio, Cash for O'Doul and Thompson

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—In the biggest player deal since the close of the 1930 baseball season, the Brooklyn Robins today obtained two Philadelphia stars, Outfielder Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, 1929 National League batting king, and Second Baseman Fresco Thompson, in exchange for two pitchers, one rookie outfielder and a good-sized check.

The Robins, in fortifying for 1931 two of the positions in which they were weak this year, outbid at least two other National League clubs, including the Chicago Cubs, in the scramble for Philly talent.

Harvard - Army Meet; Wisconsin Plays Pennsylvania; Illinois Encounters Northwestern

BY GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Eight of the strongest football teams in the United States of America meet this next Saturday and the casualty list will be heavier than ever by 4:30 p.m. of that war-like day. Here are the games:

Notre Dame vs. Carnegie Tech—at South Bend.

Harvard vs. Army—at Boston.

Pennsylvania vs. Wisconsin—at Madison.

Illinois vs. Northwestern—at Urbana.

These eight teams are not only unbeaten but they have shown strength well above the average. They can all step. And each one happens to be meeting an opponent of almost equal strength.

If Notre Dame is to be beaten this fall by anybody, which may not happen, it is as likely to be by Carnegie Tech as any one else.

GOOD MATERIAL

Judge Wally Steffen has the material this fall, and he has a team that carries speed, power and a bewildering assortment of plays. He has the line and the backfield and two fine ends.

Above all that, Carnegie Tech seems to feel each year that it can take the South Bend Cyclone, and put it in a cellar. Even when Notre Dame had the Four Horsemen, Carnegie Tech gave Rockne's team a terrific battle and came near winning. In 1926, Carnegie beat a strong Notre Dame team, 19 to 0. Two years ago Carnegie won something like 27 to 7. Last fall Notre Dame won by a single touchdown, 7 to 0.

Carnegie is unquestionably stronger than last fall. It is largely a matter of stopping that South Bend backfield, headed by one of the best sets of backs the game has seen in years—Savoldi, Brill, Schwartz, Mullins and Carrideo—to name only a few.

They are big, fast, rugged and equipped to put on any type of offense. But for all that Notre Dame will meet a rival that is coming on, not to make a good showing, but to win. Kaiser, the 230-pound Greek, is a human battering ram. Eyth is one of the best backs of the day. The line is strong and Steffen can always be depended on to provide an attack none too easy to break up.

Pennsylvania, with one of her best teams, has now left the soft pastures for the jungle on ahead.

There are Wisconsin, Kansas and Notre Dame waiting and the first of these is Wisconsin, rated as one of the strongest teams in the Western Conference. Pennsylvania moves on to Madison, where her fast backs, Gentle, Masters, Greene, Gette, etc., will need all they have to make much ground. Neither Harvard nor the Army has yet faced any stiff opposition, but both get the old baptism of flame on Saturday.

Harvard's strength is well known provided the Crimson's cripple list is put into shape. There has been a general feeling that the Army must be weak with Cagle and Murrell missing, whereas the Army will be stronger than it was a year ago with a better all-around distribution of backfield strength, with several backs to handle the job only one or two men have carried for four years. Fields and Letzeller are two fine backs. And they will have their share of help.

HANK OUT AGAIN

Northwestern has been favored to win the conference title this season, but Zuppke and Illinois have upset a number of predictions in the past. Northwestern will miss Hank Bruder, a star back, who is still in the midst of a smallpox huddle. Zuppke has lost his seniors, but Illinois will be geared up for this game after last fall's defeat. Illinois will be one of the hardest hurdles in Northwestern's campaign.

When Yale and Princeton fell together in the second week of October it was no terrific shock.

But the coast is still dazed by the thought that on the same date, barely after the season had opened, California and the University of Southern California had been beaten and Stanford had been tied.

These three teams are only supposed to lose to some member of the Pacific Coast Big Three. But there is no longer a Big Three in the West any more than there is in the East. Washington State broke up this argument by beating California and U.S.C. on successive Saturdays, which is a pretty fair season's work—and turned out in eight days. This was a dizzy pace for Washington State to face in the first two weeks of October but so far this squad has a distinct lead on the Pacific Coast.

There have already been two or three mix-ups on rules regarding fumbles of one type or another, which indicates this point can stand further clarifying or simplifying. One instance came in the Villanova-Gettysburg game, another in the Yale-Georgia game, where Yale was awarded a touchdown that Walter Okeson of the rules committee rules the Blue was not entitled to have. That touchdown might easily have been the deciding factor. The aftermath in this case would have been full of brines.

Yale now has no one to meet except Brown, Army, Dartmouth, Princeton and Harvard. That's all. And none of these will be harder to handle than Georgia was.

PLAN COOPER NIGHT FOR CALIENTE COURSE

The 20th inst. has been settled as the night for "Harry Cooper Night," at Caliente Golf Park, Oscar E. Schmidt, owner of the big thirty-six-hole course, announced yesterday. "Harry Cooper Night," was originally announced for the 15th inst., but the fact that several internationally famous golf professionals had not arrived in Los Angeles, caused the postponement.

YANKEES SIGN JOE M'CARTHY

ing graduated to the majors, he managed Louisville for six years, playing four years. He was an infielder but never played major baseball.

He spent most of his fifteen years as an active player in the New York State League, the International and American Association.

He won two pennants at Louisville and his colonels were the first American Association club to defeat Baltimore in the "little world's series," after the Orioles of Jack Dunn had dominated minor league baseball for years.

Joe was charged with an error on his formal utterance as an American leaguer. Col. Ruppert informed him for the benefit of the fans who will see and hear the signing in theaters later, that when he signed his name he would be manager of the Yankees for the next two years.

"Thank you, Col. Huston," replied McCarthy, "and I hope the next one I sign will be for five years."

"I hope so, too, Mr. McCarty," was the reply, "but the name is Ruppert."

Col. T. L. Huston was formerly Col. Ruppert's partner in the ownership of the Yankees.

Ruppert paid tribute to Bob Shawky, retiring manager of the Yankees, saying he signed McCarthy because of his greater experience.

"Shawkey did as well as any manager could have done with the Yankees last year," he said, "and I hope he will become a great manager. I may regret that I have replaced him and I hope he will be successful."

McCarthy said the club would be strengthened where needed.

The new manager said Arthur Fletcher, Yankee coach, would be retained "if he cares to come back." It had been rumored that Fletcher, former manager of the Phillies, would not have a place in the McCarthy organization.

McCarthy will continue to make his home at Buffalo.

CHICAGO CUBS OBTAIN SMITH FROM BRAVES

BOSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Boston National League baseball club today announced acquisition of Wesley Schulmerich, classy Los Angeles outfielder, and William McAfee, Chicago Cubs pitching recruit, in a deal which sent Pitcher Bob Smith of the Braves to Chicago and Outfielder Jimmy Welsh to the Pacific Coast club.

In bringing Schulmerich and McAfee to Boston the club is continuing its policy of obtaining likely youngsters, said Edward Cunningham, secretary. He declined to reveal the amount of cash involved but said the several trades "about evened it up."

The Chicago Cubs own the Los Angeles team.

Schulmerich is hitting about .380 this year, while McAfee, who was farmed out to the Reading club of the International League, won six and lost seven games.

It was the second triangular deal involving Chicago and Los Angeles in as many seasons. Last year the Braves got Walter Berger, their home-run sensation, from the Coast League, a piece of strategy credited with having much to do with extricating the team from its traditional place in the cellar.

Smith has pitched eight seasons for the Braves and has a good record. Welsh, who came to the Wigwam from Seattle [illegible] ago, cost the club $50,000 but had a comparatively poor season in 1930.

SINGER WINNER IN MACK BATTLE

he was the master of the Denver challenger. He made Mack's knees buckle twice in the opening session with left hooks to the body, and in the second knocked him bounding into the ropes with another left hook, just as the bell rang.

In the second Mack bounced a straight right off Singer's left eye, cutting the lid. Blood trickled down his cheek throughout the remaining rounds.

After making a half-hearted attack in the fifth, when Singer was taking a breathing spell, Mack was on the verge of a knockout in the sixth. Singer, gritting his teeth, came charging in, pounding Mack around the head and body, with Mack hanging on in desperation. This appeared to be enough for the Denver boxer, and Singer never was able to catch up with him again, although he unceasingly plazed away with both fists.

The match attracted a crowd of 9524 with receipts of $29,189, Singer, who had been expected to concede Mack two or three pounds, surprised the fans by weighing at 137 pounds at 2 p.m., today, while Mack scaled 136 1-4.

TIGER FROSH MAKE TRIP TO SAN DIEGO

The Occidental College freshmen will travel south this week-end to play the San Diego State frosh eleven. It is planned for the Tiger squad to leave here Saturday morning and take on the southern eleven that afternoon.

The Tigers have a comparatively weak outfit this year and will probably enter the game the underdogs.

SERAPHS TROUNCE STARS, 9-3

Draw First Blood in This Week's Home Series Out at Wrigley Field

BY BOB RAY

Massing their attack in the first and eighth innings, Jack Lelivelt's Angels scored first blood in this week's turnip series by walloping the Hollywood Stars, 9 to 3, yesterday before a slim gathering at Wrigley Field.

WIN BALLOU

The Seraphs got off to a flying start with five runs in the opening round and then clinched the struggle by slapping across three more markers in the eighth.

Win Ballou, who has been out for several weeks with a lame arm, proved his flipper has returned to form by holding Oscar Vitt's Sheiks well in check. All three Hollywood runs off Ballou resulted from circuit clouts, Mickey Heath, Harry Green and Mike Gazella whacking the bulb out of the orchard. The Stars got eight hits, but Ballou made 'em get homers to score.

Vance Page was the victim of the Angel attack and was lifted in the eighth for a pinch-hitter, George Hollerson blanking the Lelivelt ians in the final frame. Page yielded a dozen hits, but would have fared much better but for some ragged support from his mates, who were guilty of five errors.

The Angels appeared to be taking the game seriously, but the Stars never did extend themselves after the Seraphs had got off to that five-run lead in the first.

Jigger Statz, who is enjoying one of the most sensational batting streaks of his career, continued his hitting by poking out three singles in five trips to the plate. Statz's average has mounted from around .320 to .360 in the past month and he's still climbing.

Ray Jacobs helped the Cherub cause along with a home run and a single, the circuit clout scoring two men ahead of him in the first frame. George Harper and Art Parker also got two hits.

Parker opened the contest with a hit to left and then Harper walked. Moore fanned. Schulmerich hit down to Gazella, who made a high throw to second, all hands being safe and Parker scoring. Then Jacobs followed with a drive over the left-field fence to make it four runs for the round. Statz singled and stole second, took third on Gazella's error on Dittmar's grounder and scored on Ballou's perfect squeeze bunt.

Heath clouted one over the left center-field fence for Hollywood's first run in the second. Jones and Severeid also got singles in that inning, but a double play nullified them.

Brannan's error, a sacrifice and Statz's single scored Schulmerich in the fifth, but the Stars counted in the home half of the frame when Green dropped one into the bleachers.

Gazella poled one over the left-field fence in the sixth, but that was all the scoring the Sheiks could do.

Page blew up after two were out in the eighth and singles by Ballou Parker, Harper, Moore and Schulmerich drove in the final three Angel tallies. Score:

SANDY CASANOVA BOXES PAUL DRAKE

Sandy Casanova, who has lost only two fights in the last three years, according to his manager, will be sent against a hard-punching light-heavyweight Saturday night at the Main-street club when he faces Paul Drake of San Francisco.

Drake, a slugger, recently gave Joe Bitto a tough fight at Wilmington.

Promoter Carlo Curtis is featuring punchers on this week's card at the "house of action," the semi-final also bringing together hard hitters with Mickey McLaughlin of Chicago being booked to meet Al Herreras of Ontario. They are welters. Both halves of the double main event are six-rounders.

BRUIN TRACK MENTOR RECEIVES LEG INJURY

Coach Harry Trotter, mentor of the U.C.L.A. track team and now conducting his annual fall practice, directed his track athletes from the bench at last night's workout on the Westwood oval. Trotter officiated at the Santa Barbara-Santa Paula High School grid game last Saturday at Santa Barbara, and was clipped from behind by an over-zealous gridder seeking a fumbled ball, the Bruin mentor receiving a sprained ankle.

THE GOLFING MOTHER

WELL, it looks as if now is the psychological moment to get on the old band wagon and carry on for Mrs. O. S. Hill, the golfing mother.

Of course, there are other golfing mothers, and perhaps Mrs. Hill doesn't need any cheer leaders.

But in light of the goings-on out at the Los Angeles Country Club it begins to look suspiciously like a golfing mother's year.

And Mrs. Hill—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, if you please—is our nominee.

She was western champion last year, displacing Mrs. Leona Pressler, who had a two-year reign until our golfing mother came along to usurp her throne.

And she reached the semifinals of the 1929 national championship, played at Oakland Hills, being removed by Glenna Collett, the current champion, until Saturday at least, 3 and 2.

But this is another year, and our prediction is that Mrs. Hill will be the new national champion by Saturday night.

Why? Well, because she shot a 79 to win the medal round and because—well, because she's a golfing mother.

And we want a golfing mother to win.

TWO NIGHT GAMES

TWO interesting gridiron games are on tap Friday night—Occidental vs. San Diego at the Rose Bowl and St. Mary's vs. U.C.L.A. at the Coliseum.

It is unfortunate that they conflict with each other, because the average football fan undoubtedly would like to see St. Mary's in its only southern visit and also take in a vital Southern California Conference struggle.

The San Diego-Occidental game will be a real battle with Oxy defending its championship laurels against the rush of the oncoming San Diego boys.

Unexpectedly—to the Pomona boys, at least—San Diego beat the Sagehens, 6 to 0, two weeks ago.

If they can turn back the Tigers under the arc lights at the Rose Bowl the San Diego boys are headed for a title.

The St. Mary's-U.C.L.A. game hardly figures to be anything but a good workout for the Gaels. They rate right up with California, Southern California and Stanford, and Southern California beat U.C.L.A., 52 to 0.

At that, you must admire the courage of the U.C.L.A. gang in scheduling such a tough battle.

A ST. MARY'S ANGLE

ST. MARY'S men are saying that Bodie Andrews is the man who brought about the 7-to-6 defeat of the Galloping Gaels at the hands of California last Saturday.

Andrews was line coach at St. Mary's last year, but this fall was seduced by California, presumably at a higher salary.

Naturally, St. Mary's changed its signals this year, but the case with which California stopped the Gaels' running plays is laid squarely at the door of Mr. Bodie Andrews. He knew the plays backward.

After that 6-0 tie last year St. Mary's fully expected to take California into camp this fall.

St. Mary's with the exception of a new quarterback has virtually a team of veterans, whereas California has only half a team of vets.

BILL SHAVER TO WORK OPENING HOCKEY GAME

Robert Rehms, president of the Southern California Hockey League, announced last night, that Bill Shaver, National Hockey League referee, would handle the opening league game of the season tomorrow night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, between the Gilmore and Union Oil squads.

Shaver is well known in Los Angeles,—having played professional hockey here for a number of years. Two years ago he turned to refereeing and was given a job in the California loop. His work attracted the attention of the eastern hockey leagues and last year he handled something like sixty games in the Canadian Pro Hockey League. This year he was signed to a National League contract by Frank Calder, the Judge Landis of hockey, while the latter was here several months ago.

This opening battle of the season calls for a man like Shaver to officite. The Gilmore Lions and Union Oil Pirates tussle will be one of those games which naturally calls for speedy skating and sturdy checking. The Lions won the championship last year, nosing the Pirates out by a half-game, and the latter club is out for a little revenge this year.

Both clubs have been bolstered for the first encounter, and each is ready for the full sixty minutes of play. They start promptly at 8:30 p.m.

Vergez Earns Oak Laurels

OAKLAND, Oct. 14. (AP)—Johnny Vergez, Oakland third-sacker, who has been sold to the New York Giants for cash and two ball players, today was voted the most valuable ball player on the Oakland team. The votes were cast by his teammates and members of the Oakland press.

Vergez will take a prize and cash with him back east.

BIG MEN FEATURED AT OCEAN PARK

Big men will be featured on the fight card at Ocean Park tonight. Sam Eizman, a heavyweight who is popular in the harbor district, is scheduled to step ten rounds or less with Joe Hudson in the main event, while the semi-wind-up will bring together Leroy Haynes and Frank Rudinski. Eizman is picked to outslug Hudson and boxing men declare that there is a good chance of the fight ending inside the distance. Haynes, a colored 175-pounder, who has won four starts in this section, is favored over Rudinski. Other bouts scheduled are four-rounders. They are: Joe Arciniega vs. Steve Pollock, 165 pounds; Coyt Brooks vs. Ramon Navarro, 120 pounds; Tony Flores vs. Leon Johnson, 130 pounds.

FIREMEN HARD AT WORK FOR LEGION

Confident that they will win their third victory of the season when they meet the Santa Barbara Legion team next Monday night at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles Fire Department grid players went through another stiff drill at Harvard playground yesterday afternoon. Coach Bill Blewett is leaving no task undone in practice, however, and will have his team in fine shape for Monday's game. Blewett is anxious to impress local fans with the strength of his club.

FULLER, WEBSTER IN MERCURY FINALS

Winston Fuller, young golf star from the Los Angeles Country Club, will meet A. Bullock Webster, ex-California champion, in the final match for the Los Angeles Athletic Club golf championship at Riviera Country Club Sunday.

Other matches follow: First flight, R. M. Brandel vs. R. A. Hay; second flight, R. E. Seller vs. R. Mulroney; third flight, Lewis Rohr vs. F. R. Feitshans; fourth flight, Al Wesson vs. C. C. Lambert; fifth flight, Duffy Seay vs. Jack Mulhall; sixth flight, H. A. Lord vs. Russel Vis; seventh flight, C. D. Lincoln vs. Arnold Eddy.

SOCCERITES STAGE TWIN BILL SUNDAY

The two strongest teams in the City Soccer League will perform for Southland fans Sunday afternoon at Loyola Field. In the opening game on the league's twin bill Hollywood, present loop champions, plays the Victorias, and at 3 p.m. the Magyars collide with the Scots. At Tournament Park the Richfield team, managed by Johnny Bain, will attempt to get back into the running when they face the Vikings. Pasadena C. C. battles the Los Angeles Athletic Club team in the nightcap at the Crown City field.

NORTHWESTERN HIT AGAIN

EVANSTON (Ill.) Oct. 14. (AP)—Northwestern University's football team, weakened by the illness of Hank Bruder, got another setback today when Harry Kent, star tackle, was ruled ineligible under the three-year rule.

BRUINS PREPARE FOR ST. MARY'S

Announce Starting Line-ups for Coliseum Game

Preparations for a right royal welcome of Coach "Slip" Madigan and his St. Mary's Gaels went on apace yesterday out at Westwood as Coach Bill Spaulding's Bruins worked out against the Notre Dame formations used at the Moraga school.

Starting line-ups for the U. C. L. A.-St. Mary's grid tussle for Friday night in the Los Angeles Coliseum have been released, and reveal one change in the Bruin line-up. Howard Willoughby, 198-pound tackle, will start instead of Kerns Hampton, who played most of the Pomona game last Saturday. The rest of the Bruin line-up shows Mulhaupt and Wellendorf, ends; McMillan, tackle; Jones and J. Duncan, guards; Goodstein, center; Bergdahl, quarter; Decker and Roberts, halves, and N. Duncan, fullback.

The St. Mary's line-up indicates that Madigan intends to shoot full strength against the Bruins. The Galloping Gael first-string backfield of Boyle, quarter; Stennett and Toscani, halves, and Barret, fullback, will start behind Ebding and Sperbeck, ends; Hunt and McNally, tackles; Steponovich and Fischer, guards, and Peebles, center. Mike Steponovich at one guard is a brother of Tony Steponovich, former Trojan end.

Last year the Bruins held the Moraga athletes to a 24-to-0 score, and are planning on doing even better this year, although St. Mary's is said to be out for blood following their defeat by California 7 to 6 last Saturday at Berkeley. The Gaels are a colorful team, and are expected to give the fans a good show for their money, regardless of the size of the score.

Leslie Haight, who has been out of practice the past few days with an injured sternum, was in suit again last night, and will see considerable service at end Friday night. All of the other Bruin gridders are in good shape.

Coach Spaulding will give his men a workout under the arcs at the Coliseum Thursday night to accustom them to night life, but the Gaels will be unable to have an after-dark practice. Forty-eight players, with coaches, trainers, etc., will arrive Friday morning and may have a light workout that afternoon. The team will also be accompanied by the St. Mary's fifty-piece band. The Gaels will see the U.S.C.-Utah Aggie game Saturday, and leave for the north Saturday night.

Steve Cunningham, graduate manager of the Bruin institution, yesterday called attention to the fact that the tickets for the contest are priced at $1. Cunningham said he had heard that the general impression seemed to be that the prices were higher. It will be the only appearance of the Saints here this season.

Oaks Wallop Seattle, 6-1

OAKLAND, Oct. 14. (AP)—With Jim Edwards pitching a four-hit game and fanning fifteen batters, the Oaks defeated the Seattle Indians here tonight, 6 to 1.

Andy House pitched shut-out ball against the Oaks for six innings but in the seventh a timely single by Brubaker gave the Acorns a 2-to-1 advantage. They added four more in the eighth on four hits off the Seattle twirler.

The remaining games of the series will be played in daylight. The score:

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14. Lion, Bronco Tilt in Bowl

The scene of the Loyola-Santa Clara University football game was yesterday announced as changed, from Wrigley Field to the Coliseum. The scheduled date, November 22, remains the same, but the game will be played in the afternoon at the big bowl instead of at night in the ball park. Graduate-Manager Victor F. Lawler effected the change yesterday after conferring with officials of the Coliseum. Santa Clara authorities wired their consent.

LIONS RESUME GRID PRACTICE

Tom Lieb Dissatisfied With Team's Showing

Along with a dozen or more football teams throughout the country, Loyola University resumed practice yesterday in the ranks of those elevens that should have won on Saturday, but didn't. And Tom Lieb, head coach, wasn't slow telling the boys about it.

Loyola lost a 12-to-7 decision to Fresno State College, in a thrilling struggle on Wrigley Field. For three quarters the Lions outplayed their northern opponents, leading by a 7-to-6 score until the closing minutes of play, when Bordagary, the flashy Frenchman, slipped away for 45 yards and a touchdown. It was a hard game to lose.

In no uncertain terms, Lieb pointed out the errors to his men yesterday. And the result is a tight-lipped, dangerous team determined to give St. Ignatius College, recently renamed the University of San Francisco, a heavy afternoon of it.

Yesterday was the first workout for the Lions. Lieb told the men to take a day off for meditation on Monday. Although there were no injuries of any importance, the Loyola coach deemed it advisable to let the boys rest in preparation for that which is ahead. The struggle with St. Ignatius is the easiest spot on the program for the next two weeks. Lieb plans to drive his athletes, polish their plays, and perfect the team until it can play up to its capacities for four quarters rather than three and a half.

St. Ignatius and Loyola will clash at Wrigley Field on the night of the 25th inst.

The Gray Fog, with a victory over Gonzaga University, and a creditable 13-to-0 defeat at the hands of St. Mary's, will probably rule a heavy favorite.

Kids Cop Show in Match Play

BY LOIS V. BARRY

A couple of kids stole the show yesterday at the Los Angeles Country Club in the first round of the women's national golf championship tournament.

As far as the gallery was concerned the stage was all set with Glenna Collett as the main attraction and when she teed off they trouped along in her wake. But not for long.

Word seeped through that the Helen Hicks-Lucille De Long match was a corker and then and there the Collett gallery mutinied. Only a few of the faithful remained while the rank and file scampered as fast as their legs could carry them in the general direction of the greater attraction.

And they're just a couple of kids.

And what a battle—while it lasted.

The husky Helen Hicks—lean, but husky—found herself just about all square at the turn.

Little Lucille De Long—as fragile as an orchid, weighing less than 100 pounds, and looking as though an eddying breeze might blow her over, had held her own through nine holes, matching shot for shot. She cracked out long drives but they were yards short of the doughty Helen's, and she holed out putts that would make a miniature golf-course addict green with envy.

She was dormy 2 at sixteen and going strong, electrifying the gallery with her perfect timing, which gave her the long, sure shots that her physique alone would have denied her. Then she got into a sand trap—and out of that into another—and the match was over.

But it was a peach of a match while it lasted.

Maureen Orcutt and Mrs. George M. Lewis had a tight match but the wants of the flesh predominated in the end. They called time at the end of the first nine to imbibe a bit of iced soda pop. We haven't yet found out if they bought their own drinks or if their referee, who went along with them, stood for the check.

George M. Lewis was out. In spite of the jinx wives feel over having their husbands cluttering up the course, he is usually out and Mrs. Lewis's record belies the jinx, although she did meet her superior yesterday.

Nelita Lifur doesn't believe in the jinx either. She permitted Gregg Lifur to come out and watch her tee off. She would have even allowed him to follow, but business called and he felt it incumbent on him to answer. Husbands are "such a nuisance," anyhow.

HANDBALLERS TO MIX

Southern California handball artists are working up their games this week in readiness for the opening of the S.P.A.A.U. championships to start at the Los Angeles A. C. November 3. The singles tourney will run from November 3 until November 8 and the doubles will be held at the Elks' Club November 10 to 15.

HELEN HICKS VICTOR

She was several strokes over her usual game yesterday, shooting an approximate 88 to Mrs. Potter's 86.

This was the only casualty, however, as the favorites swept into the second round with more or less ease. Southern California's "Big Four" advanced without a hitch. Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, runner-up in 1929 at Oakland Hills, was out in 40 and ended her match with Mrs. Milton Bernard of Berkeley on the thirteenth hole, 6 and 5. Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Riviera, playing sensational golf, buried Miss Marie Saulsberry of Santa Ana under an avalanche of pars and birdies to win, 7 and 6. Mrs. Lifur was out in 38, one under women's par. Mrs. Roy Green of the California Country Club scored well to eliminate Miss Angie Parkhurst of Crystal Springs, Cal., 4 and 3, and Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire won from Mrs. John Hollywood of Potrero, 2 and 1.

The eastern brigade also dashed to victory, its ranks unbroken except for the passing of Miss Quier.

Paced by Miss Glenna Collett, the defending champion, and Mrs. O. S. Hill, medalist and semifinalist in 1929, the stars galloped down the straight-away to easy victories.

Miss Collett found a game but outclassed opponent in Mrs. Harry Grossman of Hillcrest, who finally succumbed on the fourteenth hole, 6 and 4. Glenna was out in 40, winning the first four holes in a row.

Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., held Mrs. Hill on the first nine, being only 1 down at the turn, but ran into a flock of pars coming in and lost, 4 and 3.

Two former champions, Miss Marion Hollins of Pasatiempo and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Philadelphia, won easily yesterday, but face crucial matches today. Miss Hollins, who won from Mrs. J. W. Taylor of Evanston, Ill., 3 and 2, plays Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, while Mrs. Hurd must try to best the sparkling play of Miss Maureen Orcutt. Mrs. Hurd played well to defeat Mrs. George M. Lewis of the Los Angeles Country Club, 6 and 5.

MISS HOLLINS SHINES

Miss Van Wie must play better than she did yesterday to win today. Miss Hollins is scoring well, and should beat Virginia. She had a 41 on the first side yesterday.

Local golfers lost in two heartbreaking extra-hole matches yesterday. Miss Barbara Lee of Oakland eliminated Mrs. R. S. Edwards of California and Mrs. C. J. Woerner of California lost to Miss Hermine Wocker of Burlingame on the nineteenth.

Miss Bea Gottlieb of Los Angeles put up a courageous battle against Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit, but had the wind shaken out of her sails on the eleventh hole. Miss Gottlieb was nicely up for a birdie 3, while Mrs. Higbie was in a trap. The Detroit star exploded out, twenty-five feet from the flag, and then holed out. Figuring to be 1 up, Miss Gottlieb found herself 1 down when she missed her putt, and from then on the tide turned against her.

Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire, who meets Miss Collett today, found unexpected opposition in Mrs. John Hollywood of Potrero. Mrs. Hollywood, it will be remembered, was denied permission to use her Joe Novak club and was forced to pick up a new set. She lost, 2 and 1, after being 3 down at the turn.

The titanic struggle between Miss Hicks and Miss De Long will be long remembered by the gallery that struggled in their wake up and down the hilly terrain of the north course.

Lucille, ninety-nine pounds of dynamic concentration, made up for the lack of length in her game by great recoveries, sizzling woods to the green where Helen used irons and marvelous putts. She was consistently outdriven anywhere from thirty to fifty yards, but was always up there battling for a par or a half.

An eighteen-foot putt gave Lucille a half in par on the first hole, but she was two down at the third as "Billie" Hicks refused to take more than one putt per green. On the par-5 second hole, Lucille boomed two long woods down the middle and chipped to within five feet of the pin. Helen's chip was inside, four feet away, and Lucille missed her putt.

WINS FOURTH

A fine spoon to the green and two putts was good enough to win for the La Jolla miss on the short fourth. Helen was short with an iron and down in 4.

They halved the next three holes in pars, and Lucille squared the match with a birdie 5 on the eighth.

The 175-yard ninth was masterfully played. Lucille was in a trap. Her out was eighteen feet past the pin, but she holed the putt for a 3. Billie's tee shot was twelve feet short of the cup, and unperturbed by Lucille's great putt, she holed out for a birdie 2 to be 1 up.

The tenth marked the turning point of the match. Lucille was in trouble from tee to green, but her third out of the rough slid a bare five feet past the cup. Helen got off one of those drives that had the male members of the gallery gasping for breath. The hole is 400 yards uphill, but Helen took an iron for her second shots and hooked it into the rough. She had a brilliant pitch and run shot back, however, leaving herself a six-foot putt, which she holed for a birdie 4. Lucille's putt was in all the way, only to hit a bit of dirt and glide past the cup.

She was now 2 down.

Helen three-putted the 225-yard eleventh hole after driving the green. She had a two-foot putt for a half.

Things began to look up for the diminutive Coronado girl, but "Billie" had only started. She poured a great iron shot five feet from the pin on twelve and then bounced her ball off a partial stymie for a birdie 3, and then added injury to insult by sending a spoon whizzing to within eight feet of the flag on the 430-yard thirteenth for an eagle 3.

Lucille won back the tedious fourteenth when Helen's third shot went clear over the green and halved fifteen and sixteen.

Both three-putted seventeen, or, rather, Helen took three from the edge of the green, missing a three-footer to end the match.

Lucille's second faded into a trap on seventeen and Helen was on the edge of the green. Faced with having to win the hole or drop the match, Lucille waivered and took three shots in traps before laying her ball alongside of the pin. Helen had three shots from the edge to win.

That darly tells the story of a great round of golf, but it gives some idea of the golf played by these two youngsters. As different as day is from night, yet they have much in common.

EVERYBODY HAPPY

Both have dads who think the sun rises and sets in them, for one thing. Papa Hicks is built on the full lines of his daughter, while Papa DeLong is not quite as tall as his golfing offspring.

Father Hicks says he would like to adopt Lucille, and Mr. DeLong said that would be fine, as maybe she could be fattened up a bit. As a parting gift, Hicks presented Lucille with a dozen golf balls, and the two families appear to be getting on in fine style.

Miss Hicks at 19 has already arrived, and Miss DeLong is certain to be heard from again. Lucille played the finest golf we have ever seen her play yesterday, and against anyone else in the field would have undoubtedly won. It was just her misfortune to pick on Helen at her best.

Helen is playing the finest golf we have ever seen any woman play, and local golfers are in for a rare treat if Mrs. Pressler meets her tomorrow in the quarter-finals. The winner of this match then faces Miss Collett in the semifinals.

Following are yesterday's complete results:

Mrs. O. S. Hill defeated Miss Bernice Wall, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Brent Potter defeated Miss Edith Quier, 2 up.

Miss Maureen Orcutt defeated Mrs. C. M. Lewis, 6 and 5.

Mrs. D. C. Hurd defeated Mrs. Russell Fowler, 6 and 4.

Miss Virginia Van Wie defeated Mrs. Mary Steele, 3 and 2.

Miss Marion Hollins defeated Mrs. J. W. Taylor, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur defeated Miss Mary Saulsberry, 7 and 6.

Mrs. Roy Green defeated Miss Angie Parkhurst, 4 and 3.

Miss Helen Hicks defeated Miss Lucille De Long, 3 and 1.

Miss Barbara Lee defeated Mrs. R. S. Edwards, 1 up, 19 holes.

Mrs. Leona Pressler defeated Mrs. Milton Bernard, scang 6.

Mrs. Hermine Wocker defeated Mrs. C. J. Woerner, 1 up, 19 holes.

Miss Glenna Collett defeated Mrs. Harry Grossman, 6 and 4.

Miss Helen Lawson defeated Mrs. John Hollywood, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Harley Higbie defeated Miss Beatrice Gottlieb, 4 and 3.

Miss Peggy Wattles defeated Mrs. Ralph Raynor, 3 and 1.

MRS. NOBLE GETS "ACE" AT LOS ANGELES

Playing over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday afternoon in a match play against par event, Mrs. R. C. Noble of the Wilshire Country Club scored a hole-in-one on the 175-yard ninth hole.

Approximately twenty - five women played in the event, but many failed to turn in cards. Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., who was defeated by Mrs. Brent Potter of San Jose in the morning, went out to win the event, finishing 1 up on par.

RIVAL DRIVERS TANGLE TONIGHT

Stubby Stubblefield and Francis Quinn Renew Racing Feud at Ascot Track in Feature of Auto Race Program; Both Drivers Claiming Victory

"Stubby" Stubblefield, daring youngster of the speedway world, and Francis Quinn, veteran campaigner of the roaring road, are expected to "fight to a finish" on the curves of the Legion Ascot Speedway tonight in what should prove one of the most attractive duels ever offered local followers of the sport.

Despite the fact that there will be more than thirty other intrepid speed kings enrolled for the six events this evening, critics at the Ascot saucer are expecting Quinn and "Stubby," principals in a series of bitter clashes last week, to fight it out for the prize money. Railbirds, who have been clocking the drivers in practice, claim that the chariots throttled by "Stubby" and Quinn are a full half-second per lap faster than any of the other cars. And such being the case, a resumption of the competition between the pair, which featured last week's racing, should be in order.

Both drivers are predicting victory tonight. Quinn claims he was holding No. 3 back last week and that he will prove the superior pilot by taking the lead at the outset and holding it. "Stubby" on the other hand, declares that tough luck was the only thing that beat him on that previous occasion and that he will demonstrate that he is the master.

Fast time was made in practice yesterday as the various pilots tuned their cars at the Alhambra Boulevard track. Among the drivers who exhibited high-powered mounts and will be expected to qualify for the fastest races tonight are Arvel Brunmier, Nick Marvino, Lyn Eldredge, Sam Hoffman, "Swede" Smith, Melvin McKee and Phil Pardee.

Pardee's car, which crashed into the fence on the south turn last Wednesday night, has been repaired and is expected to be ready for the former Poly High School football star to wheel tonight. Likewise the mounts driven by Kelly Petillo and Frank James, which tangled on the same bend, have been rejuvenated and will be ready for the referee, William E. Forbes, starts the races at 8:30.

Mission Reds Humble Seals

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Mission Reds trimmed the San Francisco Seals, 6 to 2, today, putting the game on ice by staging a three-run rally in the seventh frame. The Seals strove vainly to come back in the ninth, when they annexed a lone tally, but lacked the punch. Caster donated only seven hits to the Seals, while the Missions pounded Davis and Douglas for twelve. Score:

TWO GAMES ON COLISEUM BILL

rado team which surprised by defeating the University of Missouri, 9 to 0, the week before. Romney's team, therefore, must have a fair defense.

Continuing secret practice, Howard Jones lined up two varsity teams last night, refusing to name either as his first string. Here's how they went into action: Sparling and Norris, ends; Plaehn and Smith, tackles; Baker and Black, guards; Williamson, center; Duffield, quarter; Stephens and Mallory, halfbacks, and Musick, fullback.

The other team had Wilcox and Arbelbide, ends; Hall and Armistead, tackles; Gentry and Shaw, guards; Hawkins, center; Mohler, Beatty, quarterback; Kirkwood and Pinckert, halfbacks, and Shaver, fullback.

Jones stated that all positions were wide open and that the boys displaying the most ability would ultimately land regular berths.

Neither Marger Apsit nor Tay Brown were in suits, both nursing old injuries.

Most of the afternoon was spent drilling on defense against Stanford formations, following which the Trojans ran through some new plays.

Clifton B. Herd returned from Minneapolis after scouting the Minnesota-Stanford tussle and immediately went into a huddle with Jones, Bill Hunter and Sam Barry.

SAMPSON FAVORED TO ANNEX FIGHT

Bert Sampson, slugging welter of the Wirt Ross stable, is a slight favorite over Romeo Le Mon, Fullerton school-boy, whom he meets in the eight-round main event at the Pico Bowl near Whittier tonight. Matchmaker "Pop" Barrett of the Pico arena has imported Sampson to give Le Mon the test. The latter has looked impressive in recent bouts and if he beats Sampson, efforts will be made to get him plenty of work at the larger clubs. Sampson, who recently put up a slashing battle with Benny Miller at the Olympic, will have an advantage in experience. Paul Burke and Indian Kid Crow are down for the semi-wind-up of six rounds. They are fast-stepping 130-pounders.

JUNIOR COLLEGE TEAMS TO TANGLE

The Junior College Conference games for this Saturday are expected to consist of some close battles. Both the Compton eleven and the Santa Ana eleven have remained undefeated in conference games so far this season, and their clash on the Santa Ana field should draw blood. The Santa Ana team won over Compton last year by a 14-0 score.

Los Angeles Jaysee should wallop the Glendale eleven in their good ball carrying for the Angels on their own field Saturday afternoon. The Glendale men appear rather weak, but may unexpectedly strut their stuff before the Angels.

The Pasadena squad travels to Fullerton for their first conference game of the season. Although they defeated the Fullerton eleven 7-0 last year, the score may be reversed this time.

Caltech Gets Set to Meet Pomona Team

Having successfully gotten over the first hurdle in the Southern California Conference race, Caltech is picking up speed in an attempt to clear a much higher barrier in the form of the Pomona College Sagehens. Coach Fox Stanton will lead his squad out to Claremont Saturday night and then turn them loose on the Hens.

This week's practice is being spent in polishing up a varied offense and in building a defense to keep the Sagehens on ther own side of the line of scrimmage. The Beavers realize that they are the underdogs against Pomona, but don't seem to feel very low about it.

Al Crawford, on right end, played a dandy game against La Verne and is probably as good as any end in the conference. Bill Shuler rated an all-conference tackle berth last year and is going fine again this season. Coach Stanton has finally rounded up a substitute backfield that looks as though it would develop into a strong combination and threaten the berths held by Dickey, Watson, Bennett and Goodman. On the new combination, Mathewson is at quarter, Mendelhall at full and Eastman and Foster at the halfback posts.

SUBMARINE ELEVEN MEETS LONGSHOREMEN

LONG BEACH, Oct. 14.—Hailed the most powerful service eleven in Pacific Coast history, the San Diego Submarine Division, undefeated fleet champion for the past five years, invades Long Beach Sunday to tackle Manuel Laraneta's American Legion Longshoremen. The first kickoff is slated at 2:15 o'clock at Legion Field just beyond Naples.

After crushing Santa Paula and Santa Barbara in their opening battles, the Longshoremen struck a tartar last Sunday and bowed to the San Diego Marines, 18-0. Since Border City followers rate the Submarine Base two touchdowns stronger than the Marines, the Laraneta outfit will be the underdog.

TIGERS' STOCK SINKS LOWER

Eppinette and Tuffy Reed on Injured List

Occidental's hopes for a victory against the San Diego State Aztecs Friday night in the Pasadena Rose Bowl were pretty low yesterday when two regulars, Warren Eppinette, star guard, and Tuffy Reed, halfback, failed to put in an appearance for football practice.

Eppinette received a wallop on the head last week in the Whittier game and is still a bit groggy, while Reed's ankle has been bothering him all year. The Poets bumped Tuffy's leg again Friday night and Kienholz is sure of not playing the up - and - coming sophomore against the Aztecs.

Art Elliott, another Tiger speed demon, is liable to start in Reed's position.

Johnny Waddell has taken over Eppinette's place at guard and has done such a good job of it that even should the powerful blond be in shape Friday he would likely grace the bench.

Jack Schurch was in suit last night for the first time since last week. Schurch received a broken nose in scrimmage a week ago and was kicked on the jaw in the Whittier game. Shurch is pretty tough, however, and will open against the Aztecs. From the way he has been going lately Schurch looms as one of the Tigers' best bets for all-conference honors.

Kienholz made the trip to San Diego last Saturday and watched the Azteca beat Cal Christian, 19-0. All week he has been drilling the Tigers against San Diego plays and hopes to stop the Aztecs' powerful line plays. Dilley is the backfield ace for the southerners. The rest of the San Diego line-up will have Grant and Clark, halves; Walker, quarter; Robinson, center; Cox and Kelly, tackles; Yamomoto and Allen, ends, and Murdock and Warren, guards.

WASHINGTON BABES BEAT PASADENA, 7-0

Washington High lightweights defeated the Pasadena babes on the losers' own gridiron yesterday when Reed, quarterback for Washington, dashed 10 yards through tackle for the only score of the game. Madlen, right halfback, dropkicked the extra point. Capt. Renner, halfback for the losers, was the outstanding man on the field, gaining many yards on the offense and playing a good defensive game.

The line-ups:

Washington, 7.		Pasadena, 0.

FILIPINO STAR BATTLES PAYNE

Fernandez to Make Debut as Lightweight

Ignatio Fernandez, Filipino box fighter, has in the past performed at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium as a featherweight. When he fights Cecil Payne Friday night he will come very close to being a lightweight. At weighing-in time Payne and Fernandez should make 132 pounds, but by the time they enter the ring they will have picked up a pound or two. Payne will rate the favorite because he is too rugged and hits too hard to have anyone spot him a few pounds. Payne would like to fight Johnny Lamar again. He feels as though he can beat the Mexican in a return match.

The entire Legion Stadium card looks better than anything offered at Hollywood for weeks. Payne and Fernandez are rated exceptionally good fighters. The Filipino stopped the present lightweight champion, Al Singer, a little over a year ago when Singer was a featherweight.

Joe Galvis made a great fight last Saturday night with Joe Guerrero at the Main-street. He had Guerrero on the floor twice. He fights Young Papke in the semi-wind-up. Papke, with eleven knockouts, is the sensation among the preliminary boys. Galvis is supposed to be a tougher opponent than anything Papke has fought to date. Papke will be the favorite. Jimmy Mack will be favorite over Ray Cervantes in the six-round special event. They are bantamweights. There will be two four-rounders to complete the card.

WASHINGTON SWAMPS BEVERLY HILLS TEAM

Three touchdowns by Art Ferguson were the main factors of the Washington Babes, 40-to-0 victory over the Beverly Hills Lightweights yesterday on the latter's field. Ferguson chalked up three scores with his powerful line plunging. Williams, Cick and Swan accounted for Washington's other three touchdowns.

The line-ups:

Washington.		Beverly Hills.
Cick	L.E.R.	Harding
Martin	L.T.R.	Kirkpatrick
Ikevasu	L.G.R.	Mack
Beckerson	C.	Dugan

Touchdowns—Ferguson, 3; Williams, Cick, Swan. Conversions—Olus and Williams.

WASHINGTON WINS

Beverly Hills lightweight eleven bowed to the Washington High babes yesterday, 40-0. The game was played on the Beverly field and was marked by the strong playing of Moriga and Segrave in the line for Washington, and Fergusson and the two Williams in the General backfield.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

They've got scripts for "Topaze," "Up Pops the Devil," and "Dancing Partner," all tucked away in the mahogany desk top drawer. Furthermore, there is a strong likelihood that they may get "Once in a Lifetime," although they haven't quite made up their minds about this.

"Topaze" will be an early production. It may follow Dorothy Burgess in "Bird of the Flame," but this will all depend upon what can be done in the way of a cast. It is, as people who follow the New York theater programs know, a comedy adapted from the French of Marcel Pagnol. Frank Morgan, Phoebe Foster and Clarence Derrent have been playing in it.

"Up Pops the Devil" is one of the early fall Broadway hits. It started at the Masque Theater on September 1 with Roger Pryor, Sally Bates and Albert Hackett. Hackett, with Frances Goodrich, wrote it.

And "Dancing Partner" is David Belasco's show of the year. "Once in a Lifetime" is that comedy by Ross Hart and George S. Kaufman which pokes ribald fun at Hollywood.

Mrs. Pat Campbell Speaks

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, famous English actress, whose startling remarks and comments on Hollywood since her arrival here from Great Britain, have been quite the talk of film circles, is going to appear at the Vine Street Theater.

MRS PATRICK CAMPBELL

No, not in a play. She's going to give a lecture, called "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting," at a special matinee Friday, the 24th inst. Those who have heard it say it's more of a performance than a lecture for she acts all the time she speaks.

She will include scenes from plays in which she has appeared, "Anthony and Cleopatra," "Pelleas and Melisande," "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "Magda," "Pygmalion" and others.

This rather unusual event at the Vine Street is said to indicate a definite attitude upon the present managerial regime to present notable personalities in unusual and worth-while vehicles.

English Actress Cast

Evelyn Hall, English actress, who has been playing in pictures, will have the role of Lysistrata in Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart," to open the Civic Repertory season November 3 at the Music Box. The part is one of the feminine leads.

EVELYN HALL

Miss Hall, according to the biographical data furnished by the theater, was trained under Sir Frank Benson with the Stratford-Upon-Avon company. She played with Sir Herbert Tree and with Miss Harniman's Manchester Repertory until she became stamped a "classic actress." As a protest she found a part in "The Butterfly on the Wheel" and with Lyn Harding in a modern piece, in which Ronald Colman played a juvenile part. She enacted the queen role with John Barrymore in "Richard III" in New York.

And, incidentally, she is divorced from Claude King, who is directing her in "The Apple Cart" for the Civic Repertory. The two have been separated some time, but appear to be the best of friends.

Company Goes North

This is the last week of "Death Takes a Holiday" at the Biltmore Theater. Arthur Greville Collins will muster his company together following the Saturday night performance and take it north, where the play will be staged at Erlanger's Columbia Theater. The cast goes intact.

However, Carmel Myers, the one film personage to play an important role, will be with the play for just one week in San Francisco. She is returning to Los Angeles then to work out a couple of film offers. If they are not quite right, she may go on to New York to make some vaudeville appearances now in the offing.

Collins reports that considerable ministerial notice has been taken of the play. One gentleman of the cloth attending a performance last week wrote him enthusiastically and said that he expected to take his next Sunday's text from the theme of the play, which he considered one of the finest and sweetest he had observed in a long time.

Mason Dressed Up

The Mason, where Jane Murfin's play, "Women Who Take," will be premiered a week from Monday, is getting all dressed up for the occasion. It has new carpets, for one thing, and new drops and stage equipment, the latter installed under the watchful eye of Max Ree, art director for R.-K.-O. studio. Ree is also supervising settings. There is an interesting rumor, as yet unverified, that there will be some changes in the lobby, orchestra pit and front of the building!

The theater had word yesterday that Martha Stanley, who wrote the play which will be produced second at the Mason, "Go Get Your Man," is on her way west from New York. She is going to help in casting and producing.

FOX FARCE OPENS TODAY

"Up the River," Fox comedy, comes to the Criterion Theater today.

Fox studios will launch "Up the River" as the second of their outstanding productions. On "The Big Trail" and "Up the River" the Fox studios pin their fondest hopes, it is said.

Directed by John Ford from the story by Maurine Watkins, "Up the River" was designed to satirize the many underworld dramas released recently. No one is "taken for a ride" and no tanks or machine guns mow down gangsters. Instead, blue-eyed bigamists entertain handsome racketeers in a co-educational jail.

There is a large feminine cast composed of various types familiar to New York police. Spencer Tracy and Claire Luce, stage stars, share honors with Warren Hymer, Humphrey Bogart, Willie Collier, Sr., Joan Lawes and others.

COMEDY TO MARK DEBUT OF ACTRESS

Esther Muir, Member of Original "My Girl Friday" Cast, to Appear Here

With the Hollywood premiere of "My Girl Friday," stage farce, set for Sunday night at the Vine-street Theater, patrons will make the acquaintance of Esther Muir, musical comedy actress, who was a member of the original cast.

In the eleven months that the comedy ran in New York, Miss Muir played the role of Joan Marcel, leader of the three chorus girls whose party with a group of trifling husbands provides the merriment of the farce. She has appeared in such productions as "Baby Blue," "Mercenary Mary," "Honeymoon Lane," "Lady Fingers," the Greenwich Village Follies, Earl Carroll's "Vanities," and Harry Richman's "International Revue."

John T. Murray of stage and screen note, has the leading role in "My Girl Friday;" Nita Cavalier will portray another of the chorus girl trio. Other members of the cast include Francis Morris, Edgar Reeves, Charles Giblyn, William Lawrence, Harold Kinney, Patsy Ann O'Neal, Gordon Demain, Harry Vejar and Bernice Belldon.

'Grumpy' Opens Run Tomorrow

Doris Anderson, who wrote "The Wolf of Wall Street," is the author of the screen play, "Grumpy," which comes to Bard's Eighth and Broadway Theater tomorrow, with Cyril Maude in the name role.

Miss Anderson made her adaptation from the stage comedy of the same name by Horace Hodges and Thomas Wigney, who had completed the play in 1913 when Maude was looking for a vehicle to add to his repertoire for an American engagement.

The authors read "Grumpy" to Maude and he selected it for the American tour. In the screen version Maude is supported by Phillips Holmes, Frances Dade and Paul Cavanaugh.

Carthay Circle Displays Model of Rocket Plane

A model of a rocket plane designed to travel in excess of 1000 miles per hour, is now on display at the Carthay Circle Theater in conjunction with the showing of the comedy, "Just Imagine."

The model will itself travel 650 miles an hour, according to its inventor, Maurice Poirier of Burbank. He and his assistant are now building a two-seated large plane in which they hope to make a "slow" flight to New York in less than seven hours. After that, they will make a faster flight, covering the distance in three hours, they assert.

Poirier's plane is similar in principle to the one seen in "Just Imagine," in which Frank Albertson and John Garrick make a trip.

EXECUTIVE BACK

After carefully observing Broadway's current stage attractions, Robert Lord, First National supervisor, has returned to Hollywood with recommendations to both Jack Warner, chief executive, and C. Graham Baker, associate executive.

Laughlin Stage Show Scheduled

Jack Laughlin's stage show, "La Fiesta," will be presented at the Million Dollar Theater tomorrow on the same bill with "The Little Accident," a film comedy.

A Spanish setting will form the background of the stage show. "La Fiesta" will have a large cast, including the Eight Reel Girls, Gabrielle Cansino, Margo, Valle and Grace Poggi, Maxine Castle, Six Marvells, Harry Van Gossen, Franado Del Valle, Bell Sisters, Cherrie and Tomesita, athletic Parisian dancers; Jack Morrison, Jimmy Blair, Broadway favorite, and David Robenoff.

ELLIS BEGINS WORK

Robert Ellis has started work on the villain role in "Aloha," which is being produced by Al Rogell for Tiffany release.

STAR'S VEHICLE SELECTED

Claudette Colbert Will Appear in Two Film Versions; R.-K.-O. to Produce Vincent Lawrence Comedy; Craft Directs "Many A Slip"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The time seems to be coming when all picture stars will be required to speak at least two languages well. Foreign audiences do not want to be cheated of seeing their American favorites, and yet want to understand what is being said from the screen.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT

Fortunate, indeed, therefore, are both Paramount and Claudette Colbert. Miss Colbert's popularity is increasing swiftly in this country, and since she speaks French as well as she does English, she is to be henceforth starred in bilingual productions of each vehicle in which she plays.

Her next appearance, which is thus to be done in French and English, is "Strictly Business," according to announcement yesterday of Jesse L. Lasky.

"Strictly Business" will be filmed at Paramount's New York studio, and Dorothy Arzner will direct both versions, being aided in the French version by a co-director. Aside from the star, however, two completely separate casts to support Miss Colbert will be assembled.

R.-K.-O. TO FILM "SOUR GRAPES"

Vincent Lawrence's "Sour Grapes" has been purchased by R.-K.-O., we learned yesterday. Alice Brady formerly starred in the play in New York.

BETTY COMPSON

No star or director is yet assigned, although we hear it unofficially rumored that Betty Compson may be featured in the picture, and that Mel Brown probably will direct.

The play is a comedy, with some dramatic touches, and is said to be ideally fitted to the talking screen.

Warner Wouldn't Slap

H. B. Warner, we hear, has left the cast of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Southerner," starring Lawrence Tibbett, with Esther Ralston in the leading feminine role.

The reason concerns the beauteous Miss Ralston, on whose lovely face H. B. Warner was supposed to plant a rousing slap in one scene of the picture. Warner objected to the slapping act, and indeed refused, according to our informant, preferring to leave the picture rather than administer the punishment.

Norman Kerry Ill

Norman Kerry is ill at his Hollywood home, suffering from a severe cold, involving influenza and pneumonia symptoms. So ill has the actor been that he had to leave the Liberty picture, in which he was appearing.

UNIVERSAL CHOOSES NEW CRAFT STORY

Universal seems to have decided that William H. Craft should be saved up to direct only that organization's best stories.

LEW AYRES

Now Craft has been assigned to the direction of a yarn called "Many a Slip," said to be a high comedy of the caliber of "Little Accident."

No star is yet assigned, although there is a strong possibility that Lew Ayres will win that honor. Ayres, however, is also a possibility for Monta Bell's "Fires of Youth" and for "Mississippi."

"Big Trail's" Tongues

One of the largest production undertakings in Hollywood history will get under way when the Fox Film Corporation launches the filming of Raoul Walsh's "The Big Trail" simultaneously in four languages, French, German, Spanish and Italian.

Assignment of directors was made yesterday from the office of John Stone, editor of the foreign productions department. These directors will be, for the French version, Pierre Coudere; German, Lewis Seiler; Spanish, David Howard; Italian, Louis Loeffler. The next task of the department will be casting the different versions.

Norma Shearer's Next

Norma Shearer isn't going to retire professionally, or yet is she to be a lady of leisure much longer.

The star's next picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is to be "Gondola of Dreams," by Maurice De Koba. It is expected that Miss Shearer will return to work around the first of next year.

Raymond Hatton Signed

Raymond Hatton has just signed with Universal to appear in a series of short-reel comedies.

His current one, in which he shares honors with Bert Roach, is called "Pine-Apples," and is a travesty on underworld pictures. William Nigh is directing, and Evalyn Pearce is leading lady.

Hatton lately completed a featured comedy role in R.-K.-O.'s "Silver Horde."

Joseph Cawthorn Assigned

That skillful comedian, Joseph Cawthorn, under contract to R.-K.-O., has been loaned to United Artists and to Mary Pickford to appear in Miss Pickford's current starring vehicle, "Kiki."

This is the second time that Cawthorn has been associated with the star and the director, Sam Taylor, as he appeared in "The Taming of the Shrew."

AMOS AND ANDY FILM SCHEDULED

'Check and Double Check' Coming to Orpheum After 'Lady Surrenders'

Those heretofore mythical gentlemen of color, Amos and Andy, who are beloved by the thousands who compose their radio audience each day, will be seen soon at the Orpheum Theater in their first motion picture, "Check and Double Check."

It will open day and date in 250 R.-K.-O. theaters throughout the country. This simultaneous premiere is a radical innovation, it is said. The ruling making it possible will force out strong-running pictures in many instances, according to the theater management, locally affecting the engagement of "A Lady Surrenders," which opens Saturday, to a one-week run.

The adventures of Goshen and Correll as Amos and Andy in "Check and Double Check" are said to be in faithful consistency with the duo's adventures in the radio sequences. The Fresh Air Taxicab, the Kingfish, Lightnin' and the other characters created by the two become talking screen realities. That is, with the exception of Mme. Queen and Ruby Taylor. Melville Brown is the director.

Rogers Vehicle Promises Humor for Audiences

Romance and comedy that come from the intermingling of American and English families, the heads of which are equally antagonistic to the personalities of characteristics of each other's country, form the story background for "So This is London," starring Will Rogers, which starts a popular run tomorrow at Loew's State Theater.

Maureen O'Sullivan, Irene Rich and Frank Albertson support America's famous wit in the comedy, which John Blystone directed. Maureen O'Sullivan and Albertson, as the daughter and son of the Englishman and American, respectively, provide the romance to the picture.

On the stage Larry Ceballos presents his second revue since rejoining the Fanchon and Marco organization. "Enchantment" is the name of the new stage idea, and it features Jue Fong, the Mayakos, Sanami and company, Jack Lester and the Sunkist Beauties.

French Star Wins New Heroine

Frances Dee and Maurice Chevalier
In a scene from "Playboy from Paris," which marks the first featured appearance of Miss Dee. The picture will start tomorrow at the Paramount Theater.

Belasco Story Opens Friday

Ann Harding is the star of the "Girl of the Golden West," which starts a week's engagement at the Majestic Theater Friday. The film is a drama of the gold-rush days.

The story of this First National feature was taken from David Belasco's stage play and had a long run in New York. Ann Harding portrays the name role.

James Rennie is the bandit-hero and Harry Bannister is the Sheriff. Among others in the cast are J. Farrell MacDonald, George Cooper, Johnny Walker, Arthur Stone, Arthur Housman, Fred Warren and Ben Hendricks, Jr.

REPORTS FAVORABLE

According to reports filtering from the Fox studios, Leo McCarey has another box-office winner to add to his list in his latest effort, "Shepper Newfounder."

Former Heroine in Mother Role

Seven years ago Kathlyn Williams left the screen, a star and the heroine of countless "westerns" and dramas of the time. She has returned to filmdom and is seen to advantage in a mother role in the current picture at Warners' Downtown Theater, "Road to Paradise."

Miss Williams was the heroine of one of the first movie serials. On her return to the screen in "Road to Paradise," she says the thought of attempting to continue her movie romanticism never occurred to her.

VAUDEVILLE COMEDIENNE RETURNING

Blossom Seeley Slated to Perform at R.-K.-O. Theater Thursday

Blossom Seeley, one of vaudeville's popular headliners, is making her perennial return here and will begin a week's engagement tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater. The songstress-comedienne is accompanied by Benny Fields.

The screen attraction on the new program will be "Africa Speaks," vivid talking picture of exploration into the wilds of the French Congo.

The Seeley duo come direct from the New York Palace Theater where they began a tour of the R.-K.-O. circuit after a long run at the Palladium in London. New songs, dances and humor are promised.

Other acts in the incoming variety unit are Chain and Conroy, Jean Carr and Larimer and Hudson.

Former Picture Directors Play 'Spoilers' Roles

Five former motion-picture directors are actors in the cast of the first talking version of "The Spoilers," Rex Beach drama, to be screened at Pantages Hollywood Theater starting tomorrow. Chief among them, in point of work accomplished and years devoted to the business is Lloyd Ingraham. Close beside him is James Kirkwood, Oscar Apfel, "Slim" Summerville and George Irving.

In their work in support of the star, Gary Cooper, they are directed by another veteran of the cameras, Edwin Carewe. Others in the supporting cast are Betty Compson, Kay Johnson, Harry Green, William Boyd, Jack Holmes and Knute Erickson.

Accompanying the showing of "The Spoilers" during its first Hollywood run will be "Doll Follies," a new Fanchon and Marco idea, which includes a novelty, a European electrical marionette act.

Correspondence Course to Be Started by "Times"

Boys and Girls Living Out of This City May Enroll

Flight Theory and Building of Models Featured

The fourth session of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League has reached out to Honolulu, across the Pacific to the Philippines, doubling back to many sections of Southern California and Nevada with the announcement that this free aviation school for boys and girls will conduct a correspondence course in addition to the forty-two active classes every week in Los Angeles.

With the inauguration of the free tuition in theory of flight, nomenclature of airplanes and the building of scale models by The Times in co-operation with the Los Angeles Playground and Recreational Department, the problem of teaching for the thousands of boys and girls living outside of the Los Angeles area became acute. Therefore, Louis Orsatti, director of the school, devised a special illustrated correspondence set of lessons which will appear every other Sunday in The Times.

TESTS PLANNED

Examinations for qualification will be held in every city in California and other States where the number of students justifies an official examiner, who is appointed by the league.

For the boys and girls living in Los Angeles where they can attend one of the many playgrounds, an enrollment is provided which allows them to enter classes where they are taught all the qualifications for the novice, pilot and ace pins. Every member of the aircraft league receives a membership button, an engraved card of attendance and record, a scrapbook in which to keep all the lessons, and when he or she passes the required tests a bronze, silver or gold shield is given. The only charge made is for the materials necessary to construct the models.

ENROLLMENT BLANK

The first lesson appears next Sunday, the 19th inst., in the Junior Section of the Sunday Times.

Here is an enrollment blank, which must be signed by the parent or guardian of the boy or girl who wishes to enter the school:

Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League.
Headquarters, The Times Building, First and Broadway, Los Angeles.
Please enroll me as a League member.

My name is .....

Address .....
(House number, street, town.)
Signature of father, mother or guardian.

If you live out of the playground district of Los Angeles, you must secure the signature of some person in your city who will act as examiner for you in the three stages of aviation instruction. Have examiner sign name and address so that detailed instructions may be sent to his address. Examiner may be your school-teacher, Boy Scout master or neighbor.

Examiner .....

Name .....

Address .....

Parents who wish to visit any of the forty-two free aviation schools operated by The Times-Playground Aircraft League are requested to apply to the headquarters of the airplane school in the Times Building, Broadway at First street.

DETECTIVE, MINUS CLEWS, GOES RIGHT TO HIS MAN

Without finger-prints or any other clews whatever to guide him, Detective Lieutenant Al Young of the Santa Monica force yesterday solved what seemed at first a baffling robbery.

Some time during Monday night a burglar entered the McMaar store at 3003 Wilshire Boulevard, Santa Monica. He got in without forcing a lock or breaking a window. In the same uncanny way he opened the safe, took $172, and went away, locking both safe and store door behind him.

Young, who is known as the most dignified appearing man in his division, was assigned to the case. A la Van Dine, super crime solver, he did a little thinking.

An hour or two later he went to 1457 Centenela Boulevard and, touching T. E. Riding, 20, years of age, on the shoulder, said:

"You are my prisoner."

And Riding broke down and confessed all, it is said.

How was it done?

"I found that while Riding was working as a clerk at the store up to three weeks ago he had a duplicate set of keys made to the door of the store and the safe," said Young.

Riding was booked on a charge of suspicion of burglary.

MRS. KIRK CALLED 'SENILE'

Psychiatrist Parkin Gives Opinion of Widow at Hearing on Son's Guardianship Plea

Dr. Victor Parkin, psychiatrist, testified late yesterday that in his opinion Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk, wealthy widow, is suffering senile dementia. Dr. Parkin was called as a witness in Superior Judge Hazelett's court at the hearing on a petition for a guardianship for the elderly woman.

Her son, Norman T. Kirk, is the petitioner. Mrs. Kirk's disappearance from her son's home for two months in 1929 attracted wide public attention.

Preceding Dr. Parkin's testimony, Ella Bolderson, a nurse, testified that she attended Mrs. Kirk when the latter was taken to the Drs. Bondies' diet sanatorium, South Pasadena, after she fell and broke her hip on January 9, last. During the first few days at the hospital, the nurse asserted, Mrs. Kirk expressed fears that she would be kidnaped, although she did not know by whom. The witness said Mrs. Kirk disobeyed orders regarding treatment, and was jealous of attentions to other patients.

"She didn't say who was going to kidnap her," Miss Bolderson said on cross-examination. "At first, she talked of it for days. Then she dropped the subject. She was irritated by visits of her son and of her own lawyer, Judge Snyder."

Mrs. Kirk did not appear in court yesterday. Her attorneys, W. C. Snyder and John C. Stick, said they will try to prevent her from being called because of her weakened condition due to her injury.

Attorney Earl C. Wakeman, for the son, put in evidence a letter from Norman Kirk to his mother's attorney, protesting against her removal from the Bondies sanatorium to the home of Mrs. W. A. Andrews, where she is now.

Mrs. Kirk is 78 years of age, and is the widow of John E. Kirk, threshing-machine manufacturer. According to the son, Mrs. Kirk inherited $250,000 from her husband, and only $60,000 remains. In asking a guardianship, Kirk sets up that he wishes to protect his mother from persons who design to get her money. The case will continue today.

CHURCH UNIFICATION URGED

World Merger Movements Among Denominations Given Boost at Ministerial Session

Pleas for spiritual unity and suggestions for organic unity of Christians of all denominations were voiced by Bishop William B. Stevens of the Episcopal diocese, Dr. John Snape of Temple Baptist Church, and Dr. John Matthews, pastor of the First Radio Church, in addresses given yesterday before 200 members of the Retired Ministers' Association at the First Methodist Church.

Bishop Stevens spoke of the approval by the Lambeth Conference of the movement to unite the Anglican, Congregational, Presbyterian and Methodist churches of South India and voiced the hope that the next Lambeth Conference will be in the nature of an ecumenical or universal conclave, with Christian leaders of all churches and creeds attending as delegates.

Discussing his visit to Europe, Bishop Stevens made special reference to Ireland and of the determination of the people of that country to prove to the world the stability of the Irish Free State.

"While Ireland is deeply in debt, the people expect soon to liquidate a great part of their indebtedness, principally with proceeds to be derived from a gigantic power plant now being installed," said Bishop Stevens.

Discussing "Social Teachings of Jesus," Dr. Snape pleaded for the "dethronement of selfishness and the enthronement of the principles of liberty and fraternity in human hearts."

"The church of God has a task toward the industrial problems of today and its chief task lies in the exhibition of that love for employers and employed that led Christ to die for both," said Dr. Snape.

Defending the right of Christians to take part in political movements, Dr. Snape told his audience that "if politics is a 'dirty pool' it is because so many clean men contribute nothing toward the purification of the stream."

"When God spoke to Adam in the Garden of Eden, it is possible that He employed the principles of radio," said Dr. Matthews. "Humanity seems to have stumbled upon the language of Deity. Radio still is in its infancy, yet the present miracle of addressing world audiences by wireless gives promise of greater miracles to follow.

"Radio is destined to revolutionize educational methods and probably will excel any other factor in the movement to establish recognition of the brotherhood of man," said Dr. Mathews. "It is written, 'I will make the winds my messengers.' Jesus bade His disciples go into all the world and tell the story of love. Today, that Gospel can be preached to all the world by one man, standing before a microphone."

CAFE NEWS

Having already since their Western debut in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel on Thursday night gained a tremendous following here, Ted Weems and his orchestra are well launched on their engagement, which is of indefinite duration. During the current week as a special feature Mildred Harris, stage and screen favorite, is appearing nightly in the Blossom Room with her partner in a ballroom dancing presentation. Many of her fellow-thespians are attending to view the performance of the versatile artists. During the Weems engagement in the Blossom Room "celebrity night" will be featured on Mondays; "collegiate night" on Fridays, tea dansants on Saturday afternoons.

COMPLIMENTING CANTOR

As a tribute to Eddie Cantor George Olsen and his orchestra are featuring a brilliant array of Ziegfeld song numbers during Cantor's current engagement at Olsen's new club, Culver City, which is proving the sensation of the season. During Cantor's appearance at George Olsen's this program includes selections from the Ziegfeld Follies, "Kid Boots" and "Whoopee," all of which productions scored outstanding hits in New York. The new fall revue staged by the Mosconi Brothers, featuring Broadway principals and a new ensemble of alluring showgirls, produced as a fitting background for Cantor's engagement, is proving the most successful of the series at Olsen's club. Olsen announces a special dinner show nightly at 8 o'clock, and no cover charge until 10 o'clock. Dancing continues until 2:30 a.m.

GYPSY CAFE DIFFERENT

A cafe in downtown Los Angeles where one may dine and enjoy an atmosphere somewhat different than that ordinarily found, is Muller's, at Seventh and Hill streets. Waitresses, fortune tellers and entertainers are attired in gypsy costumes in keeping with this same style of decoration. Special luncheon includes fortune telling with cards or a palm reading. According to Lil Muller, manager, a feature particularly enjoyed by many is the after-theater midnight frolic at which a special midnight a la carte menu is available. There is entertainment with no cover charge.

NAVAJO CHEF RETURNS

Harry Worsley, chef for the past year and a half at the Navajo Cafe, Hollywood, has just returned from vacation in Portland and Seattle. According to Mrs. C. Glazier, manager, he is prepared to serve the many little delicacies with the regular evening dinner which are a feature at the Navajo.

HARVESTERS LUNCH

The Harvesters enjoyed their club luncheon at the Hollywood Plaza Pig'n Whistle on Tuesday. The long table seated twenty-eight members. A special children's menu that has been inaugurated is attracting the kiddies. It consists of attractive and wholesome dishes for children. There are songs and sketches, all at reasonable rates. Frank Averill, manager, is responsible for the atmosphere in making the cafe a meeting place both at luncheon and dinner for many Hollywood patrons.

Angeleno Gives Capital Church Set of Chimes

Dedication of the National City Christian Church in Washington, D. C., next Sunday by the Christian Churches of America, now holding a world convention, will be marked by the presentation of a complete set of chimes for the church, offered by Louis E. Grigsby of 701 South Hobart Boulevard. The chimes are equipped with an automatic electric player, and are presented as a memorial to Mr. Grigsby's wife, who died last week.

The new National City Christian Church was erected at a cost of more than $2,000,000. Chimes similar to those offered to the new church were also presented to the Wilshire Christian Church by Mr. Grigsby. It is under the name of the Wilshire Christian Church, of which Dr Harold H. Griffis is pastor, that the gift is to be presented.

Promoter Wins Delay of Grand Theft Sentence

Sentence of J. B. Fewkes, Los Angeles promoter convicted of grand theft of $6500 from Mrs. Thomas E. Merrill, Beverly Hills matron, was continued until the 23rd inst., yesterday by Superior Judge Fricke to permit the hearing of arguments for a new trial on that date.

In asking the new trial William J. Clark, Fewkes's attorney, charged misconduct by the District Attorney and also that the jury received evidence outside the courtroom.

Inspector of Prisons Lauds County Jail

Robert V. LaDow, Federal prison inspector of Washington, yesterday ended a three-weeks' inspection of Southern California jails.

Before leaving, Mr. LaDow stated that if all Southern California jails are conducted as efficiently and in the same manner as at the Los Angeles County Jail, his report will be favorable for all of them.

PIONEER'S RITES TOMORROW

Mrs. Louise Ganahl Will Be Carried to Last Resting Place by Grandsons

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise Ganahl, widow of F. J. Ganahl, pioneer lumberman of Southern California, who died Monday at her home, 133 North Alexandria street, after an illness lasting seven weeks, will be conducted tomorrow at 9 a.m. at St. Kevin's Church in Beverly Hills. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery with Mrs. Ganahl's grandsons serving as pallbearers.

Mrs. Ganahl was born in St. Louis, Mo., November 8, 1850. She was the daughter of Nicholas Le Brun, member of the noted Le Brun family of France, long famous for its great musicians and painters. Le Brun was a former director of the first St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. He was the composer and director of Abraham Lincoln's funeral march.

After receiving an education in France Mrs. Ganahl returned to St. Louis and in 1871 was married. Six years later she moved her residence to Los Angeles. Her home was at the old Ganahl estate in Highland Park, one of the earliest estates between Los Angeles and Pasadena. The Ganahls gave to the city what is now known as Sycamore Grove.

Mrs. Ganahl was widely acquainted among the pioneers of Southern California. She devoted most of her time to the interests of her family and close friends. She was the mother of eleven children, nine of whom are left. She also leaves nineteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Ganahl's children are Lucien A. Ganahl of Santa Barbara, Gaston Ganahl of Seattle, Wash.; Ernest F. Ganahl of Anaheim, Vincent P. Ganahl of Los Angeles; Miss Louise P. Ganahl, who lived with her mother; Mrs. James G. Donavan, Mrs. C. Urban Mandis, Mrs. Florence Sharp and Mrs. Joseph Hoover, all of Los Angeles.

Robinson chapel, 1001 West Washington street. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Ralls, who was 56 years of age, came to Los Angeles with his parents when he was a small boy. He had been a fire-alarm operator for the city for many years. His home was at 206 East Thirtieth street. He leaves his father, Greenbury M. Ralls; a son, William J. M. Ralls, and a daughter, Mrs. Jennie Monical.

OPERA "MIKADO" ON AIR TONIGHT

Series of Famous Musical Numbers KHJ Offering

Knute Rockne Interview 7:30 p.m. Feature

Breakfast Club Program at 8 This Morning

The Times Forum. KHJ. At 1:30 p.m. Patrick and Marsh orchestra; Judge J. Walter Hanby, auspices of Junior Chamber of Commerce. World-wide news, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Radio today among its highlights tosses both Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's football coach, and Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" into the some air arena.

KHJ at 7 tonight offers the first of a new series of operetta, musical comedy and comic opera—so the characters of "The Mikado" will be the first to shuffle and sing on the boards of the air tonight. Two complete casts for each performance, one to sing and one to talk—and list to Richard Creedon, publicist de luxe, "Let KHJ convince you that even 'The Mikado' does not lose one bit of its gay charm and undimmed vitality through compression." Raymond Paige, KHJ's music master, supervised the production. Scott Bradley will wield the baton.

For the fan with the pigskin penchant—Knute Rockne, coach of the famous Four Horsemen, will be interviewed before an N.B.C. microphone and will come to you over KECA at 7:30 tonight. For those with the leather lust—write down on the wallpaper that this is the first of a series of interviews with the leading coaches of the country. Mal Stevens of Yale, Maj. Sasse of the United States Military Academy, and Rig Lardner, whom you all know, are coming up.

They tell us that—

"All comfy, cosy Wednesday morning"—KFWB at 8, its Breakfast Club frolic; yield to the "Temptations of 1930"—forget your troubles—look on the bright side of life.

"Drop in and have a cup of tea"—Martha Logan at KHP at 10 a.m. Recipes for tea cakes, and gossip, too.

Didn't put it in the dial—but should be good. KFI at 6 tonight, a chain feature, Cavaliers, a male quartet, concert orchestra; Jessica Dragonette.

Variety, a professional magazine, specifies its "ten best sellers," songs, KMTR at 7:30 tonight puts them on the air.

Comments and resume of each day's play of the national women's golf championship games—KNX tonight at 6:30—Darsie L. Darsie sums 'em up.

Pop Warner at 7:15 tonight—Howard Jones at 7:45 p.m. KFWB.

Soft music—KFI at 7:30 tonight—the Schonberger Trio. Piano and violin duo at 3:30.

KHJ's nation-wide tribute to radio—California Melodies—8:30 tonight. George K. Arthur, English comedian, guest artist. Comedy chatter. Harry Barras and Bing Crosby, "two-thirds of Paul Whiteman's Rhythm Boys" in songs.

Initial presentation—S. and W. Forum—KECA—8 tonight. Soft tones of mellowed melodies. Eva Gruninger Atkinson, Harold Dana—violin choir—ensemble of string and woodwinds.

Toot! toot!—KHJ's Fast Freight—6 tonight—the hut where Gen. Washington kept vigil while British held Philadelphia—songs and organ.

Camel Pleasure Hours—KECA, 9:30 tonight—String Ensemble—Betty Kelly—Irving Kennedy—a new song—"Aloha."

"He's through the fence—he's uninjured"—Ascot auto races—KHJ at 9 tonight. Somebody's always sure to crash through the fence—plenty of good singing.

"What can I do, my radio owl is losing its feathers?" writes a subscriber, who has taken the paper for twenty years (from his neighbor's lawn.) It all depends on the age of the owl.

"The fuse is lit, let's go"—Lloyd S. Nix, KELW—7 tonight.

Concert orchestra—light classics—KNX at 8:30 tonight. Then Drury Lane as soloist with the Serenaders at 9 p.m.

"Miniature Biographies"—NBC feature—KECA at 9 tonight—sounds interesting.

SABBATH REST ROILS WIFE

Husband Who Stayed Abed All Day on Sunday Divorced

Objecting to her husband's literal acceptance of the Sabbath as a day of rest, Mrs. Mildred Crawford yesterday obtained a divorce in Superior Judge McComb's court on grounds of cruelty, after testifying that Crawford stayed out late Saturday nights and slept all day Sunday.

In addition, Mrs. Crawford testified that her husband borrowed $300 of her money and didn't pay it back. Besides the decree, Mrs. Crawford was awarded custody of her daughter Patricia, 8 years of age, and Crawford was ordered to pay $125 a month for the child's support.

Party Members Outside of Los Angeles Will Go to Glendale Session

More than 100 women active in Republican party affairs in the Southern California counties outside of Los Angeles will attend the sixth annual convention of the Southern California Republican Women's Federation in Glendale at 10 a.m. tomorrow, according to Mrs. Edith Van De Water, Long Beach, president.

A number of the officials of the Republican Women's Federation of California, including Mrs. O. P. Clark, president, and Mrs. Ida Koverman, secretary, will attend, Mrs. Van De Water said, and large delegations are expected from San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego.

Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, and Representative Evans of the Ninth District, will be the principal speakers at the dinner in the Glendale Masonic Temple.

Election of officers and consideration of a number of amendments to the by-laws will constitute the principal business.

Mayor Rolph and Senator Merriam, Republican candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, as well as the other nominees on the G.O.P. State, Congressional and legislative tickets, have been invited.

TWO ACCUSE EMPLOYER OF ASSAULT

Girls' Complaints Result in Man Being Held for Felony-Charge Trial

Sent by an employment agency to fill a position as mother's helper at 903 West Twenty-first street, Marguerite Cooper, 23 years of age of 507 South Westlake avenue, was attacked by James D. Anderson soon after he employed her there, she testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Russill's court.

Erma Gogleau, 16, of 321 South Olive street, also testified that she went to the Twenty-first-street address and that Anderson employed her at $20 weekly and then attempted to attack her. She fought until her screams attracted the landlady, she declared.

Judge Russill ordered Anderson held for Superior Court trial on felony charges of attack and attempted attack and fixed his bail at $10,000.

Philadelphia's Gambling 'Ace' on Visit Here

Dr. Thomas T. Gilchrist, professionally known as "English Tommy," who was one of the outstanding figures in the sensational police gambling expose in Philadelphia in 1928, was a visitor in Los Angeles to try and interest motion-picture producers in his memoirs. Whether he succeeded he did not say, but he did assert that all gamblers are suckers.

DR. THOMAS T. GILCHRIST

"Any layman is a sucker that engages in gambling with the professional and is a fool to think he can beat the game," said Dr. Gilchrist, who was in the business for more than thirty years. "True, there are some who win large stakes, but this only inoculates them with the gambling bug and eventually they lose it all, and more. The house never loses. My advice is to stay away from professional gambling."

Dr. Gilchrist, who says he holds a license to practice medicine in the State of Pennsylvania, served two jail sentences as a result of the police expose, during which he testified before the grand jury. He is a widely known figure in the East and says he was an associate of Arnold Rothstein many years ago.

PEDESTRIAN TUNNEL ASKED

Mrs. M. A. Berkowitz and others yesterday petitioned the City Council to construct a pedestrian tunnel under Olympic Boulevard at Orange Boulevard. It was referred to the City Engineer and to the Tunnels, Bridges and Viaducts Committee.

"Times" Artist Heads Society

Arthur P. Dodge, head of The Times art department, has been re-elected president of Print Makers' Society of California, whose exhibition in Los Angeles Museum each spring is an outstanding art event of the year. Harold L. Doolittle was made vice-president and Howell C. Brown, editor.

The annual meeting of the organization, which is an international group of etchers, took place in the Benjamin C. Brown studio, Pasadena, yesterday.

ELKS CHANTERS WILL SING AT CONVENTION

Chanters of the Los Angeles Elks Lodge, No. 99, will compete with chanters from other branches of the organization at the State Elks' convention at Monterey this week. The convention will open Thursday morning and close Saturday night. Several hundred members of the local lodge are expected to attend. Ted Stewart, Irish tenor of the Los Angeles police force, has been named special delegate from Lodge No. 99. The policeman, who is attached to Hollywood station, will give a special concert at the Del Monte Hotel at Monterey on Saturday night.

PROCEEDINGS ABANDONED

Proceedings were abandoned by the City Council yesterday for the improvement of streets in the Marengo avenue and State street district and new ones ordered instituted. The hearing of protests against the lighting of Venice Boulevard between Featherstone Drive and Hughes avenue was continued until January 12, 1931, while the hearing of protests against the improvement of Runnymede street from Winnetka avenue to Mason avenue was continued until December 29.
